Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

Periodically, certain of the executive officers and directors of Quest Diagnostics Incorporated (the “Company”) adopt written stock trading plans in accordance with Rule 10b5-1 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the Company’s Securities Transaction Policy. A Rule 10b5-1 trading plan is a written document that pre-establishes the amounts, prices and dates (or formulas for determining the amounts, prices and dates) of future purchases or sales of the Company’s common stock, including shares issued upon exercise of stock options or vesting of restricted stock units or performance shares. These plans are entered into at a time when the person is not in possession of material non-public information about the Company. All transactions under these plans are disclosed publicly through appropriate filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

On August 3, 2017, Stephen H. Rusckowski, the Company’s Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer, established a Rule 10b5-1 trading plan for the Company’s common stock. Under the plan, Mr. Rusckowski may exercise 168,600 vested stock options and sell the underlying common stock. The plan will terminate on the earlier of (among other things) March 7, 2018 and the date that all shares subject to the plan have been sold. This plan was adopted in the ordinary course as part of a regular program to help Mr. Rusckowski diversify his personal investment portfolio.

On August 3, 2017, Dr. Daniel C. Stanzione, the Company’s Lead Independent Director, also established a Rule 10b5-1 trading plan for the Company’s common stock. Under the plan, Dr. Stanzione may exercise 44,703 vested stock options and sell the underlying common stock. The plan will terminate on the earlier of (among other things) March 8, 2018 and the date that all shares subject to the plan have been sold. This plan was adopted in the ordinary course as part of a regular program to help Dr. Stanzione diversify his personal investment portfolio.
