NHC Estimates Cost of Sprinklers $10 million

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. -- National HealthCare Corporation (NYSE: NHC) - National HealthCare Corp., which said yesterday that it would retrofit all of its licensed health care centers without sprinklers with the devices, today announced the first cost estimate is approximately $10 million.

In addition, NHC will hire a fire safety engineer to fill a new corporate position with the responsibility of improving existing systems, policies and training.

"The exact cost of adding the sprinklers and the corporate fire safety position is not known at this time, but we estimate the cost will be approximately $10 million," NHC President Andy Adams said. Adams said he believes adding the sprinklers will take six to nine months and should start later this year.

"We will also be supporting legislation that would require sprinkler systems in all nursing homes and assisted-care facilities," Adams said at an afternoon news conference. "However, we will begin implementing our own program immediately. We will not wait for legislation."

Adams pointed out that NHC's immediate actions in response to the tragic Sept. 25 fire at its Nashville nursing home will exceed the present federal, state and local fire safety codes.

"I understand that these changes will not have any effect on those who lost their lives. But, in the past several days, I have visited with many of the families who have told me that this decision will serve as a fitting memorial to those whose lives were lost," Adams said.

"For the past 12 days, we have focused on providing care and comfort to the patients and families of our Nashville facility," Adams said. "While that will continue to be our focus, we are now turning significant attention to what we can and will do to prevent this kind of terrible tragedy from ever happening again."

NHC is a publicly held company that owns and operates 78 long-term health care centers with 9,584 beds across the nation. The company also operates 32 homecare programs, seven independent living centers and assisted-living centers at 21 locations. Other services include managed care specialty units, Alzheimer's units and a rehabilitation services company.
