LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

October 2008

Dennis H. Ferro

President and Chief Executive Officer

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to provide the Annual Report for Evergreen Utilities and High Income Fund for the twelve-month period ended August 31, 2008 (the period).

Capital markets came under extreme pressure during the period as investors confronted a variety of challenges that ranged from faltering credit markets and deteriorating housing values to rapidly rising energy costs and intensifying inflationary pressures. All these factors contributed to growing fears that the domestic economy might be moving toward a significant slump that potentially could undermine the growth of the global economy. Against this backdrop, the stock prices of U.S. companies of all sizes and virtually all sectors fell. The declines over the period came even after a reversal of direction in August 2008, the final month of the period, when falling energy prices and the stabilizing U.S. dollar helped most equity benchmarks generate gains. In this environment, utilities stocks constituted one of the few stock groups to yield positive results over the period. Outside the United States, stocks in both industrial and emerging market nations slumped, reflecting concerns about the potentially contagious effects of problems in the United States. In the domestic fixed income market, widespread credit problems dragged down the prices of virtually all types of securities carrying credit risk. Treasuries and other high-quality securities held up relatively well for the period. In contrast, high yield corporate bonds underperformed most other sectors, even after high yield benchmarks produced positive returns in the final month of the fiscal year. In world bond markets, sovereign government securities in industrialized nations outperformed other groups, while emerging market debt and high yield corporate bonds underperformed.

Despite many warning signals, the U.S. economy appeared to defy expectations for recession. While the nation's real Gross Domestic Product grew at an annual rate of just 0.9% in the first quarter of 2008, growth accelerated to a 3.3% pace in the second quarter. The combination of a weak currency, which supported exports, and the injection of tax-rebate checks sustained the expansion, cushioning the impacts of weakening employment, slowing profit growth and rising inflation. Moreover, problems in the credit markets persisted, with major financial institutions continuing to report significant credit losses. In the face of these threats, the federal government intervened. The Federal Reserve Board (the Fed) steadily relaxed monetary policy in an effort to inject new liquidity into the nation's financial system. The Fed slashed the key fed funds rate from 5.25% to 2.00% between August 2007 and April 2008. The central bank also initiated policy changes to make funds more available to financial institutions, including commercial and investment banks. In early September 2008, shortly after the fund's fiscal year end, the U.S. Treasury Department acted forcefully to take control over both Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, the two giant mortgage institutions that had been seriously weakened by the upheaval in the mortgage market. The Treasury's actions were seen as major initiatives to instill confidence in the economy by supporting the mortgage market.

During a volatile and challenging period in the stock and bond markets, the investment managers of Evergreen Utilities and High Income Fund maintained their emphasis on the pursuit of a high level of current income and moderate capital growth for investors. The managers kept this closed-end fund well-diversified with exposures to common stocks and convertible securities of utilities companies and to high yield corporate bonds.

At the same time, Evergreen Investments was able to resolve the challenge to the fund that emanated from the loss of liquidity in the credit markets. As we discussed in our letter to you six months ago, the liquidity crisis affected the general market for Auction Market Preferred Shares (AMPS), which the fund had used to create leverage in pursuit of its income objective. As a consequence, holders of these preferred shares temporarily were not able to sell them at auction. In addition to depriving these holders of liquidity, this situation also disadvantaged the fund by increasing its borrowing costs. Fortunately, Evergreen successfully obtained debt financing that was used to redeem the fund's outstanding AMPS in May and resolve the situation.

We believe the changing conditions in the investment environment over the period have underscored the value of a well-diversified, long-term investment strategy to help soften the effects of volatility in any one market or asset class. As always, we encourage investors to maintain diversified investment portfolios in pursuit of their long-term investment goals.
