PROXY STATEMENT

PROXIES AND VOTING

This Proxy Statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of Church & Dwight Co., Inc. (the Company) for use at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held on May 4, 2006 (the Annual Meeting) and at any adjournments thereof. This Proxy Statement and enclosed form of Proxy are first being mailed to stockholders on or about April 4, 2006.

Each holder of record of the Company's Common Stock at the close of business on March 10, 2006 is entitled to one vote per share. At the close of business on March 10, 2006, 64,484,768 shares of Company Common Stock were outstanding.

Any stockholder giving a proxy has the power to revoke that proxy at any time before it is voted. Any proxy that is not revoked will be voted at the meeting. If no contrary instruction is indicated on the proxy, the persons named in the proxy will vote the shares FOR the election of the nominees described in this proxy statement and FOR ratification of the appointment of Deloitte & Touche LLP as the Company's independent registered public accounting firm.

The presence, in person or by proxy, of the holders of record of such number of shares of Company Common Stock as are entitled to cast a majority of the votes at the meeting constitutes a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes are counted as present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum. A broker non-vote occurs when a bank, broker or other holder of record does not vote on a particular proposal because that holder does not have discretionary voting power with respect to the proposal and has not received voting instructions from the beneficial owner.

Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast. A plurality means that the nominees with the largest number of votes are elected as Directors up to the maximum number of Directors to be chosen at the meeting. Any other matters that may be acted upon at the Annual Meeting will be determined by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock represented in person or by proxy at the meeting. An abstention will have the same effect as a vote against and a broker non-vote is not counted for purposes of voting on these matters.

The Board of Directors is not aware of any matters that will be brought before the Annual Meeting other than those described in this Proxy Statement. However, if any other matters properly come before the Annual Meeting, the persons named on the enclosed proxy card will vote in their discretion on such matters.

Solicitation of proxies on behalf of the Board of Directors may be made through the mail, in person, and by telephone by Company employees who will not be additionally compensated. All costs of the solicitation will be paid by the Company. The Company has retained D.F. King & Co., Inc. to aid in the solicitation of proxies for a fee estimated not to exceed $6,500 plus out-of-pocket expenses. The Company will also reimburse brokerage houses and other nominees for forwarding proxy material to beneficial owners.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Company's Restated Certificate of Incorporation, as amended (the "Certificate of Incorporation") provides for the division of the Board of Directors into three classes with the Directors in each class serving for a term of three years. At the Annual Meeting, three Directors will be elected to serve until the 2009 annual meeting and until their successors are elected and qualified. All nominees are members of the present Board.

In connection with its consideration of Director nominees for election at the Annual Meeting, the Governance & Nominating Committee engaged in an extensive reevaluation of the size and composition of the Board of Directors. The Committee concluded that the Board was lacking members who had consumer products and international experience, and that the Company should engage in a process to identify qualified candidates having the requisite experience. The Committee also determined that the size of the Board, which included 14 members prior to the retirement of Robert H. Beeby at the end of 2005, and continues to have 13 members, may be detrimental to the Board's functionality. Accordingly, the Committee recommended, and the Board approved, a process that would reduce the size of the Board until one or more Directors having the requisite experience are selected.

John D. Leggett, III, John F. Maypole and Burton B. Staniar, all of whom are in the Director class having a term that expires at the Annual Meeting, are retiring and not standing for reelection. However, the Company's Certificate of Incorporation requires that the Company's classes of Directors be as nearly as equal in number (as determined by the Board of Directors) as the total number of Directors constituting the entire Board permits. Absent further action, the Director classes would not satisfy this requirement. Accordingly, T. Rosie Albright, who currently is serving in the class having a term expiring in 2007, and Lionel L. Nowell, III, who currently is serving in the class having a term expiring in 2008, have been nominated to fill two of the seats in the class to be elected at the Annual Meeting and will vacate their current seats following the election of Directors at the Annual Meeting. The Board will then reduce its size to ten Directors by reducing the size of each class by one Director. The Board anticipates that it will again increase its size after one or more suitable candidates are identified. Under Delaware law, any Director selected by the Board to fill a vacancy resulting from a newly created Directorship will hold office until the next election of the class for which the Director has been chosen or until the Director's successor has been elected and qualified.

As noted above, Messrs. Leggett, Maypole and Staniar are retiring and not standing for reelection. Mr. Leggett has provided long and dedicated service to the Board for 27 years. Mr. Staniar has not only served the Company as a Director since 1999, but was the Company's Director of Marketing in the 1970s. Mr. Maypole has also provided meaningful contributions to the Board of Directors in his six years of service. The Board is grateful for their efforts on behalf of the Company and its stockholders.

It is not anticipated that any of the nominees will become unavailable to serve as Directors for any reason, but if that should occur before the Annual Meeting, the persons named in the enclosed form of proxy will vote for any substitute nominee designated by the Board of Directors, unless the Board of Directors determines to reduce the number of Directors in the relevant class. Information concerning the nominees and the continuing members of the Board of Directors is set out below:

Board Independence

The Board has affirmatively determined that each of T. Rosie Albright, Rosina B. Dixon, J. Richard Leaman, Jr., Robert D. LeBlanc, John D. Leggett, III, John F. Maypole, Dwight C. Minton, Robert A. McCabe, Lionel L. Nowell, III, Burton B. Staniar and John O. Whitney are independent within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) listing standards.

The Board has further determined that each of the members of the Audit Committee, Compensation & Organization Committee and Governance & Nominating Committee are independent within the meaning of the NYSE listing standards, and that the members of the Audit Committee meet the additional independence requirements of the NYSE applicable to Audit Committee members.

To assist the Board in making determinations of independence, the Board has adopted categorical standards. Under these standards, none of the following relationships disqualify any Director or nominee from being considered independent :

A Director's or a Director's immediate family member's ownership of 5% or less of the equity of an organization that has a relationship with the Company;

A Director's service as an executive officer of or employment by, or a Director's immediate family member's service as an executive officer of, a company that makes payments to or receives payments from the Company for property or services in an amount which, in any fiscal year in any of the last three years is less than the greater of $1 million or 2% of such other company's consolidated gross revenues, or

A Director's service as an executive officer of a charitable organization that received annual contributions from the Company in any of the last three years that have not exceeded the greater of $1 million or 2% of the charitable organization's annual gross revenues.

All independent Directors satisfied these categorical standards.

Executive Sessions of Non-Management Directors

The Board meets at regularly scheduled executive sessions without members of the Company's management present. The Lead Director of the Board, currently Mr. Whitney, is responsible for chairing the executive sessions of the Board.

The current members of the Audit Committee are: J. Richard Leaman, Jr. (Chairperson), John F. Maypole and Lionel L. Nowell, III. The Audit Committee (i) has sole authority to engage, retain and dismiss the Company's independent registered public accounting firm; (ii) reviews and approves in advance the performance of all audit and lawfully permitted non-audit services, subject, in the case of non-audit services, to the pre-approval policy discussed below; (iii) reviews and discusses with management and the independent registered public accounting firm the annual audited financial statements and quarterly financial statements included in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission; (iv) discusses with management, the internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm the Company's risk management policies and major risk exposures; (v) oversees the internal audit function and (vi) oversees the Company's internal controls and reviews periodically policies and procedures regarding business conduct and ethics.

The Audit Committee has established a policy regarding the approval of audit and non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm. Specifically, the Committee pre-approves all audit and non-audit services to be provided by the independent registered public accounting firm. The Committee sets annual baskets for the amount of certain immaterial services within the categories of services described above which the Company would obtain from the independent registered public accounting firm and requires management to report on the specific engagements to the Committee on a periodic basis and to request any increased spending beyond the basket amounts.

The Audit Committee has established procedures for the receipt, retention and treatment of complaints regarding accounting, internal accounting controls and auditing matters and the receipt of confidential, anonymous submissions by Company employees with regard to concerns regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters. Such complaints and submissions may be made by writing to the following address: Church & Dwight Co., Inc., 469 North Harrison Street, Princeton, New Jersey 08543-5297, Attention: Secretary. The Committee considers and recommends candidates to the Board so that the Board collectively possesses a broad range of skills and experience that can be of assistance in the operation of the Company's business. Among other things, the Code of Conduct is designed to deter wrongdoing and to promote honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships; to promote full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosures in periodic reports required to be filed by the Company; and to promote compliance with applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations. The Code of Conduct provides for the prompt internal reporting of violations of the Code to an appropriate person identified in the Code and contains provisions regarding accountability for adherence to the Code. The Code of Conduct is available on the Investors page of the Company's website at www.churchdwright.com. The Company intends to satisfy the disclosure requirements regarding any amendment to, or waiver from, a provision of the Code of Conduct by making disclosures concerning such matters available on the Investors page of the Company's website.

Compensation of Directors

Directors Fees. With the exception of the Lead Director and the Chairman of the Board, Directors who were not employees of the Company earned an annual retainer of $35,000 in 2005. The Lead Director earned an annual retainer of $45,000 in 2005, and the Chairman of the Board earned $60,000, representing the pro rata portion of his annual retainer of $120,000 (for the six-month period in 2005 beginning on July 1, 2005, the date upon which he retired from employment with the Company). In addition, non-employee Directors earned $2,000 for each Board meeting attended, with the exception of the Chairman of the Board, who earned $3,500 for each Board Meeting attended. The Chairpersons of the Audit Committee, the Compensation & Organization Committee and the Governance & Nominating Committee each earned an additional $3,500 for each committee meeting attended, and all other non-employee Directors earned an additional $2,000 for each committee meeting attended. For 2006, all retainers and meeting fees will remain at the 2005 level. Fees are paid to Directors in accordance with the Compensation Plan for Directors, as described below, and may be deferred, in accordance with the Deferred Compensation Plan for Directors, as described below.

Deferred Compensation Plan for Directors. Compensation earned by each Director may be deferred, at the discretion of such Director, under the Deferred Compensation Plan for Directors until such time as the Director ceases to be a Director for any reason. Compensation deferred in this manner is recorded in a ledger account and is deemed to be invested in Company Common Stock for purposes of determining earnings and losses in such account, although actual shares of Company Common Stock are not held in such account and payouts from the account are made in cash. Some Directors have elected to defer compensation under the Deferred Compensation Plan, and as of December 31, 2005, the number of notional shares represented by amounts held in their Deferred Compensation Plan ledger accounts are set forth in the table captioned "Amount and Nature of Beneficial Ownership" on page 11.

Compensation Plan for Directors. Those Directors not electing to defer their compensation are paid pursuant to the provisions of the Compensation Plan for Directors (the "Plan"). The Plan provides for the payment of Directors' compensation quarterly, in the form of Company Common Stock. In determining the number of shares a Director is entitled to receive in a quarter, the Company adds the dollar amount of one-quarter of the Director's annual retainer to the Director's Board and Committee meeting fees earned for the quarter (collectively, the "Total Quarterly Fee"). The Total Quarterly Fee is divided by the closing price of a share of Common Stock as reported on the New York Stock Exchange on the last trading day of such calendar quarter; provided, however, that in the case of the fourth calendar quarter, the first trading day following the Board's regularly-scheduled meeting in December is used. For the purpose of this calculation, fractional shares are counted as whole shares. For example, assume that the fees for a Director are $35,000 for the annual retainer and $2,000 for each meeting attended, and such Director attended one meeting in the first calendar quarter. The quarterly compensation for such quarter would be $10,750. If the closing price of Common Stock on the last trading day in March is $36.00 per share, and the Director has elected to receive 100% in Company Common Stock, then the Director would receive 298.6 shares, rounded to 299 shares. Annually, a Director may elect, for the next-following compensation year, to receive his or her compensation 50% in cash and 50% in Company Common Stock instead of 100% in Company Common Stock.

Stock Option Plan for Directors. COMPENSATION & ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE REPORT

Role of the Compensation Committee

As set forth in the Charter of the Compensation & Organization Committee (the "Committee"), one of the Committee's purposes is to administer the Company's executive compensation program. In this regard, it is the Committee's responsibility to oversee the design of executive compensation programs, recommend to the Board of Directors the types and amounts of compensation for executive officers, and administer the Company's incentive compensation and stock option plans. All compensation for the Chief Executive Officer ultimately must be approved by a majority of the independent Directors of the Board, while the entire Board of Directors approves compensation for other executive officers. The Company's Human Resources department supports the Committee's work, and in some cases acts under delegated authority to administer the Company's compensation programs. In addition, the Committee directly engages outside consulting firms to assist in its review of compensation for executive officers.

Compensation Philosophy

The Committee believes that the Company must attract, motivate and retain qualified people with appropriate talents, skills and abilities in order to enable the Company to achieve its performance objectives. Accordingly, the Committee has established a compensation program designed to be competitive in the markets in which the Company competes for management talent.

In addition, it is the policy of the Committee that a substantial portion of an executive officer's compensation should be dependent on both short and long-term performance, as well as the enhancement of stockholder value. Achievement of short-term performance goals is encouraged through the use of annual incentives, while long-term performance and enhancement of stockholder value is encouraged through stock options. Using external surveys as a guide, the level of total compensation for executive officers (including the executive officers named in the compensation tables included in this proxy statement) is intended to be comparable to the median level of total compensation paid to executives with similar responsibilities in a peer group of 19 companies identified by the Committee that are of comparable size to the Company and have consumer products as a core business. The Committee believes that the breadth of the peer group enables the Committee to assess the competitiveness of the Company's executive compensation.

In 2005, the Committee worked with outside consulting firms that conducted extensive reviews of competitive executive compensation, including base pay, short-term incentives, long-term incentives, stock ownership guidelines, and change in control and severance policies. These reviews were conducted to assist the Committee in aligning the Company's compensation practices with the philosophy of providing competitive, performance-based compensation designed to enhance stockholder value. As a result of these reviews, the Company has positioned total executive compensation to be at the median level with the Company's peer group and to include programs that support the Company's compensation philosophy.

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits to $1 million the deductibility for federal income tax purposes of annual compensation paid by a publicly held company to its chief executive officer and its four other highest paid executives, unless certain conditions are met. It is the Committee's intention that, to the extent feasible, executive compensation be deductible for federal income tax purposes. In this regard, the Company's stock option plans are designed to preserve, to the extent otherwise available, the deductibility of income realized upon the exercise of stock options.

The specific components of executive compensation, and considerations relating to the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer, are set forth below.

Base Salary and Annual Incentive Compensation

Executive officer base salary is determined by comparing an executive officer's base salary to that of his or her counterparts in the Company's peer group as shown in periodic external salary surveys reviewed by the Committee. The Company targets base salaries to be a slightly lower percentage of total cash compensation (base salary plus annual incentive target), than the average of the Company's peer group, reflecting the Committee's desire to have a greater portion of cash compensation be performance based. The Committee may also adopt salary levels based upon the executive officer's performance over time.

Annual incentive compensation for executive officers is awarded under the Company's Incentive Compensation Plan. The target value of annual incentive compensation is designed to provide compensation equal to 45% to 100% of an executive officer's salary, depending on the executive's responsibilities. Annual incentive compensation is based on both Company and individual performance, and the percentage of each component is 80% and 20%, respectively. For 2005, Company performance measures were net sales, operating margin, and net debt, with targets established consistent with the Company's long-term plans. For purposes of establishing Company performance targets in 2005, the Committee weighted these three metrics 40% net sales, 40% operating margin, and 20% net debt. The Committee may recommend that no bonuses be paid if a minimum level of earnings per share growth is not achieved. Annual incentive compensation may range from a minimum of 0% of the target award to a maximum of 200% of the target award, depending upon the Company's performance relative to the sales, margin, and net debt goals established and individual performance. The Committee may also consider unusual or non-recurring factors in reaching its final assessment of Company performance.

Due to the strong performance of the Company and its executive officers generally during 2005, incentive compensation paid to executive officers for 2005 ranged from 107% to 150% of target annual incentive value.

Long-Term Incentive and Deferred Compensation

The long-term incentive component of compensation for executive officers is currently in the form of stock options granted under the Company's Stock Award Plan. The Company encourages participants in the plans to hold the shares of Company Common Stock so that participant interest will continue to be aligned with the long-term interests of the stockholders of the Company. In 2005, the Committee reevaluated the use of options as a long-term incentive, based upon reported trends towards utilization of equity-based awards other than stock options, due in part to changes in accounting principles that result in the expensing of stock option grants. Nevertheless, for the reasons articulated above the Committee determined to continue the use of stock options as the primary long-term incentive vehicle. Grant levels for 2006 have been revised upward for executive officers to align long-term compensation levels with the Company's peer group.

Stock options granted to executive officers give optionees the right to purchase shares of Company Common Stock over a ten-year period at an exercise price equal to the fair market value per share on the date of grant. The options vest as to all underlying shares on the third anniversary of the date of grant. The number of options granted to an executive officer is based on a percentage of the executive officer's salary ranging from 160% to 400%, depending on the executive officer's responsibility, divided by the market price per share on the date of the grant. The Committee seeks to position long-term incentive awards for executive officers to be approximately equivalent to the median level of the Company's peer group for comparable officers. Stock options may also be granted to executive officers upon commencement of employment.

On June 20, 2005, executive officers were granted options having an exercise price of $35.29 per share, the fair market value of the Company's Common Stock on the date of the grant.

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, places maximum limitations on the amount of annual contributions that may be made to tax-qualified retirement plans. Accordingly, in 1988 the Company adopted a Deferred Compensation Plan for Officers under which contributions are made for the benefit of certain executive officers in amounts that would have been contributed under the Company's tax-qualified retirement plans but for these limitations. Effective December 1, 1995, the Company amended the Deferred Compensation Plan to permit the deferral of other compensation, in whole or in part, at the discretion of each executive officer.

Stock Ownership Guidelines and Restricted Shares

To further link the interests of management and stockholders, in 2004 the Committee and the Board approved stock ownership guidelines for the Company's executive officers. The guidelines specify the number of shares of the Company's Common Stock that executive officers must accumulate and hold within five years of the effective date of the program or the date of appointment as an officer. The specific share ownership requirements are based on a multiple of two and one half or five times base salary, with the higher multiple applicable to the Chief Executive Officer.

To encourage share ownership, officers who elect to receive up to 50% of their annual incentive compensation in shares of the Company's Common Stock or stock equivalents, or otherwise increase their share ownership during a specific period of time, will be awarded restricted shares of the Company's Common Stock, pursuant to the Company's Stock Award Plan with a fair market value of 20% of the amount of stock or stock equivalents that an executive elects to receive or otherwise acquires. Restricted shares vest on the third anniversary of the date of grant.

Personal Benefits

The Company seeks to maintain an egalitarian culture in its facilities and operations. The Company does not have separate parking or dining facilities, and the Company does not have programs for providing personal benefit perquisites to executive officers. Health care and other insurance programs are the same for all eligible employees, with the exception of one grandfathered life insurance plan, for which new enrollment was frozen in 1998. There are no outstanding loans to executive officers, which are prohibited by law.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation

On April 1, 2005 Mr. Craigie's base salary was increased from $650,000 to $700,000. This increase was based on the peer group information described earlier. Consistent with the Company's compensation philosophy,

Mr. Craigie's base salary remains below the median level with respect to the Company's peer group. His annual incentive target was set at 100% of base salary, reflecting the Committee's desire to place significant emphasis on performance-based compensation.

Based upon the 2005 performance of the Company and Mr. Craigie, the Committee provided annual incentive compensation to Mr. Craigie equal to 138% of his base salary earned during 2005. The award reflected the performance of Mr. Craigie and the Company against objectives established for 2005, his contribution to the Company's strong performance, and the strength of his leadership during his tenure with the Company.

On June 20, 2005, Mr. Craigie was granted 79,300 stock options at a price of $35.29, the fair market value of the Company's Common Stock on the date of the grant. The size of the option grant was based on the option grant formula described above.

For the grant described above and future stock option grants, Mr. Craigie is afforded the right to retain options for their full life (ten years) provided that his tenure with the Company exceeds five years and that upon reaching his fifth anniversary with the Company he has met the Company's stock ownership guidelines.

In connection with his annual incentive bonus, Mr. Craigie received 1,478 restricted shares on April 7, 2005. These restricted shares represented 20% of the value of Mr. Craigie's 2004 bonus that he placed in share equivalents in the deferred compensation plan and were granted in accordance with the program described above. These restricted shares vest in three years from the date of the initial grant.
