RE: Hercules Merger - Conversion of TODCO Restricted Stock Awards

Merger Consideration

As contemplated by the Hercules merger, which is expected to close on July 11, 2007, any restrictions on outstanding shares of TODCO restricted stock will lapse simultaneously with the closing of the merger. At closing, subject to proration as described below, restricted shares will be converted on a per share basis into the right to receive the sum of (A) $16.00 plus (B) the product of (i) 0.979 multiplied by (ii) the average closing price of Hercules common stock for the ten consecutive trading days ending on the fifth calendar day immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, or if the fifth calendar day is not a trading day, then ending on the immediately preceding trading day (the Merger Consideration). You will have the opportunity to make an election on the form of the Merger Consideration you will receive in exchange for your shares of TODCO restricted stock, being either (i) Hercules common stock or (ii) cash. Holders of TODCO restricted stock who desire to receive a combination of Hercules common stock and cash may do so by making a stock election with respect to a portion of their TODCO restricted shares and a cash election with respect to their remaining TODCO restricted shares.

By separate mailing, you should have received an election form from Computershare Shareholder Services, Inc. (the Exchange Agent) in order to make your election with respect to the type of Merger Consideration you would like to receive under the merger. The election deadline requires that you complete, sign and return the election form to the Exchange Agent, before 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time, on July 5, 2007.

The terms of the merger agreement provide for a proration mechanism which establishes that a fixed total number of shares of Hercules common stock and a fixed cash amount will be paid in the merger based on the total number of shares of TODCO common stock outstanding immediately prior to the merger. Accordingly, depending on the elections of other holders of TODCO common stock and whether there is an oversubscription of stock or cash electors, you will not be guaranteed you will receive the form of consideration you elect. For a detailed description of this proration mechanism, see pages 94-95 of the joint proxy statement/prospectus.

If for any reason the merger is not consummated, the restrictions on your shares of TODCO restricted stock will not lapse, but will vest in accordance with the terms of your restricted stock agreement.

If you have any questions regarding these matters, please contact Michael P. Donaldson at (713) 278-6003, Dale W. Wilhelm at (713) 278-6014, or Iliana C. Galan at (713) 278-6172.

Deutsche Bank Accounts

As part of the merger integration process, TODCO and Hercules have retained the services of Deutsche Bank to assist in the issuance of any Hercules common stock to you in exchange for your shares of TODCO restricted stock. As part of that process, Deutsche Bank will, in the coming week, open a limited purpose account in your name. Attached to this memorandum is a power point overview of these Deutsche Bank accounts. Under separate letter you will receive a form to select your method of tax withholding (either you will pay cash to TODCO to cover your taxes or TODCO will fund the taxes by withholding shares equal in value to your taxes). You will be required to elect which method of tax withholding you desire by completing and sending your tax withholding form to TODCO by June 29, 2007. On or about July 9, 2007, once the merger consideration election and tax withholding elections have been tallied, you will be able to access your Deutsche Bank account (a username and password will be mailed to you) and see how many shares of Hercules common stock you will receive in exchange for your shares of TODCO restricted stock under the terms of the merger agreement. However, you will not be able to sell these shares until after the closing of the merger with Hercules, which is expected to occur on July 11, 2007. If you have any questions about your Deutsche Bank account, you can contact Scott Ashmore with Deutsche Bank at (832) 239-3312.
