Item 1. Financial Statements

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and in accordance with the instructions for Form 10-Q. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements.

In the opinion of management, the financial statements contain all material adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments necessary to present fairly the financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows of the Company for the interim periods presented.

The results for the period ended June 30, 2013 are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for the full year. These financial statements and related footnotes should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and footnotes thereto included in the Company's Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the period ended December 31, 2012.

NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(UNAUDITED)

NOTE 1 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation – On February 13, 2012, Acquired Sales Corp (“Acquired Sales” or the “Company”) purchased 100% of the equity interests of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. (“DSTG”). The results of DSTG’s operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since February 13, 2012.

On January 12, 2013, Acquired Sales entered into an agreement with Drumright Group, LLC (“Drumright”) that was closed on February 11, 2013, wherein Acquired Sales sold 100% of the capital stock of Cogility Software Corporation (“Cogility”) to Drumright. The historical results of Cogility’s results of operations have been reclassified to discontinued operations.

Condensed Financial Statements – The accompanying financial statements are condensed and do not include all disclosures normally required by generally accepted accounting principles. These statements should be read in conjunction with the annual financial statements included in Form 10-K filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on April 1, 2013. In particular, the nature of operations and significant accounting principles were presented in Note 1 to the annual financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation have been included in the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and consist of only normal recurring adjustments, except as disclosed herein. The results of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year ending December 31, 2013.

Principles of Consolidation – The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts and operations of Acquired Sales for all periods presented, the accounts and discontinued operations of Cogility Software Corporation to February 11, 2013 and accounts and operations of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. from February 14, 2012. The entities for these respective periods are referred to herein as “the Company.” Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Common Share – The computation of basic earnings (loss) per share amounts are determined by dividing loss from continuing operations, income (loss) from discontinued operations and net income (loss) by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share amounts are calculated by dividing these same items by the weighted-average number of common shares and dilutive common share equivalents outstanding during the period. When dilutive, the incremental potential common shares issuable upon exercise of stock options and warrants are determined by the treasury stock method. The following table summarizes the calculations of basic and diluted earnings (loss) per share for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012:

Discontinued operations	0.39	(0.12)	1.74	(0.11)
Net Income (Loss)	$0.35	$(0.23)	$1.62	$(0.43)

There were 2,173,774 stock options and 938,000 warrants outstanding during the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings (loss) per share because their effects would have been anti-dilutive. There were 2,336,981 stock options and 710,000 warrants outstanding during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings (loss) because their effects would have been anti-dilutive.

Revenue Recognition – The Company enters into contractual arrangements with end-users of its products to sell software licenses, hardware, consulting services and maintenance services, either separately or in various combinations thereof. For each arrangement, revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the fees to be paid by the customer are fixed or determinable, collection of the fees is probable, and delivery of the product or services has occurred. When the Company is the primary obligor or bears the risk of loss, revenue and costs are recorded on a gross basis. When the Company receives a fixed transactional fee, revenue is recorded under the net method based on the net amount retained.

In contractual arrangements where services are essential to the functionality of the software or hardware, or payment of the license fees are dependent upon the performance of the related services, revenue for the software license, hardware and consulting fees are recognized on the completed-contract method when the contract is substantially completed and all related deliverables have been provided to and accepted by the customer. This method is used because the Company is unable to accurately estimate total cost of individual contracts until the contracts are substantially complete. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Claims for additional compensation are recognized during the period such claims are resolved and collected.

Costs of software, hardware and costs incurred in performing the contract services are deferred until the related revenue is recognized. Contract costs include all purchased software and hardware, subcontract and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, equipment, and travel costs as well as depreciation on equipment used in performance of the contractual arrangements. Depreciation on administrative assets and selling, general and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred.

Costs in excess of amounts billed are classified as current assets under the caption Costs in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts. Billings in excess of costs are classified as current liabilities under the caption Billings in excess of costs on uncompleted contracts. Contract retentions are included in accounts receivables.

Consulting Services: Consulting services are comprised of consulting, implementation, software installation, data conversion, building interfaces to allow the software to operate in integrated environments, training and applications. Consulting services are sold on a fixed-fee and a time-and-materials basis, with payment normally due upon achievement of specific milestones. Consulting services revenue is recognized under the completed-contract method as described above.

NOTE 2 - RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

The Company has a history of recurring losses, which has resulted in an accumulated deficit of $6,711,709 as of June 30, 2013. During the six months ended June 30, 2013, the Company recognized a loss of $354,812 from continuing operations and income of $5,143,166 from discontinued operations for a total income of $4,788,354. The Company used $195,555 of cash in its operating activities from continuing operations. The sale of Cogility eliminated the Company's primary source of revenue. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Company will not need additional financing or that the Company will be profitable in the future in order to continue as a going concern.

The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts or amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

NOTE 3 – ACQUISITION

Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. – Acquired Sales purchased 100% of the equity interests of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. (“DSTG”) on February 13, 2012. The results of DSTG's operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since that date. DSTG is currently fulfilling one contract for a commercial customer.

DSTG was acquired in exchange for 100,000 shares of common stock, stock options to purchase 300,000 common shares at $3.18 per share through February 13, 2017, and stock options to purchase 100,000 common shares at $8.00 per share through May 13, 2017. The fair value of the consideration issued to acquire DSTG was $679,302. The common shares issued were valued at $3.18 per share based on management's estimate of their fair value, or $318,000 in total. The fair value of the stock options granted was $361,302 determined by the Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions: expected future volatility of 56%; risk-free interest rate of 0.29%; dividend yield of 0% and an expected term of 2.5 years. The expected volatility was based on a peer company's volatility and the volatility of indexes of the stock prices of companies in the same industry. The risk-free interest rate was based on the U.S. Federal treasury rate for instruments due over the expected term of the options. The expected term of the options was determined based on one-half of the contractual term.

The purchase of DSTG was a business combination recognized by the acquisition method of accounting. Goodwill was not recognized on the transaction; however, Acquired Sales recognized $32,649 of compensation to the owner of DSTG separately from the recognition of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed in the business combination. The compensation expense and $40,461 of acquisition-related costs were included in selling, general and administrative expense during the six months ended June 30, 2012. The fair value of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed were measured based on significant inputs that are not observable in the market and are considered Level 3 fair value inputs. The fair value of the assets acquired, liabilities assumed and compensation recognized was as follow:

Cash	$23,611
Accounts receivable, net	161,900
Deposits	4,900
Property and equipment	2,567
Intangible assets	601,525
Total assets acquired	794,503

Total liabilities assumed	(147,850)
Fair value of net assets acquired	646,653
Compensaton expense recognized	32,649
Fair Value of Consideration Issued	$679,302

All of the $601,525 of acquired intangible assets relate to non-contractual customer relationships with U.S. government procurement departments. The customer relationships had an estimated useful life of approximately 2 years. The Company recognized amortization expense for the customer relationships of $150,380 and $112,786 for the six months ended June 2013 and 2012 respectively.

The amounts of DSTG's revenue and loss from continuing operations included in Acquired Sales Corp.'s condensed consolidated statement of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and the revenue and loss from continuing operations of the combined entity had the acquisition of DSTG been January 1, 2012 are as follows:

	Revenue	Loss from Continuing Operations
Actual for the three months ended June 30, 2012	$241,900	$(136,766)
Actual for the six months ended June 30, 2012	250,400	(235,826)
Supplemental pro forma for the three months ended June 30, 2012	241,900	(315,004)
Supplemental pro forma for the six months ended June 30, 2012	$641,822	$(81,438)

NOTE 4 – COSTS AND BILLINGS ON UNCOMPLETED CONTRACTS

At June 30, 2013 the Company was in the process of providing a software license, hardware and services to one customer. Revenue and costs on the uncompleted contract were deferred at June 30, 2013 and will be recognized upon completion of the contract. Contract costs in excess of billings and contract billings in excess of contract costs on uncompleted contracts at June 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012 were as follows:

NOTE 5 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

At December 31, 2012 the Company had recorded accrued compensation that includes $570,979 in deferred payroll and vacation pay, and payroll taxes payable, $110,777 in employee reimbursements payable, and commissions payable to one current and one former employee in the aggregate amount of $198,967. Under the terms of the sale of Cogility, all but $107,724 of the accrued compensation was paid during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

On September 13, 2011, a key executive resigned his position and entered into a severance agreement with the Company. On September 16, 2010, the Company had signed a letter agreeing to pay the former executive officer $47,000 in one-time commissions, with payment deferred until 30 days after the closing of a private placement of common stock or debt convertible into common stock in the total amount of at least $2,000,000. Under the severance agreement the former executive officer is to receive a one-time bonus of $35,000 and deferred compensation of $18,432 payable upon the completion of a private placement of common stock or debt convertible into common stock in the total amount of at least $2,000,000. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

Notes Payable to Related Parties – At December 31, 2012, the Company had notes payable to a significant shareholder, affiliated with an officer of the Company for $525,000. The notes were unsecured, non-interest bearing and due upon demand. The Company had entered into an agreement with the significant shareholder that, at such time as the Company was financially able to do so and at the reasonable discretion of the chief executive officer of the Company, the notes payable held by the significant shareholder would be extinguished in full by the payment of $262,500 in cash and the issuance of 86,000 shares common stock. Based on the fair value of the Company's common stock on the date of the agreement of $3.18 per share, the significant shareholder received a contingent beneficial conversion feature in connection with the agreement. The Company recognized a loss of $10,980 that is included in loss from extinguishment of debt for the six months ended June 30, 2013. The liability was settled with the payment of $262,500 and the issuance of 86,000 shares of common stock during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

At December 31, 2012, the Company had $375,000 of notes payable to related parties that were secured by all the assets of the Company, bore interest at 3% per annum and were due December 31, 2014. The notes were issued with warrants to purchase common stock that resulted in the notes payable being carried at a discount to their face value. At February 11, 2013, the carrying amount of the notes payable was $344,601, net of $30,399 of unamortized discount. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013. The Company recognized a loss of $30,399 on early extinguishment of debt relating to unamortized discount.

On January 30, 2012 an officer advanced the Company $75,000 for short-term working capital needs. The loan was without interest, unsecured and due upon demand. On April 1, 2012, the terms of the loan were renegotiated such that the loan bore interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and was due upon demand. In addition the officer was awarded 37,500 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $2.00 per share. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their respective issuance dates. The fair value of the 37,500 warrants issued was estimated to be $58,174 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 52.61%; risk-free interest rate of 0.33%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The renegotiation was treated as an extinguishment of debt. The Company recognized a loss on the extinguishment of debt of $58,174. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

In connection with the acquisition of DSTG on February 13, 2012, the Company assumed an $86,000 distribution payable to the former DSTG shareholder. The liability was without interest, due upon demand and unsecured. On July 25, 2012, the terms of the loan were renegotiated such that the loan bore interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and was due upon demand. In addition the officer was awarded 43,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.25 per share. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their respective issuance dates. The fair value of the 43,000 warrants issued was estimated to be $41,646 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 47.80%; risk-free interest rate of 0.25%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The renegotiation was treated as an extinguishment of debt. The Company recognized a loss on the extinguishment of debt of $41,646. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

On February 14, 2012, the Company borrowed $200,000 from a director of the Company. Attached with the note payable were 100,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $2.00 per share. On March 13, 2012, the Company borrowed another $25,000 from a director of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 12,500 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $2.00 per share. On March 29, 2012, the Company borrowed $100,000 from an entity related to an officer of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 50,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $2.00 per share. All of the related notes payable bear interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and are due upon demand. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their respective issuance dates. The notes were paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

In association with the aggregate notes payable of $325,000, the fair value of the 162,500 warrants issued was estimated to be $252,102 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 52.62%; risk-free interest rate of 0.33%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The warrants qualify to be recognized as stockholders' equity; therefore, the consideration received was allocated to the notes payable and the warrants based on their relative fair values and resulted in $183,027 being allocated to the notes payable and $141,973 allocated to the warrants. Because the notes are due on demand, the $141,973 discount to the notes payable was immediately recognized as interest expense.

On March 31, 2012 a significant shareholder advanced the Company $60,000 for short-term working capital needs. The loan was without interest, unsecured and due upon demand. The note payable was paid in full on April 13, 2012.

On June 4, 2012 the Company borrowed an additional $100,000 from an officer of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 50,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $2.00 per share. The related note payable bore interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and was due upon demand. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their issuance dates. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

In association with the notes payable of $100,000, the fair value of the 50,000 warrants issued was estimated to be $75,010 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 50.62%; risk-free interest rate of 0.25%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The warrants qualify to be recognized as stockholders' equity; therefore, the consideration received was allocated to the notes payable and the warrants based on their relative fair values and resulted in $57,134 being allocated to the notes payable and $42,866 allocated to the warrants. Because the notes are due on demand, the $42,866 discount to the notes payable was immediately recognized as interest expense.

On July 16 and 25, 2012 the Company borrowed $50,000 and $50,000, respectively, from an officer of the Company. Attached to the notes payable were a total of 50,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.25 per share. On July 9, 2012, the Company borrowed another $30,000 from a director of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 15,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.25 per share. On July 13, 2012, the Company borrowed $100,000 from an entity related to an officer of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 50,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.25 per share. All of the related notes payable bore interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and were due upon demand. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their respective issuance dates. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

In association with the aggregate notes payable of $230,000, the fair value of the 115,000 warrants issued was estimated to be $110,417 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 47.58%; risk-free interest rate of 0.25%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The warrants qualify to be recognized as stockholders' equity; therefore, the consideration received was allocated to the notes payable and the warrants based on their relative fair values and resulted in $155,397 being allocated to the notes payable and $74,603 allocated to the warrants. Because the notes are due on demand, the $74,603 discount to the notes payable was immediately recognized as interest expense.

On December 13, 2012 the Company borrowed $20,000, from an entity related to an officer of the Company. Attached to the notes payable were a total of 10,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.50 per share. On December 13, 2012, the Company borrowed another $20,000 from a director of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 10,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.50 per share. On December 14, 2012, the Company borrowed $100,000 from an officer of the Company. Attached with this note payable were 50,000 warrants to purchase common stock at a price of $3.50 per share. All of the related notes payable bore interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and were due upon demand. All of the warrants expire 5 years from their respective issuance dates. The notes payable were paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

In association with the aggregate notes payable of $140,000, the fair value of the 70,000 warrants issued was estimated to be $74,122 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: estimated future volatility of 56.49%; risk-free interest rate of 0.26%; dividend yield of 0% and an estimated term of 2.5 years. The warrants qualify to be recognized as stockholders' equity; therefore, the consideration received was allocated to the notes payable and the warrants based on

NOTE 6– NOTES PAYABLE

Notes Payable – At December 31, 2012, notes payable to a lending company totaled $130,070, were unsecured, non-interest bearing and due on demand. The Company did not impute interest on the loans; as such imputed interest would not have been material to the accompanying financial statements. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013.

At December 31, 2012, The Company had $520,000 of notes payable to third parties that were secured by all the assets of the Company, bore interest at 3% per annum and were due December 31, 2014. The notes were issued with warrants to purchase common stock that resulted in the notes payable being carried at a discount to their face value. At December 31, 2013, the carrying amount of the notes was $480,480, net of $39,520 of unamortized discount. The liability was paid in full during the six months ended June 30, 2013. The Company recognized a loss of $39,520 on early extinguishment of debt relating to the unamortized discount.

The details of the terms of the notes payable and their carrying amounts were as follows at June 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012:

NOTE 7 – SHAREHOLDERS’ EQUITY (DEFICIT)

During the six months ended June 30, 2012, the chief executive officer and shareholder of the Company provided services to the Company, which services were determined by the board of directors to have had a fair value of $125,000. The Company has recognized a capital contribution of $125,000 during the six months ended June 30, 2012 for the services provided by the executive officer.

On March 31, 2012, the Company granted stock options to directors for the purchase of 290,000 shares of common stock at $2.00 per share. The options vested on the date granted. The grant-date fair value of these options was $449,905, or a weighted-average fair value of $1.55 per share, determined by the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted-average assumptions: expected future volatility of 53%; risk-free interest rate of 0.33%; dividend yield of 0% and an expected term of 2.5 years. The expected volatility was based on a peer company’s volatility and the volatility of indexes of the stock prices of companies in the same industry. The risk-free interest rate was based on the U.S. Federal treasury rate for instruments due over the expected term of the options. The expected term of the options was determined based on one half of the contractual term.

Following is a summary of stock option activity as of June 30, 2013 and changes during the six months then ended:

	Shares	Weighted - Average Exercise Price	Weighted- Average Remaining Contractual Term (Years)	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Outstanding, December 31, 2012	2,336,981	$2.29
Forfeited	(163,207)	1.76
Outstanding, June 30, 2013	2,173,774	$2.32	6.47	$3,519,106
Exercisable, June 30, 2013	2,173,774	$2.32	6.47	$3,519,106

The Company had 938,000 warrants outstanding at June 30, 2013 at a weighted average exercise price of $2.29 per share, a weighted-average remaining contractual term of 3.36 years and an aggregate intrinsic value of $1,339,000.

Share-based compensation expense charged against operations during the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 was $0 and $449,905, respectively, and was included in selling, general and administrative expenses. There was no income tax benefit recognized. As of June 30, 2013, all compensation expense related to stock options had been recognized.

NOTE 8 – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Company entered into an agreement with a consultant on February 18, 2011 whereby the Company agreed to pay the consultant a fee based on net revenue received by Cogility from two potential new software products. The fee would be equal to 5% of the net revenue received, after deducting software licensing and equipment costs from third parties, from two potential contracts and, for a period of five years, any subsequent revenue from reselling the work product that may result from providing software and services under either of the two potential contracts. No fees were paid or accrued under this agreement during the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 or June 30, 2012.

One of Cogility's employees claims that he has filed a wage claim against Cogility for $302,000 with the California Labor Board. It is the Company's understanding that the California Labor Board declined to consider this claim, and advised the Cogility employee that he should more appropriately pursue his wage claim in the courts. If the Cogility employee pursues his wage claim in the courts, the Company intends to vigorously defend against such claim. The range of potential loss from this claim is up to $302,000 and the Company believes it has adequately provided for this potential claim in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

The Company is subject to other legal proceedings, claims, and litigation arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company defends itself vigorously against any such claims. Although the outcome of these other matters is currently not determinable, management does not expect that the ultimate costs to resolve these matters will have a material adverse effect on its consolidated financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

NOTE 9– SALE OF SUBSIDIARY

On January 12, 2013, Acquired Sales entered into an agreement with Drumright Group, LLC (“Drumright”) that was closed on February 11, 2013, wherein Acquired Sales sold 100% of the capital stock of its subsidiary, Cogility Software Corporation (“Cogility”) to Drumright in exchange for $3,975,000 in cash and a $3,000,000 receivable. The $3,000,000 was originally receivable as follows: $1,500,000 on August 11, 2013, less an estimated $32,258 in connection with a certain military contract delay, and $1,500,000 on February 11, 2014. In addition, Acquired Sales was required to hold $300,000 in an escrow account for potential subsequent claims. Acquired Sales was responsible for all costs and expenses and retained all accounts receivable relating to work performed by Cogility on revenue contracts through January 31, 2013, with those costs, expenses and revenue transitioning to Drumright thereafter. Acquired Sales retained a contract to create “legal analytics” software.

Under the terms of the agreement, Acquired Sales was required to transfer Cogility to Drumright without any liabilities. To accomplish this requirement, the $3,975,000 down payment was placed into an escrow account and to the extent necessary was used to pay Cogility’s liabilities, including liabilities that were secured by Cogility’s assets or its capital stock.

The Company agreed to indemnify Drumright for losses caused by breach of the Company’s representations and warranties. In March 2013, Drumright notified the Company of the existence of a second amendment to a license agreement between Cogility and one of its customers that was effective April 2007. At March 31, 2013 the Company estimated that the range of potential loss from this claim was up to $3,200,000 and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility.

In addition, at March 31, 2013 the Company believed the collection of the accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013 was also at risk and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility by the amount of those receivables.

On July 16, 2013 the parties entered into a Compromise and Release agreement whereby the parties agreed to reduce the purchase price by $2,000,000 by reducing the $3,000,000 receivable to $1,000,000 due on February 11, 2014. In addition the parties agreed that Acquired Sales Corp was entitled to all accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013. As a result of the Compromise and Release agreement, at June 30, 2013 the Company recognized an increase in the gain on disposal of discontinued operations in the amount of $994,678 for a total gain on sale of Cogility of $4,726,068.

The historical results of Cogility's operations have been reclassified to discontinued operations. Operating results of Cogility included in discontinued operations for the three and six months ended March 31, 2013 and 2012 were as follows:

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

As used in this 10Q, references to the “Company,” “Acquires Sales,” “we,” “our” or “us” refer to Acquired Sales Corp., unless the context otherwise indicates.

On February 13, 2012, Acquired Sales Corp (“Acquired Sales” or the “Company”) purchased 100% of the equity interests of Defense & Security Technology Group, Inc. (“DSTG”). The results of DSTG’s operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since February 13, 2012.

On January 12, 2013, Acquired Sales entered into an agreement with Drumright Group, LLC (“Drumright”) that was closed on February 11, 2013, wherein Acquired Sales sold 100% of the capital stock of its subsidiary, Cogility Software Corporation (“Cogility”) to Drumright in exchange for $3,975,000 in cash and a $3,000,000 receivable. In addition, Acquired Sales was required to hold $300,000 in an escrow account for potential subsequent claims. Acquired Sales was responsible for all costs and expenses and retained all accounts receivable relating to work performed by Cogility on revenue contracts through January 31, 2013, with those costs, expenses and revenue transitioning to Drumright thereafter. Acquired Sales retained a contract to create “legal analytics” software.

Under the terms of the agreement, Acquired Sales was required to transfer Cogility to Drumright without any liabilities. To accomplish this requirement, the $3,975,000 down payment was placed into an escrow account and to the extent necessary was used to pay Cogility’s liabilities, including liabilities that were secured by Cogility’s assets or its capital stock.

The Company agreed to indemnify Drumright for losses caused by breach of the Company’s representations and warranties. In March 2013, Drumright notified the Company of the existence of a second amendment to a license agreement between Cogility and one of its customers that was effective April 2007. At March 31, 2013 the Company estimated that the range of potential loss from this claim was up to $3,200,000 and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility. In addition, at March 31, 2013 the Company believed the collection of the accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013 was also at risk and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility by the amount of those receivables.

In addition the parties agreed that Acquired Sales Corp was entitled to all accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013. As a result of the Compromise and Release agreement, at June 30, 2013 the Company recognized an increase in the gain on disposal of discontinued operations in the amount of $994,678 for a total gain on sale of Cogility of $4,726,068.

The Company has a history of recurring losses, which has resulted in an accumulated deficit of $6,711,709 as of June 30, 2013. During the six months ended June 30, 2013, the Company recognized a loss of $354,812 from continuing operations and income of $5,143,166 from discontinued operations for a total income of $4,788,354. The Company used $195,555 of cash in its operating activities from continuing operations. The sale of Cogility eliminated the Company’s primary source of revenue. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Company will not need additional financing or that the Company will be profitable in the future in order to continue as a going concern.

Overview

Acquired Sales Corp. is incorporated under the laws of the State of Nevada. On January 12, 2013, Acquired Sales entered into an agreement with Drumright Group, LLC ("Drumright") that was closed on February 11, 2013, wherein Acquired Sales sold 100% of the capital stock of its subsidiary, Cogility Software Corporation ("Cogility") to Drumright in exchange for $3,975,000 in cash and a $3,000,000 receivable. Under the terms of the agreement, Acquired Sales was required to transfer Cogility to Drumright without any liabilities. To accomplish this requirement, the $3,975,000 down payment was placed into an escrow account and to the extent necessary was used to pay Cogility's liabilities remaining at the closing date including liabilities that were secured by Cogility's assets or its capital stock. Acquired Sales was entitled to all accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013. The historical results of Cogility's operations have been reclassified to discontinued operations.

The Company agreed to indemnify Drumright for losses caused by breaches of the Company's representations and warranties. In March 2013, Drumright notified the Company of the existence of a second amendment to a license agreement between Cogility and one of its customers that was effective April 2007. At March 31, 2013 the Company estimated that the range of potential loss from this claim was up to $3,200,000 and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility. In addition, at March 31, 2013 the Company believed the collection of the accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013 was also at risk and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility by the amount of those receivables.

On July 16, 2013 the parties entered into a Compromise and Release agreement whereby the parties agreed to reduce the purchase price by $2,000,000 by reducing the $3,000,000 receivable to $1,000,000 due on February 11, 2014. In addition the parties agreed that Acquired Sales Corp was entitled to all accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013. As a result of the Compromise and Release agreement, at June 30, 2013 the Company recognized an increase in the gain on disposal of discontinued operations in the amount of $994,678 for a total gain on sale of Cogility of $4,726,068.

Acquired Sales through its wholly owned subsidiary DSTG continues to collaborate with clients to help its leaders make distinctive decisions leading to substantial improvements in enterprise performance. Founded in 2007, DSTG is currently fulfilling one contract for a commercial customer.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The following table summarizes the Company's cash and cash equivalents, working capital and long-term debt as of June 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, as well as cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012.

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012
Cash and cash equivalents	$217,263	$186,914
Working capital	1,553,639	(2,852,954)
Long-term debt	-	825,081
	For the Six Months Ended June 30, 2013
	2013	2012
Cash provided by (used in) operating activities from continuing operations	$(195,555)	$167,885
Cash used in operating activities from discontinued operations	(1,192,385)	(640,519)
Cash provided by investing activities from continuing operations	3,670,135	23,566
Cash used in investing activities from discontinuing operations	-	(2,591)
Cash provided by (used in) financing activities	(2,251,846)	500,025

At June 30, 2013 the Company had cash of $217,263 and $167,431 due from Cogility and $1,000,000 due from the sale of Cogility. The Company had costs in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts of $48,038. The Company has one contract in progress at June 30, 2013, which the Company has had to incur cost overruns to complete. Total current assets at June 30, 2013 were $1,755,651 an amount adequate to fund current operations and fulfill corporate obligations, but not enough to fund growth and potential acquisitions. Current liabilities at June 30, 2013 included $94,288 of accounts payable and $107,724 of accrued employee costs.

During the six months ended June 30, 2013 the Company used nearly all of the cash proceeds from the sale of Cogility in the amount of $3,975,000 to pay off its corporate debt and obligations to fund a $300,000 reserve against a potential liability as well as to fund contracts in progress leaving the Company with $217,263 in cash at June 30, 2013.

Comparison of June 30, 2013 and June 30, 2012

The Company recognized income from operations of $4,788,354, mainly due to a one-time gain on the sale of its subsidiary Cogility Software Corporation. The Company incurred a loss from continuing operations of $354,812 mainly due to expenses in excess of income earned. The Company closed one contract during the six months ended June 30, 2013 for a net profit of $35,866. The Company through its wholly owned subsidiary DSTG has one contract in progress at June 30, 2013 whose costs in excess of revenues are deferred until such time the contract is completed. Income from discontinued operations of $5,143,166 includes gain on sale of Cogility of $4,726,068. The Company has greatly reduced its overhead costs with the sale of Cogility. Our current labor force consists of one full time and one part time employee. All other labor is hired on a contract basis. This has substantially reduced the Company's fixed costs on a go forward basis.

The Company incurred a net loss of $883,664 from continuing operations and incurred a net loss from discontinued operations of $289,414 for the six months ended June 30, 2012 mainly due to the lack of revenues generated for the period as well as the recognition of stock option and stock warrant expense. Under the completed contract method of accounting revenues for contract in progress are deferred net of costs, until such time the contract is completed. The nature of the Company's operations made it difficult to scale back costs in periods of reduced revenue. The Company's labor force was our largest cost, the employees were specifically trained and extremely difficult to replace.

The Company used cash from continuing operations of $195,555 and $1,192,385 from discontinued operations for the six months ended June 30, 2013 primarily due to the repayment of nearly all accounts payable and accrued expenses in accordance with the Cogility purchase agreement. The Company was provided cash from continuing operations of $167,885 and used cash of $640,519 from discontinued operations for the six months ended June 30, 2012. Cash provided from continuing operations was the result of increases in noncash expenditures relating to share based compensation and amortization of discount. Cash used in discontinued operations was the result of increases in billings in excess of costs on uncompleted contracts as well as reductions in accounts payable and an increase in accounts receivable.

The Company had net cash provided by investing activities from continuing operations of $3,670,135 for the six months ended June 30, 2013 primarily due to cash received from the sale of Cogility. This is compared to $23,566 of cash provided by investing activities from continuing operations and $2,591 used in discontinued operations for the six months ended June 30, 2012.

The Company used $2,251,846 of cash in its financing activities to pay down all the corporate debt in accordance with the Cogility purchase agreement during the six months ended June 30, 2013. This compared to $500,025 of cash provided by financing activities during the six months ended June 30, 2012.

During the six months ended June 30, 2013, cash increased by $30,349 leaving the Company with $217,263 in unrestricted cash at June 30, 2013. This is compared to a $48,366 increase in cash during the six months ended June 30, 2012.

Table of Contents

The Company has one contract in process at June 30, 2013, with anticipated total billings of approximately $1,000,000 of which $750,000 has been billed. There can be no assurance whatsoever that the Company will continue to generate significant income in the future. There can be no assurance whatsoever that the Company's wholly owned subsidiary, DSTG, will be successful or will result in revenues to Acquired Sales Corp. on any particular timetable or in any particular amounts. The Company has a history of losses as evidenced by the accumulated deficit at June 30, 2013 of $6,711,709.

Results of Operations

The Company through its wholly owned subsidiary enters into contractual arrangements with end-users of its products to sell software licenses, hardware, consulting services and maintenance services, either separately or in various combinations thereof. For each arrangement, revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the fees to be paid by the customer are fixed or determinable, collection of the fees is probable, and delivery of the product or services has occurred. See additional revenue recognition disclosure under "Critical Accounting Policies."

Cost of revenue consists primarily of the cost of hardware and software and the cost of services provided to customers. Cost of services includes direct costs of labor, employee benefits and related travel.

Selling, general and administrative expenses primarily consist of professional fees, salaries and related costs for accounting, administration, finance, human resources, information systems and legal personnel.

Comparison of the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 to June 30, 2012

Although the preceding table summarizes the net changes with respect to our revenues and our cost of revenue for the three and six ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the trends contained therein are limited and should not be viewed as a definitive indication of our future results.

Selling, General and Administrative Expense – Selling, general and administrative expense, including non-cash compensation expense from continuing operations, was $156,918 and 306,496 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, compared to $216,923 and $768,474 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, representing a decrease of $149,578 and $551,551 respectively. The decrease in our selling, general and administrative expense related to a decrease in stock based compensation expense as well as a decrease in operations due to the sale of Cogility.

Net Income (Loss) – The Company recognized income from operations of $1,046,379 and $4,788,354, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, mainly due to the gain on the sale of its subsidiary Cogility Software Corporation. The Company incurred a loss from continuing operations of operations of $121,052 and $270,630, for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, mainly due to a decrease in operations due to the sale if Cogility. The Company through its wholly owned subsidiary DSTG has one contract in progress at June 30, 2013 whose costs in excess of revenues are deferred until such time the contracts are completed. DSTG closed one contract during the six months ended June 30, 2013 for a net profit of $35,866.

Income from discontinued operations of $1,167,431 and $5,143,166 for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 includes the gain on sale of Cogility of $994,678 and $4,726,068. The Company has greatly reduced its overhead costs with the sale of Cogility. Our current labor force consists of one full time and one part time employee. All other labor is hired on a contract basis. This has substantially reduced the Company's fixed costs on a go forward basis.

Critical Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. Significant estimates include share-based compensation forfeiture rates and the potential outcome of future tax consequences of events that have been recognized for financial reporting purposes. Actual results and outcomes may differ from management's estimates and assumptions.

Table of Contents

Accounts Receivable – Accounts receivable are stated at the amount billed to customers, net an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company evaluates the collectability of the amount receivable from each customer and provides an allowance for those amounts estimated to be uncertain of collection. Accounts determined to be uncollectible are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts.

Property and Equipment – Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation. Maintenance, repairs, and minor replacements are charged to expense as incurred. When depreciable assets are retired, sold, traded in or otherwise disposed, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and the resulting gain or loss is reflected in operations. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which are three to five years.

Revenue Recognition – The Company enters into contractual arrangements with end-users of its products to sell software licenses, hardware, consulting services and maintenance services, either separately or in various combinations thereof. For each arrangement, revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, the fees to be paid by the customer are fixed or determinable, collection of the fees is probable, and delivery of the product or services has occurred. When the Company is the primary obligor or bears the risk of loss, revenue and costs are recorded on a gross basis. When the Company receives a fixed transactional fee, revenue is recorded under the net method based on the net amount retained.

In contractual arrangements where services are essential to the functionality of the software or hardware, or payment of the license fees are dependent upon the performance of the related services, revenue for the software license, hardware and consulting fees are recognized on the completed-contract method when the contract is substantially completed and all related deliverables have been provided to and accepted by the customer. This method is used because the Company is unable to accurately estimate total cost of individual contracts until the contracts are substantially complete. Provisions for estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses are determined. Claims for additional compensation are recognized during the period such claims are resolved and collected.

Costs of software, hardware and costs incurred in performing the contract services are deferred until the related revenue is recognized. Contract costs include all purchased software and hardware, subcontract and labor costs and those indirect costs related to contract performance, such as indirect labor, supplies, equipment, and travel costs as well as depreciation on equipment used in performance of the contractual arrangements. Depreciation on administrative assets and selling, general and administrative costs are charged to expense as incurred.

Costs in excess of amounts billed are classified as current assets under the caption Costs in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts. Billings in excess of costs are classified as current liabilities under the caption Billings in excess of costs on uncompleted contracts. Contract retentions are included in accounts receivables.

Consulting Services: Consulting services are comprised of consulting, implementation, software installation, data conversion, building interfaces to allow the software to operate in integrated environments, training and applications. Consulting services are sold on a fixed-fee and a time-and-materials basis, with payment normally due upon achievement of specific milestones. Consulting services revenue is recognized under the completed-contract method as described above.

Table of Contents

Concentration of Significant Customers –At June 30, 2013 the Company had one contract in process with a single customer.

Income Taxes – Provisions for income taxes are based on taxes payable or refundable for the current year and deferred income taxes. Deferred income taxes are provided on differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements and on tax carry forwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are included in the financial statements at currently enacted income tax rates applicable to the period in which the deferred tax assets and liabilities are expected to be realized or settled. As changes in tax laws or rates are enacted, deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted through the provision for income taxes. A valuation allowance is provided against deferred income tax assets when it is not more likely than not that the deferred income tax assets will be realized.

Basic and Diluted Loss Per Share - The computation of basic earnings (loss) per share amounts are determined by dividing loss from continuing operations, income (loss) from discontinued operations and net income (loss) by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share amounts are calculated by dividing these same items by the weighted-average number of common shares and dilutive common share equivalents outstanding during the period. When dilutive, the incremental potential common shares issuable upon exercise of stock options and warrants are determined by the treasury stock method. There were 2,173,774 stock options and 938,000 warrants outstanding during the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings (loss) per share because their effects would have been anti-dilutive. There were 2,336,981 stock options and 710,000 warrants outstanding during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 that were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings (loss) because their effects would have been anti-dilutive.

Share-Based Compensation Plan – Stock-based compensation to employees and consultants is recognized as a cost of the services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments and is measured based on the grant date fair value of the award or the fair value of the consideration received, whichever is more reliably measurable. Compensation expense is recognized over the period during which service is required to be provided in exchange for the award (the vesting period).

Contractual Cash Obligations and Commercial Commitments

The Company leased one facility in Providence, Rhode Island under an operating lease. The lease expired on February 15, 2013.

The Company entered into an agreement with a consultant on February 18, 2011 whereby the Company agreed to pay the consultant a fee based on net revenue received by Cogility from two potential new software products. The fee would be equal to 5% of the net revenue received, after deducting software licensing and equipment costs from third parties, from two potential contracts and, for a period of five years, any subsequent revenue from reselling the work product that may result from providing software and services under either of the two potential contracts. No fees were paid or accrued under this agreement during the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 or June 30, 2012.

Table of Contents

The Company has a $525,000 outstanding non interest bearing note payable to an entity related to an officer of the Company, which is unsecured and due upon demand. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

During the year ended December 31, 2012 the Company borrowed at total of $885,275 from various related parties to fund operations. The Notes bear interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, are unsecured and are due upon demand. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

At December 31, 2012, the Company had $375,000 of notes payable to related parties that are secured by all the assets of the Company, bear interest at 3% per annum and are due December 31, 2014. The notes were issued with warrants to purchase common stock that resulted in the notes payable being carried at a discount to their face value. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

In connection with the acquisition of DSTG on February 13, 2012, the Company assumed an $86,000 distribution payable to the former DSTG shareholder. The liability is without interest, due upon demand and unsecured. On July 25, 2012, the terms of the loan were renegotiated such that the loan bears interest at 6% per annum, payable quarterly, and is due upon demand. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

At February 11, 2013 an officer of the Company advanced the Company $32,500 for short-term working capital needs. The loan is without interest, unsecured and due upon demand. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

At December 31, 2012, the Company had $520,000 of notes payable to third parties that are secured by all the assets of the Company, bear interest at 3% per annum and are due December 31, 2014. The notes were issued with warrants to purchase common stock that resulted in the notes payable being carried at a discount to their face value. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

At December 31, 2012, notes payable to a lending company totaled $130,070, are unsecured, non-interest bearing and due on demand. The Company has not imputed interest on the loans; as such imputed interest would not have been material to the accompanying financial statements. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

On June 13, 2011, a key executive resigned his position and entered into a severance agreement with the Company. On September 16, 2010, we signed a letter agreeing to pay the former executive officer $47,000 in one-time commissions, with payment deferred until 30 days after the closing of a private placement of common stock or debt convertible into common stock in the total amount of at least $2,000,000. Under the severance agreement the former executive officer will receive a one-time bonus of $35,000 and deferred compensation of $18,432 payable upon the completion of a private placement of common stock or debt convertible into common stock in the total amount of at least $2,000,000. The former executive officer was also to be paid additional deferred compensation of $9,662 by September 30, 2011, but this amount was paid on November 3, 2011. In addition, the severance agreement modified the terms of stock options held by the former executive officer for the purchase 66,667 common shares such that the stock options will not expire until June 14, 2012. Stock options for the purchase of 133,334 common shares were forfeited. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

Table of Contents

On June 24, 2011 an employee resigned and entered into a severance agreement with the Company. Under the severance agreement, payment of $8,224 of vacation pay was deferred and to be paid the earlier of the completion of a $2,000,000 private placement offering or September 23, 2011. In addition, the severance agreement modified the terms of stock options held by the former employee for the purchase of 133,000 common shares such that the stock options will not expire until June 24, 2012. Stock options for the purchase of 67,000 common shares were forfeited. Under the terms of the Cogility purchase agreement the liability was paid in full with the proceeds of the escrow account.

One of Cogility's employees claims that he has filed a wage claim against Cogility for $302,000 with the California Labor Board. It is the Company's understanding that the California Labor Board declined to consider this claim, and advised the Cogility employee that he should more appropriately pursue his wage claim in the courts. If the Cogility employee pursues his wage claim in the courts, the Company intends to vigorously defend against such claim. The range of potential loss from this claim is up to $302,000 and the Company believes it has adequately provided for this potential claim in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

The Company agreed to indemnify Drumright for losses caused by breach of the Company's representations and warranties. In March 2013, Drumright notified the Company of the existence of a second amendment to a license agreement between Cogility and one of its customers that was effective April 2007. At March 31, 2013 the Company estimated that the range of potential loss from this claim was up to $3,200,000 and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility. In addition, at March 31, 2013 the Company believed the collection of the accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013 was also at risk and reduced the amount of gain the Company recognized from the sale of Cogility by the amount of those receivables.

On July 16, 2013 the parties entered into a Compromise and Release agreement whereby the parties agreed to reduce the purchase price by $2,000,000 by reducing the $3,000,000 receivable to $1,000,000 due on February 11, 2014. In addition the parties agreed that Acquired Sales Corp was entitled to all accounts receivable earned prior to January 31, 2013. As a result of the Compromise and Release agreement, at June 30, 2013 the Company recognized an increase in the gain on disposal of discontinued operations in the amount of $994,678 for a total gain on sale of Cogility of $4,726,068.

The Company is subject to other legal proceedings, claims, and litigation arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company defends itself vigorously against any such claims. Although the outcome of these other matters is currently not determinable, management does not expect that the ultimate costs to resolve these matters will have a material adverse effect on its consolidated financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Exchange Act as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. In designing and evaluating the disclosure controls and procedures, our management recognized that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives. In addition, the design of disclosure controls and procedures must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints and that management is required to apply its judgment in evaluating the benefits of possible controls and procedures relative to their costs. The design of any disclosure controls and procedures also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions.

Based on that evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that, as of June 30, 2013, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information we are required to disclose in reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules, regulations and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Our management, with the participation of the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, has concluded there were no significant changes in our internal controls over financial reporting that occurred during our last fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
