UPDATE ON COMBINATION WITH NYSE EURONEXT: Additional acceptance period of Alpha Beta exchange offer from 19 July to 1 August 2011

Deutsche Börse AG (Deutsche Börse) has issued the following update with respect to the offer by Alpha Beta Netherlands Holding N.V. (Alpha Beta) to exchange one share of Alpha Beta for each share of Deutsche Börse (the Offer):

§ NYSE Euronext shareholders have approved the planned combination during an extraordinary shareholders' meeting on 7 July 2011. Based on the preliminary results 65.68 percent of the outstanding common shares approved the planned combination.

§ Deutsche Börse shareholders have approved the planned combination with NYSE Euronext. In the initial acceptance period, which ended on 13 July 2011, 160.734.462 shares in Deutsche Börse have been tendered. This translates into a final acceptance ratio of 82.43 percent and clearly exceeds the minimum acceptance ratio of 75%.

§ As a result of this acceptance level achieved in the initial acceptance period, the Deutsche Börse shares (ISIN DE0005810055) will be replaced in the DAX[®] and EURO STOXX 50[®] with the tendered share class of Deutsche Börse (ISIN DE000A1KRND6) on 20 July 2011.

§ In the FTSE and MSCI indices the Deutsche Börse shares (ISIN DE0005810055) will be replaced with the tendered share class of Deutsche Börse (ISIN DE000A1KRND6) effective 2 August 2011.

§ As provided for in the German Securities Acquisition and Takeover Act (WpÜG), there will be another two-week period (Additional Acceptance Period) from 19 July to 1 August 2011 during which Deutsche Börse shareholders may still tender their shares. The conditions of the Offer remain unchanged during this Additional Acceptance Period.

§ Each ordinary tendered Deutsche Börse share is marked as a Tendered Share and is immediately tradable under a new ISIN (DE000A1KRND6) on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange via Xetra until exchanged into Alpha Beta shares upon completion of the combination.

§ Shareholders who intend not to tender their Deutsche Börse shares during the Additional Acceptance Period should consider the following:

- Deutsche Börse shares that are not tendered (ISIN DE0005810055) will be removed from the DAX and EURO STOXX 50 on 20 July 2011 and thus it is expected that the trading liquidity will decline.

- Those Deutsche Börse shareholders who have tendered their ordinary shares, and therefore upon consummation of the transaction receive Alpha Beta shares in exchange for their Deutsche Börse ordinary shares, will be entitled to receive the previously announced 2.00 special dividend that NYSE Euronext and Deutsche Börse have recommended to be paid by Alpha Beta following the completion of the combination.

Edgar Filing: NYSE Euronext - Form 425

- After the completion of the combination Alpha Beta intends to enter into a domination and/or profit and loss transfer agreement with Deutsche Börse. Through such agreement the rights of Deutsche Börse shareholders, like for instance future participation in the profits of Deutsche Börse, will be limited.

- The compensation as part of the domination and/or profit and loss transfer agreement will be made in Alpha Beta shares and, as far as legally possible, will be structured in a way that it will not exceed the consideration of the offer of one Alpha Beta share. However, based on the respective methods of calculation, the compensation could fall below the Offer consideration of one Alpha Beta share.

§ In order to exchange Deutsche Börse shares into Alpha Beta shares, instructions to tender must be provided to the respective depository bank by 1 August 2011 at the latest. Depository banks should be contacted well ahead of the expiration of the Additional Acceptance Period on 1 August 2011 to ensure that Deutsche Börse shares can be exchanged in time.

§ Additional information about the Offer can be found at www.global-exchange-operator.com; and
