Dear Fellow Shareholder:

We are pleased to report that Putnam Municipal Opportunities Trust was generally able to hold its ground during the challenging economic and market environment that prevailed throughout the fiscal year ended April 30, 2002. On the following pages, the report from your fund's management team will provide a full discussion of what has been driving the fund's performance as well as a view of prospects for fiscal 2003.

As economic fundamentals continue to improve, tax revenues should rise and bring an improved outlook for municipal bonds. However, this improvement is likely to be gradual, so we counsel patience as you view your fund's progress in the months ahead.

You may notice as you read this report that we are now listing the team that manages your fund. We do this to reflect more accurately how your fund is managed as well as Putnam's firm belief in the value of team management. The names of the individuals who comprise the management team are shown at the end of Management's discussion of performance.

We know that Putnam Investments values its relationship with you and its other shareholders and appreciates your loyalty during these times of restructuring of staff and products in the pursuit of superior investment performance in the future.

Respectfully yours,

/S/ JOHN A. HILL

REPORT FROM FUND MANAGEMENT

This fund is managed by the Putnam Tax Exempt Fixed-Income Team

In Putnam Municipal Opportunities Trust, you own a closed-end fund that invests in bonds across several levels of credit quality to generate an attractive level of income. The combination of higher- and lower-quality bonds was right for the times during the fund's 2002 fiscal year, which ended on April 30, 2002. Early in the year, the fund's lower-quality bonds did well, but this trend reversed abruptly on September 11. The terrorist events of that day prompted investors to flee to high-quality bonds. As in other financial markets, however, these concerns eased in subsequent months, and by the end of the fiscal year, lower-quality credits were again showing improved performance. By having exposure to both high- and low-quality credits, the fund achieved a gain at NAV and mirrored the performance of its benchmark, the Lehman Brothers Municipal Bond Index, though it underperformed the average for the Lipper General Municipal Debt fund category. The market price performance was mildly negative over the year, and we believe this reflects the negative market perception regarding lower-rated bonds for much of the period.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MUNICIPAL OPPORTUNITIES TRUST - Form N-30D

* CREDIT DIVERSIFICATION BENEFICIAL AS MARKET CHANGED DIRECTION

Your fund typically owns a generous helping of bonds with the highest credit rating, AAA, and counterbalances these with a large exposure to the two lowest investment-grade tiers, A and BBB. In addition, the fund usually owns some bonds rated below investment grade. During the past year, this below-investment-grade portion of the fund averaged about one-fifth of assets. Bonds with lower credit ratings generally offer higher yields. We also seek to boost yield by using our research capabilities to identify bonds with discounted prices caused by risks or simply uncertainty. Since yields rise as bond prices fall, discounted bonds can offer attractive income potential. Putnam has one of the largest and most experienced tax-exempt research groups in the industry. When there are questions surrounding a bond issue, we assign our credit analysts to investigate. By identifying and buying bonds that we believe are being discounted inappropriately, we believe we can add yield without taking excessive risks.

Fund Profile

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MUNICIPAL OPPORTUNITIES TRUST - Form N-30D

The fund seeks to provide high current income free from federal income tax, consistent with the preservation of capital, by investing in investment-grade and some below-investment-grade municipal bonds. The fund is appropriate for investors who are seeking tax-exempt income and are willing to accept a moderate degree of credit risk.

Footnote reads:

*As a percentage of market value as of 4/30/02. A bond rated Baa or higher is considered investment grade. All ratings reflect Moody's and Standard & Poor's descriptions unless noted otherwise; percentages may include unrated bonds considered by Putnam Management to be of comparable quality. Ratings will vary over time.

Lower-rated bonds were in favor when the fiscal period began, and the bond market's yield curve was in the midst of steepening. During 2001, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board was engaged in lowering short-term interest rates to head off a recession. With short-term rates falling, investors had to turn to lower-quality bonds in order to find attractive yields. This environment did not last, however, because the terrorist attacks of September 11 sent investors scrambling to high-quality bonds, as they feared both a significant recession and heightened political uncertainties. As these concerns eased in later months of the fiscal year, lower-quality bonds again performed well.

As the market changed direction, we chose not to alter the portfolio significantly, since it was already diversified. We stayed committed to our typical sector overweightings in health care, utilities, and transportation. In the wake of September 11, we put our research capabilities into high gear. We evaluated the outlook for the travel industry in light of the new realities, then applied this outlook to assess the prospects for airline and airport-facility bonds. While we made small adjustments to individual positions, we did not do any broad selling or buying. We believe our discipline was rewarded when, in the first three months of 2002, airline-related bonds again performed well.

* FUND FAVORED SECTORS WITH GREATER YIELD POTENTIAL

We favor bonds in sectors that feature strong yields, especially those closely tied to the overall economy, such as utilities and transportation. Many of these bonds are issued as part of regional economic development initiatives that bring together public agencies with private-sector companies. In the transportation sector, for example, there are many bonds issued by municipalities in association with airlines to finance expansion of airport facilities. These holdings, in particular, felt the effects of September 11, as growth expectations for travel and tourism were sharply reduced.

The fund also typically owns a large number of health-care bonds, an area of the market that is growing as the American population ages and requires more health-care services. The bonds offer attractive yields because the constant political struggles over how to pay for health-care services create risk for which investors must be compensated. Health-care bonds contributed to the fund's performance primarily in the first half of the fiscal year. The sector was recovering from a couple of years of weak results, and became more popular with investors concerned about recession because health-care spending is less sensitive to short-term economic conditions.

For similar reasons, tax-exempt utilities bonds were in general demand this past year. Like health care, the spending on power is relatively steady even during a downturn. Utilities bonds performed better during the first half of the year than during the second, when the economy began to recover. The fund's utilities exposure is diversified across many states and industries, and includes a number of pollution control facilities insulated from the issues that affected power distributors during the past year.

* INFLATION DORMANT BUT STATE BUDGETS UNDER PRESSURE

Economic conditions remained supportive for fixed-income securities during the fund's fiscal year as disinflation remained the dominant trend. It was only in the final months of the fund's fiscal year that the economy grew above its long-term average growth potential. This prompted some inflation concerns and temporary jumps in bond yields. However, long-term interest rates at the close of the year were not far off from where they had started the year.

A special factor affecting the municipal-bond market was the strain on state budgets caused by the weak economy. Tax revenues were below expectations, prompting many states to impose new financial restraints in order to maintain balanced budgets. This put some upward pressure on municipal-bond yields, but not the sort of problems that accompanied the previous recession of 1991. At the federal level, there was no major expansion in health-care funding, as some had anticipated before September 11. However, the biggest health-care funding restraints were put in place in 1996, and hospitals and nursing homes have figured out ways to operate more frugally.

* CONDITIONS GENERALLY FAVORABLE AS EXPANSION BEGINS

While the volatility of equity prices in recent months has conveyed widespread uncertainty, we believe the outlook for the economy and the municipal-bond market raises fewer questions than in recent months. As this report was being written, the economic recovery appeared solid, though gross domestic product might grow more slowly than the 5.6% revised annualized growth rate achieved in the first quarter. Lagging tax revenues continue to heighten the importance of research in identifying municipal bonds with solid backing. Given a continuing economic expansion, we consider both short- and long-term interest rates poised to move higher, but believe the yield curve is unlikely to flatten. In these conditions, we will continue to focus on adding value through credit research and sector positioning while limiting the fund's interest-rate sensitivity. We believe bonds with lower credit ratings have tremendous potential right now. It is unlikely that yield spreads will widen further, especially given the improvements in the economy.

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

Total return shows how the value of the fund's shares changed over time, assuming you held the shares through the entire period and reinvested all distributions in the fund.

Net asset value (NAV) is the value of all your fund's assets, minus any liabilities and the net assets allocated to remarketed preferred shares, divided by the number of outstanding common shares.

Market price is the current trading price of one share of the fund. Market prices are set by transactions between buyers and sellers on the New York Stock Exchange.

COMPARATIVE BENCHMARKS

Lehman Municipal Bond Index is an unmanaged list of long-term fixed-rate investment-grade tax-exempt bonds representative of the municipal-bond market. Indexes assume reinvestment of all distributions and do not account for fees. Securities and performance of a fund and an index will differ. You cannot invest directly in an index.

Consumer price index (CPI) is a commonly used measure of inflation; it does not represent an investment return.

Lipper is a third-party industry ranking entity that ranks funds (without sales charges) with similar current investment styles or objectives as determined by Lipper.

A GUIDE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These sections of the report, as well as the accompanying Notes, preceded by the Report of independent accountants, constitute the fund's financial statements.

The fund's portfolio lists all the fund's investments and their values as of the last day of the reporting period. Holdings are organized by asset type and industry sector, country, or state to show areas of concentration and diversification.

Statement of assets and liabilities shows how the fund's net assets and share price are determined. All investment and noninvestment assets are added together. Any unpaid expenses and other liabilities are subtracted from this total. The result is divided by the number of shares to determine the net asset value per share, which is calculated separately for each class of shares. (For funds with preferred shares, the amount subtracted from total assets includes the net assets allocated to remarketed preferred shares.)

Statement of operations shows the fund's net investment gain or loss. This is done by first adding up all the fund's earnings -- from dividends and interest income -- and subtracting its operating expenses to determine net investment income (or loss). Then, any net gain or loss the fund realized on the sales of its holdings -- as well as any unrealized gains or losses over the period -- is added to or subtracted from the net investment result to determine the fund's net gain or loss for the fiscal year.

Statement of changes in net assets shows how the fund's net assets were affected by distributions to shareholders and by changes in the number of the fund's shares. It lists distributions and their sources (net investment income or realized capital gains) over the current reporting period and the most recent fiscal year-end. The distributions listed here may not match the sources listed in the Statement of operations because the distributions are determined on a tax basis and may be paid in a different period from the one in which they were earned.

Financial highlights provide an overview of the fund's investment results, per-share distributions, expense ratios, net investment income ratios, and portfolio turnover in one summary table, reflecting the five most recent reporting periods. In a semiannual report, the highlight table also includes the current reporting period. For open-end funds, a separate table is provided for each share class.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

April 30, 2002

Note 1

Significant accounting policies

Putnam Municipal Opportunities Trust (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The fund's investment objective is to seek a high level of current income exempt from federal income tax and consistent with the preservation of capital. The fund intends to achieve its objective by investing in a portfolio of investment grade municipal bonds that Putnam Investment Management, LLC ("Putnam Management"), the fund's manager, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC, believes to be consistent with preservation of capital.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Tax-exempt bonds and notes are stated on the basis of valuations provided by an independent pricing service, approved by the Trustees, which uses information with respect to transactions in bonds, quotations from bond dealers, market transactions in comparable securities and various relationships between securities in determining value. Restricted securities are stated at fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees. Such valuations and procedures are reviewed periodically by the Trustees.

B) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Gains or losses on securities sold are determined on the identified cost basis.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. All premiums/discounts are amortized/ accreted on a yield-to-maturity basis. The premium in excess of the call price, if any, is amortized to the call date; thereafter, the remaining excess premium is amortized to maturity.

C) Futures and options contracts The fund may use futures and options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of securities the fund owns or expects to purchase. The fund may also write options on securities it owns or in which it may invest to increase its current returns.

The potential risk to the fund is that the change in value of futures and options contracts may not correspond to the change in value of the hedged instruments. In addition, losses may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments, if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts, or if the counterparty to the contract is unable to perform. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. Realized gains and losses on purchased options are included in realized gains and losses on investment securities.

Futures contracts are valued at the quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. The Fund agrees to receive from or pay to the broker an amount of cash equal to the daily fluctuation in the value of the futures contract. Such receipts or payments are known as "variation margin". Exchange traded options are valued at the last sale price, or if no sales are reported, the last bid price for purchased options and the last ask price for written options. Options traded over-the-counter are valued using prices supplied by dealers.

D) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section 4982 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains.

At April 30, 2002, the fund had a capital loss carryover of approximately $13,290,000 available to the extent allowed by tax law to offset future capital gains, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

Loss Carryover	Expiration
-----	-----
$ 2,046,000	April 30, 2003
4,581,000	April 30, 2004
126,000	April 30, 2007

1,503,000	April 30, 2009

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MUNICIPAL OPPORTUNITIES TRUST - Form N-30D

2,245,000 April 30, 2010

E) Distributions to shareholders Distributions to common and preferred shareholders from net investment income are recorded by the fund on the ex-dividend date. Distributions from capital gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. Dividends on remarketed preferred shares become payable when, as and if declared by the Trustees. Each dividend period for the remarketed preferred shares is generally a 28-day period for series A and a 7-day period for series B and C. The applicable dividend rate for the remarketed preferred shares on April 30, 2002 was Series A 1.35%, Series B 1.50%, and Series C 1.65%. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These differences include temporary and permanent differences of losses on wash sale transactions, post-October loss deferrals, dividends payable, unrealized gains and losses on certain futures contracts, realized gains and losses on certain futures contracts, and straddle loss deferrals. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations. For the year ended April 30, 2002, the fund reclassified $33,830 to decrease undistributed net investment income, with a decrease to accumulated net realized losses of $33,830. The calculation of net investment income per share in the financial highlights table excludes these adjustments.

As of April 30, 2002, the undistributed tax exempt and ordinary income on a tax basis was $1,717,339 and $1,680, respectively.

F) Determination of net asset value Net asset value of the common shares is determined by dividing the value of all assets of the fund, less all liabilities and the liquidation preference of any outstanding remarketed preferred shares, by the total number of common shares outstanding.

Note 2

Management fee, administrative services, and other transactions

Compensation of Putnam Management, for management and investment advisory services is paid quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund, including amounts attributable to any preferred shares that may be outstanding. Such fees in the aggregate are based on the annual rate of 0.70% of the first $500 million of the average net asset value of the fund, 0.60% of the next $500 million, 0.55% of the next $500 million and 0.50% thereafter.

If dividends payable on remarketed preferred shares during any dividend payment period plus any expenses attributable to remarketed preferred shares for that period exceed the fund's gross income attributable to the proceeds of the remarketed preferred shares during that period, then the fee payable to Putnam Management for that period will be reduced by the amount of the excess (but not more than 0.70% of the liquidation preference of the remarketed preferred shares outstanding during the period).

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MUNICIPAL OPPORTUNITIES TRUST - Form N-30D

Fiduciary Trust Company (PFTC), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. Investor servicing agent functions are provided by Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC.

The fund has entered into an arrangement with PFTC whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the fund's expenses. For the year ended April 30, 2002, the fund's expenses were reduced by $38,101 under these arrangements.

Each independent Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $602 has been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustees meeting attended. Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees Fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as a Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Compensation of Trustees in the Statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for compensation of Trustees in the Statement of assets and liabilities.

Purchases and sales of securities

During the year ended April 30, 2002, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities other than short-term investments aggregated $68,542,287 and $67,495,715, respectively. There were no purchases and sales of U.S. government obligations.

Note 4

Remarketed preferred shares

The Series A, B and C shares are redeemable at the option of the fund on any dividend payment date at a redemption price of $50,000, $25,000 and $25,000, respectively per share, plus an amount equal to any dividends accrued on a daily basis but unpaid through the redemption date (whether or not such dividends have been declared) and, in certain circumstances, a call premium.

It is anticipated that dividends paid to holders of remarketed preferred shares will be considered tax-exempt dividends under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. To the extent that the fund earns taxable income and capital gains by the conclusion of a fiscal year, it will be required to apportion to the holders of the remarketed preferred shares throughout that year additional dividends as necessary to result in an after-tax equivalent to the applicable dividend rate for the period.

Under the Investment Company Act of 1940, the fund is required to maintain asset coverage of at least 200% with respect to the remarketed preferred shares as of the last business day of each month in which any such shares are outstanding. Additionally, the fund is required to meet more stringent asset coverage requirements under terms of the remarketed preferred shares and the shares' rating agencies. Should these requirements not be met, or should dividends accrued on the remarketed preferred shares not be paid, the fund may be restricted in its ability to declare dividends to common shareholders or may be required to redeem certain of the remarketed preferred shares. At April 30, 2002, no such restrictions have been placed on the fund.

Under Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) promulgation Topic D-98, Classification and Measurement of Redeemable Securities, which was issued on July 19, 2001, preferred securities that are redeemable for cash or other assets are to be classified outside of permanent equity to the extent that the redemption is at a fixed or determinable price and at the option of the holder or upon the occurrence of an event that is not solely within the control of the issuer. Subject to the guidance of the EITF, the fund's preferred stock, which was previously classified as a component of net assets, has been reclassified outside of permanent equity (net assets) in the accompanying financial statements. Prior year amounts have also been reclassified to conform with this presentation. The impact of this reclassification creates no change to the net assets available to common shareholders.

New accounting pronouncement

As required, the fund has adopted the provisions of the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of Investment Companies. This Guide requires that the fund amortize premium and accrete discount on all fixed-income securities, and classify as interest income gains and losses realized on paydowns on mortgage-backed securities. Prior to May 1, 2001, the fund did not accrete discounts for certain fixed income securities. Adopting these accounting principles did not affect the fund's net asset value, but did change the classification of certain amounts between interest income and realized and unrealized gain/loss in the Statement of operations. The adoption of this principle was not material to the financial statements.

FEDERAL TAX INFORMATION
(Unaudited)

The fund has designated 100% of dividends paid from net investment income during the fiscal year as tax exempt for Federal income tax purposes.

The Form 1099 you receive in January 2003 will show the tax status of all distributions paid to your account in calendar 2002.
