CHINA REGION FUND, INC.

OBJECTIVES

Jardine Fleming China Region Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation through investments primarily in equity securities of companies with substantial assets in, or revenues derived from, the People's Republic of China (PRC or China), Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Macau--collectively, the China Region.

The Fund provides investors with an opportunity to participate in the growing economies of the China Region, especially that of the PRC, although investments are expected to be predominantly in securities listed on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong. Hong Kong enterprises have made substantial investments in the PRC, in Guangdong Province in particular, where abundant cheap labor and land are available. Hong Kong is also the largest trading partner of the PRC.

The economies of the PRC, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Macau have become increasingly linked over the past 10 years and are expected to become further integrated now that Hong Kong and Macau have reverted to Chinese sovereignty. Investments made by the Fund will seek to take advantage of opportunities resulting from this linkage among the China Region markets.

MANAGEMENT

JF International Management Inc. ("JFIM") (formerly Jardine Fleming International Management Inc.) is the investment management company appointed to advise and manage the Fund's portfolio. With the completion of the merger between Robert Fleming Holdings Ltd. and The Chase Manhattan Corporation ("Chase") in October 2000, and the subsequent merger between Chase and J.P. Morgan & Co. Incorporated in January 2001, JFIM became part of J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. ("JPMC"), one of the world's premier financial services institutions. In asset management, JPMC will operate globally under the name of JPMorgan Fleming Asset Management ("JPMFAM"), although in Asia it will use the sub-brand JF Asset Management. Funds under management for the global asset management business of JPMFAM were US $541 billion as of June 30, 2002.

Chung Man Wing is the portfolio manager of the Fund. Mr. Chung joined JFIM in late 2000 as head of the Greater China team. Previously, he was chief investment officer at HSBC Asset Management (Asia).

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

Dear Shareholders,

The first half of 2002 has been a roller coaster ride for the world's equity markets. Investor confidence was rattled as further revelations of US corporate malpractice and accounting malfeasance surfaced. Added to this in June major markets have experienced significant declines from which neither Taiwan nor Hong Kong was immune. China was an exception given its low correlation with the developed markets and strong macro momentum.

Despite these difficult market conditions, the Fund managed to achieve a positive return with the net asset value up 0.7% and share price up 5% over the 6-month period under review, compared to the benchmark return of -4.8% over the same period in USD terms. The main contribution to the Fund's outperformance has been through superior stock selection in both Hong Kong and China-related companies, although this was somewhat offset by overweight positions in Taiwanese technology and financials. Asset allocation was also positive due to an overweight position in China and an underweight in Taiwan.

During the 6-month period, the Fund repurchased a total of 67,855 shares in the open market at a per-share weighted average discount to NAV of 13.87%. The Board noted that the discount of the Fund has improved to a level as low as 11.4% and prevailed at a level below 20% throughout the period. The Board has and will continue to actively manage the discount to net asset value at which the Fund's shares trade in the market.

We expect to see continued market volatility in the second half of the year, whilst the direction of the Greater China markets will be largely contingent upon the direction of the US recovery. While we do not expect an immediate significant market upturn, we are finding a greater number of interesting investment opportunities for which the Fund is well positioned to capture the net beneficiaries in the current environment.

INVESTMENT REVIEW

Dear Shareholders:

The Greater China markets have shown divergent performance in the first half of 2002. Taiwan had a good first quarter on the back of global recovery, but this technology-heavy market suffered in the second quarter alongside global technology stocks. In Hong Kong, the market trended downward amidst continued weakness in the domestic economy and lackluster earnings. On the other hand, domestic China shares outperformed as Beijing's cancellation of the plan to dispose of state-owned shares to the public was perceived by local investors as a response by the Chinese Government to support falling domestic stock markets.

The Fund's benchmark, the MSCI Golden Dragon Index, fell 4.8% over the 6-month period calculated in US dollars. Thanks to good stock selection, the Fund managed to achieve a positive return both in terms of net asset value (up 0.7%) and share price (up 5%) over this period, thereby substantially outperforming the benchmark. The most positive impact from stock selection was derived in Hong Kong, where the Fund's overweight position in quality mid-cap stocks, such as Fountain Set, Techtronic and Hung Hing Printing, boosted performance. The overweightings in large-cap Chinese oil stocks, such as CNOOC, also helped performance. However, stock selection in Taiwan somewhat detracted value, as the concentrated overweight positions in technology stocks and underweight in financials adversely affected performance. On the other hand, asset allocation provided a positive contribution as did the small overweight in China and underweight in Taiwan.

In Hong Kong, the Hang Seng Index fell 7.0% over this 6-month period. Property counters significantly underperformed amid continued deflation despite the bottoming of the interest rate cycle. Blue chip stocks in general and large-cap telecom-related counters in particular underperformed, as they suffered from structural difficulties, lack of a new earnings driver and gloomy growth prospects, exacerbated by corporate problems in the US. Banks and utilities outperformed given their defensive characteristics, despite their muted earnings outlook. In addition, selected quality mid-cap stocks continued to outperform the broad market given their strong earnings growth potential and reasonable valuations.

On the macro front, the Hong Kong economy continued to be sluggish. Amid a deflationary environment, asset prices continued to fall, private consumption remained weak while unemployment worsened. On a slightly positive note, the recent USD weakness, if sustained, should help alleviate the deflationary pressure and regain some of the lost competitiveness.

The large Chinese telecommunication stocks were under pressure as results failed to excite and as policy uncertainty persisted. On the other hand, low PER, cyclical H-shares outperformed as China was regarded as a "safe haven" against the external volatility and as investors took their cue from the resilience of the China A-share markets, which were supported by the Chinese government's decision to suspend the sale of state-owned enterprise shares. The China oil and petrochemical counters Petrochina and Sinopec were sought after for their dividend yields as well as the positive impact of a higher oil price.

In Mainland China, the decline of the USD and the outperformance of China's exports enabled Chinese stocks to stay resilient amid volatility in global markets. The ongoing technology crash encouraged investors to switch into safer areas, to the benefit of the China stock markets. The BNP Prime Peregrine China Index was up 1.9% over the first half of 2002 in USD terms.

China macro data points to export recovery and acceleration in growth. Fixed asset investment rose by 25% in the first five months of 2002 while retail sales rose 8.5%. Deflation eased somewhat to -1.1% in May from -1.3%. We expect consumption spending to remain strong in the second half of the year. As China's political succession accelerates, politically motivated announcements relating to the financial sector have been appearing with rising frequency. While these announcements have limited substance, they do impact the market in the short term. The cancellation of the planned sell-down of state-held A-shares does not change the poor fundamentals and high valuations, but does remove the liquidity overhang.

The Taiwan Weighted Index rose 11.1% in the 1st quarter, but the gain was completely wiped out by the 16.4% plunge in the 2nd quarter alongside NASDAQ, which slumped to its lowest close in five years, resulting in a net loss of 7.2% for the 6-month period under review. The 6-month decline narrowed to 2.8% in USD terms, due to the appreciation of the TWD against the USD. The focus of investor attention shifted away from electronic counters to non-tech companies like petrochemical, steel and other commodity-related counters due to uncertainty over the recovery of the US economy, the lack of visibility in the demand of leading IT companies, as well as investors concerns about the possible negative impact of employee stock options on technology shares valuations.

Broad weakness displayed in the personal computer field forced both AMD and Apple Computer to lower their second quarter 2002 sales projections. Taiwan PC makers prognosticate further profit erosion as their clients pressure them to lower prices. Additionally, the poor performance of NASDAQ continued to dampen the confidence of local retail investors. Investors sought refuge in traditional stocks; in the chemical, textile, food, transport, bicycle, and banking sectors, resulting in strong relative outperformance in these sectors.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The accounting issues of US companies as well as the lack of confidence in the market will continue to weigh on the Asian markets. However, we are seeing good value emerging amongst the Greater China stock universe after the recent corrections. Although the broad markets may still be clouded in the near term, we still see opportunities in selected counters.

Given the external uncertainty, the severe deflationary pressure and the lack of earnings momentum in Hong Kong, blue chip stocks will stay range bound and the Hang Seng Index is likely to remain in the doldrums during the summer months. From a fund flow and asset allocation perspective, Hong Kong still does not stand out within the region as it lacks a catalyst while market valuation is only fair. Given the uncertainty about the US economic recovery and new issue supply from the likes of Bank of China and China Telecom, Hong Kong market upside may remain capped, while volatility will stay high. When a clearer picture emerges out of the US, the other North Asian markets are likely to benefit more given their industrial structure and better corporate prospects. Under these circumstances, our strategy for Hong Kong will be to concentrate on stock selection, where we remain focused on those well-managed mid-cap companies that have visibly strong earnings growth prospect and cheap valuations. Improvements in Hong Kong's external trade and in the economic outlook generally may become more obvious in the second half of the year. We expect domestic consumption in Hong Kong and China will be the main investment stories later this year.

The US market is pricing in the possibility of slower recovery. If so, China's exports should slow in the coming months. However, gains in market share are playing an increasingly important role in China's export strength. Our focus will continue to be on the domestic consumer plays in China, particularly those that have a good franchise and are well positioned to tap the fast growing consumer market in the Mainland, including selected quality "H" shares and "private chips". These stocks should benefit from an increase in funds flow because they are perceived by investors to be safer places given China's bullish macro outlook and their relatively defensive characteristics. We also think that the petrochemical stocks are due for a rally on the recovery in end-product prices.

The Beidaihe summit at the end of July should finalize most of the political succession issues, although the outcome of those discussions has not been announced. The biggest uncertainty is on the role of Jiang Zeming in the next government. The consensus is that he will retain the chairmanship of the Party's central military commission, allowing him to retain influence over strategic decisions, but hand over the running of the Party to Hu Jintao. If Jiang decides to retain control of the Party also, it would raise the risk on China. To encourage a favorable environment for the political transition in September, the government may make more announcements favorable to the market in the third quarter, while any negative surprises on price deregulation are likely to be postponed until the fourth quarter.

In Taiwan, the Central Bank has cut the discount rate again by 25 basis points to a record low of 1.875%. With monetary policy expected to remain loose and external demand improving, the stock market remains liquidity-driven with good fundamental support. As the banks have started cleaning up their non-performing loans more aggressively, while the sector has underperformed the market year-to-date, we have been gradually increasing our exposure to the financials, together with selected China concept manufacturing stocks. We continue to favor heavily blue chips with a high dividend yield. We also like local plays and small-cap stocks with high growth potential.

After the recent sell down, value appears to be emerging among selected quality technology companies in Taiwan. Although the uncertainty on order books may last for another quarter, long-term prospects for this sector remain intact. Within IT, we believe that the leading or first-tier companies will deliver the better results as recovery in global technology takes hold. However, we anticipate consolidation amongst IT stocks in the near term as the seasonally weak second quarter continues to dampen market sentiment. Thereafter, we expect demand for motherboards and notebooks to increase after Intel aggressively cuts P4 CPU prices. For the PC segment, orders remain solid in the second quarter, despite anticipated seasonal weakness.

We have transferred exposure from high valuation stocks to low valuation stocks and high return-to-equity stocks in Taiwan, and will continue to monitor closely the valuation and growth outlook of companies, regardless of whether they are technology or traditional stocks.

JARDINE FLEMING
CHINA REGION FUND, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

JUNE 30, 2002

1. ORGANIZATION AND CAPITAL

Jardine Fleming China Region Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") was incorporated in the State of Maryland on May 22, 1992, and is registered as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Fund commenced operations on July 16, 1992.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following significant accounting policies, which are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for investment companies, are consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

I) SECURITY VALUATION

All securities for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last sales price prior to the time of determination, or, if no sales price is available at that time, at the mean between the last current bid and asked prices. Securities that are traded over-the-counter are valued, if bid and asked quotations are available, at the mean between the current bid and asked prices. Investments in short-term debt securities having a maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost. All other securities and assets are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors. In valuing the Fund's assets, quotations of foreign securities in a foreign currency are translated to U.S. dollar equivalents at the exchange rate in effect on the valuation date.

II) U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAXES

No provision for federal income taxes is required since the Fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company and distribute all of its taxable income. As of December 31, 2001, the Fund has capital loss carryforwards for federal income tax purposes of $57,645,571, of which $42,188,946 expires in 2006 and $11,676,567 expires in 2007 and $3,780,058 expires in 2009. The Fund intends to retain gains realized in future periods that may be offset by available capital loss carryforward.

During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Fund reclassified $263,754 from accumulated net realized loss on investments to accumulated net investment loss as a result of permanent book and tax differences relating primarily to realized foreign currency losses. The Fund also reclassified $845,828 from accumulated net investment loss to paid-in capital as a result of permanent tax differences relating to the net operating loss for the year ended December 31, 2001. Net investment loss and net assets were not affected by the reclassifications. The Fund's foreign exchange losses incurred after October 31, 2001, but before December 31, 2001, are deemed to arise on the first business day of the following year. The Fund incurred and elected to defer such foreign exchanges losses of $4,926.

JARDINE FLEMING
CHINA REGION FUND, INC.

III) FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSLATION

The books and records of the Fund are maintained in United States dollars. Foreign currency amounts are translated into U.S. dollars at the mid-market price of such currencies against U.S. dollars as follows:

- o investments, other assets, and liabilities at the prevailing rates of exchange on the valuation date;
- o investment transactions and investment income at the prevailing rates of exchange on the dates of such transactions.

Although the net assets of the Fund are presented at the foreign exchange rates and market values at the close of the period, the Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising as a result of changes in the foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities held at period-end. Similarly, the Fund does not isolate the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities sold during the period. Accordingly, realized and unrealized foreign currency gains (losses) are included in the reported net realized and unrealized gains (losses) on investments.

Unrealized currency gains (losses) from valuing foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities at period-end exchange rates are reflected as a component of accumulated net unrealized gain (loss) on investments, foreign currency holdings, and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies.

IV) DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME AND GAINS

The Fund intends to distribute to shareholders, at least annually, substantially all of its net investment income and expects to distribute annually any net long-term capital gains in excess of net short-term capital losses. An additional distribution may be made to the extent necessary to avoid the payment of a 4% federal excise tax. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations and may differ from those determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

V) OTHER

Security transactions are accounted for on the date the securities are purchased or sold. Realized gains and losses on the sale of investment securities are determined on the identified cost basis. Interest income is recognized on the accrual basis. Dividend income and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Portfolio turnover rate is calculated by dividing the lesser of purchases and sales of investment securities having maturities greater than one year at the time of acquisition by the average monthly market value of those investment securities.

5. CAPITAL SHARE TRANSACTIONS

During the year ended December 31, 2001, the Fund's Board of Directors authorized the Fund to purchase shares of its common stock from Fund shareholders, as described below. I) SHARE REPURCHASE PROGRAM

FOR A COPY OF THE PLAN BROCHURE, AS WELL AS A DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT AUTHORIZATION CARD, PLEASE CONTACT:

The following should be noted with respect to the Plan:

If you participate in the Share Distribution Plan, whenever the Board of Directors of the Fund declares an income dividend or net capital gain distribution, you will automatically receive your distribution in newly issued shares (cash will be paid in lieu of fractional shares) if the market price of the shares on the date of the distribution is at or above the net asset value of the shares. The number of shares to be issued to you by the Fund will be determined by dividing the amount of the cash distribution to which you are entitled (net of any applicable withholding taxes) by the greater of the net asset value (NAV) per share on such date or 95% of the market price of a share on such date. If the market price of the shares on such a distribution date is below the NAV, the Plan Agent will, as agent for the participants, buy shares on the open market, on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere, for the participant's account on, or after, the payment date. There is no service charge for purchases under this Plan.

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, shareholders receiving newly issued shares pursuant to the Share Distribution Plan will be treated as receiving income or capital gains in an amount equal to the fair market value (determined as of the distribution date) of the shares received and will have a cost basis equal to such fair market value. Shareholders receiving a distribution in the form of shares purchased in the open market pursuant to the Plan will be treated as receiving a distribution of the cash distribution that such shareholder would have received had the shareholder not elected to have such distribution reinvested and will have a cost basis in such shares equal to the amount of the distribution.

There will be no brokerage charge to participants for shares issued directly by the Fund under the Plan. Each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Plan Agent's open market purchases of shares in connection with the Plan. The Fund will pay the fees of the Plan Agent for handling the Plan.

You may terminate your account under the Share Distribution Plan by notifying the Plan Agent in writing. The Plan may be terminated by the Plan Agent or the Fund with notice to you at least 30 days prior to any record date for the payment of any distribution by the Fund. Upon any termination, the Plan Agent will deliver a certificate or certificates for the full shares held for you under the Plan and a cash adjustment for any fractional shares.

You also have the option of instructing the Plan Agent to make semiannual cash purchases of shares in the open market. There is a service charge of $1.25 for each purchase under this Share Purchase Plan.
