Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring accruals, considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the three month and the six month periods ended June 30, 2007 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 29, 2007. For further information, refer to the audited consolidated financial statements and footnotes thereto included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 30, 2006.

1. Description of the Company and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Company

HearUSA Inc. (HearUSA or the Company), a Delaware corporation, was organized in 1986. As of June 30, 2007, the Company has a network of 168 company-owned hearing care centers in eight states and the Province of Ontario, Canada. The Company also sponsors a network of approximately 1,600 credentialed audiology providers that participate in selected hearing benefit programs contracted by the Company with employer groups, health insurers and benefit sponsors in 49 states. The centers and the network providers provide audiological products and services for the hearing impaired.

Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned and majority controlled subsidiaries. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. During the first six months of 2007, the Company's 50% owned joint venture HEARx West generated net income of approximately $1.4 million. According to the Company's agreement with its joint venture partner, The Permanente Federation, the Company had included in its statement of operations 100% of the losses incurred by the joint venture since its inception and then received 100% of the net income of the joint venture until the accumulated deficit was eliminated which was completely eliminated at the end of the second quarter of 2006. The Company now records 50% of the venture's net income as minority interest in income of consolidated subsidiary in the Company's consolidated statements of operations and with a corresponding liability on its consolidated balance sheets. Such amount for the first six months of 2007 was approximately $683,000, compared to $62,000 in the first six months of 2006.

Net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders per common share

Net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders per common share is calculated in accordance with SFAS No. 128 Earnings Per Share which requires companies to present basic and diluted earnings per share. Net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders per common share basic is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Net Income applicable to common stockholders per common share diluted is based on the weighted average number of common shares and dilutive potential common shares outstanding during the year. Under the if-converted method, securities are assumed to be converted at the beginning of the period and the resulting common shares are included in the denominator of the diluted earnings per share calculation for the entire period presented. Common stock equivalent for convertible subordinated notes, outstanding options and warrants to purchase common stock of approximately 8.8 million and 8.9 million were excluded from the computations of net loss applicable to common stockholders per common share diluted for the six month period ended June 30, 2007 and July 1, 2006 and quarter ended June 30, 2007 and July 1, 2006, respectively, because the effect of their inclusion would be anti-dilutive.

HearUSA, Inc

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

For purposes of computing net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders per common share basic and diluted, for the six months and the three months ended June 30, 2007 and July 1, 2006, the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding includes the effect of the 760,461 and 767,358, respectively, exchangeable shares of HEARx Canada, Inc., as if they were outstanding common stock of the Company.

Comprehensive income (loss)

Comprehensive income (loss) is defined to include all changes in equity except those resulting from investments by owners and distributions to owners. The Company's other comprehensive income (loss) represents a foreign currency translation adjustment.

Components of comprehensive income (loss) are as follows:

Dollars in thousands	Six Months Ended		Three Months Ended
	June 30, 2007	July 1, 2006	June 30, 2007	July 1, 2006
Net income (loss) for the period	$(3,867)	$ 11	$(3,315)	$ (65)
Other comprehensive income:
Foreign currency translation adjustments	1,097	429	981	454
Comprehensive income (loss) for the period	$(2,770)	$ 440	$(2,334)	$ 389

Reclassifications

Certain amounts in the 2006 consolidated financial statements have been reclassified in order to conform to the 2007 presentation.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation (FIN) No. 48 Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - An Interpretation of FASB Statement 109. FIN 48 prescribes a comprehensive model for recognizing, measuring, presenting and disclosing in the financial statements tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return, including a decision whether to file or not to file in a particular jurisdiction. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. If there are changes in net assets as a result of application of FIN 48 these will be accounted for as an adjustment to retained earnings. Because the guidance was recently issued, we have not yet determined the impact, if any, of adopting the provisions of FIN 48 on our financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) 157 Fair Value Measurement (SFAS 157), which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The provisions of SFAS 157 are effective for the Company on January 1, 2008 and is not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated results of operations and financial condition.

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities - including an amendment of FASB Statement 115 (SFAS 159), which permits measurement of financial instruments and other certain items at fair value. SFAS 159 does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS 159 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. Early adoption of SFAS 159 is permitted provided that SFAS 157 is concurrently adopted. We do not expect SFAS 159 to have an impact on our financial statements.

In May 2007, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position No. FIN 48-1 (FSP 48-1), Definition of Settlement in FASB Interpretation No. 48. FSP 48-1 amended FIN 48 to provide guidance on how an enterprise should determine whether a tax position is effectively settled for the purpose of recognizing previously unrecognized tax benefits. FSP 48-1 required application upon the initial adoption of FIN 48. The adoption of FSP 48-1 did not affect the Company's consolidated results of operations and financial condition.

2. Business Acquisitions

During the first six months of 2007, the Company acquired the assets of six hearing care centers in New York, Missouri, Michigan, Florida, California and the Province of Ontario in six separate transactions. Consideration paid was cash of approximately $2.3 million and notes payable totaling approximately $2.2 million. The Company is in the process of recording the fair values of the assets acquired. Accordingly the following estimates may change. At this time these are management's best estimates. The acquisitions resulted in additions to goodwill of approximately $2.9 million, fixed assets of approximately $116,000 and customer lists and non-compete agreements of approximately $1.5 million. The notes payable bear interest varying from 5% to 6% and are payable in quarterly installments varying from $18,000 to $256,000, plus accrued interest, through June 2011. In connection with these acquisitions, the Company drew approximately $2.2 million from its acquisition line of credit with Siemens.

Notes payable to Siemens

On December 30, 2006, the Company entered into a Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement, Amended and Restated Supply Agreement, Amendment No. 1 to Amended and Restated Security Agreement and an Investor Rights

Agreement with Siemens Hearing Instruments, Inc.

Pursuant to these agreements, the parties have increased and restructured the credit facility, extended the term of the credit facility and the supply arrangements, increased the rebates to which the Company may be entitled upon the purchase of Siemens hearing aids and granted Siemens certain conversion rights with respect to the debt. On the closing date, Siemens agreed to transfer $2.2 million of accounts payable to the newly available credit and the Company drew down an additional $5 million in cash in January 2007.

The credit facility has been increased from $26 million to $50 million and its term extended to February 2013. The first $30 million of the line is structured in two tranches and all of it now bears interest at 9.5%. Tranche B is a revolver established to accommodate funding for acquisitions by the Company. The Company may borrow under Tranche B up to a $30 million limit, less any amounts then outstanding under Tranche C. At the time of the closing, there was outstanding under Tranche B approximately $3.5 million of principal and accrued interest. Required quarterly payments of principal corresponding to $65 per Siemens unit sold by the acquired centers plus imputed interest thereon under Tranche B are subject to rebate credits described below. Additional loans may be made to the Company under Tranche C for certain acquisitions, up to a $30 million limit, less any amounts then outstanding under Tranche B. On the closing date, there was outstanding under Tranche C a balance of approximately $24 million of principal and accrued interest. The Company must make quarterly installment payments on Tranche C of $730,000 of principal plus imputed interest thereon, which quarterly payments are also subject to rebate credits described below.

HearUSA, Inc

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

The required principal payments of Tranche B and Tranche C, with imputed interest, will continue to be eligible for repayment utilizing rebate credits on purchases of hearing aids from Siemens, provided that the Company meets the minimum purchase requirements under the Amended Supply Agreement. Siemens will also provide the Company with a minimum of an additional $1.25 million per annum of volume discounts under the Amended Supply Agreement, when certain volume tests are met, that can be applied against the remaining principal balances of Tranches B and C through rebate credits. In the event that Tranche B and C are completely paid-off, the equivalent of the above rebate credits and additional volume discounts can be applied in reduction of Tranche D through rebate credits and in the event that all Tranches are completely paid-off, such rebate credits and volume discounts will be paid in cash to the Company.

The following table shows the rebate credits received from Siemens pursuant to the Amended Supply Agreement in 2007 and the Supply Agreement in 2006 and the application of such rebate credits against principal and interest payments on Tranches B and C during each of the periods ended:

	Six months ended		Three months ended
	June 30, 2007	July 1, 2006	June 30, 2007	July 1, 2006
Dollars in thousands
Portion applied against quarterly principal payments	$ 2,343	$ 1,473	$ 1,183	$ 743
Portion applied against quarterly interest payments	1,313	110	672	63
	$ 3,656	$ 1,583	$ 1,855	$ 806

The new $20 million Tranche line of credit is a revolver bearing interest at an annual rate of 5%, interest payable monthly with the principal due and payable at the end of the term. This line is to be used primarily for acquisitions under the parties' acquisition guidelines.

The Amended Credit Agreement provides that the Company will reduce the principal balance by making annual payments in an amount equal to 20% of Excess Cash Flow (as that term is defined in the Amended Credit Agreement), and by paying over to Siemens 25% of proceeds from equity offerings the Company may complete. The Company did not have any Excess Cash Flow (as defined) in 2006. In addition, the Company must prepay approximately $4.2 million under the $20 million line of credit within the first six months of the agreement. On July 24, 2007, the parties amended the agreement to extend the payment date for of this amount to September 24, 2007.

Under the terms of the Amended Credit Agreement, after a three-year waiting period Siemens has the right to convert approximately $21.2 million of the outstanding debt at $3.30 per share (representing approximately 6.4 million shares or 19.99% of the Company's outstanding common stock at the time of the closing). Siemens will have the right to convert prior to the end of the three-year holding period in the event of a change of control of HearUSA, a default by HearUSA under the agreements or failure of HearUSA to make the required principal prepayments. These conversion rights may entitle Siemens to a lower conversion price, but in all events Siemens will be limited to approximately 6.4 million shares of common stock. The parties have entered into an Investor Rights Agreement pursuant to which the Company granted Siemens resale registration rights for the common stock underlying the credit facility. This agreement states the Company will use its best effort to register the shares underlying the conversion option and in any event within 180 days after the date of the agreement. The agreement further states that the parties acknowledge and agree that although the Company is obligated to use its best efforts to effect the registration of the securities in accordance with the terms of the agreement, the Company will not be liable to Siemens for liquidated damages or penalties in the event its best efforts are insufficient to accomplish the intent of the agreement. On June 30, 2007, the Company filed the required Form S-3 Form to register the shares for resale and is now in the process of this registration.

In addition, the Company has granted to Siemens certain rights of first refusal in the event the Company chooses to engage in a capital raising transaction or if there is a change of control transaction involving an entity in the hearing aid industry.

The Company has extended to Siemens a security interest in substantially all of the Company's assets to secure repayment of the loans, just as the Company did in connection with the original credit agreement.

The Siemens credit facility imposes certain financial and other covenants on the Company which are customary for loans of this size and nature, including restrictions on the conduct of the Company's business, the incurrence of indebtedness, merger or sale of assets, the modification of material agreements, changes in capital structure, making certain payments and paying dividends. If the Company cannot maintain compliance with these covenants, Siemens may terminate future funding under the credit facility and declare all then outstanding amounts under the facility immediately due and payable. In addition, a material breach of the Amended Supply Agreement or a willful breach of certain of the Company's obligations under the Investor Rights Agreement may be declared to be a breach of the Amended Credit Agreement and Siemens would have the right to declare all amounts outstanding under the credit facility immediately due and payable. Any non-compliance with the Amended Supply Agreement could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition and continued operations.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

This financing transaction was assessed under EITF 94-18, Debtor's Accounting for Changes in Line-of-Credit or Revolving Debt Arrangements, and determined to be a modification. In accordance with EITF 94-18, unamortized financing fees will be amortized over the extended life of the agreement.

This financing transaction is recorded in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 98-5 Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios and 00-27 Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments. Accordingly, at the time of issuance assuming the most favorable conversion price at the closing date and no changes to the current circumstances except for the passage of time no beneficial conversion feature should be recognized at the date of closing for the entire amount of the available under the credit agreement ($50 million). However, each subsequent draw down would have to be analyzed regarding bifurcation and beneficial conversion feature and beneficial conversion features could be recorded in the future if the embedded feature is in the money as of the date of the future drawdown.

Notes payable from business acquisitions and other

Notes payable from business acquisitions totaling approximately $7.7 million at June 30, 2007 (see note 2) and approximately $7.0 million at December 30, 2006 are payable in monthly or quarterly installment varying from $8,000 to $255,000 over periods varying from 2 to 5 years and bear interest at rates varying from 5.0% to 7.0%. Other notes totaling approximately $526,000 at June 30, 2007 and approximately $226,000 at December 30, 2006, relating mostly to capital leases, are payable in monthly or quarterly installment varying from $1,000 to $10,000 over periods varying from 1 to 3 years and bear interest at rates varying from 9.1% to 12.8%.

4. Convertible Subordinated Notes

On April 9, 2007, the Company and holders of 14 of 15 outstanding units converted the balance of their notes, after a prepayment of approximately $409,000 by the Company, into approximately 3.1 million common shares and exercised their approximate 2.5 million warrants for a consideration of approximately $1.7 million, or $0.70 per share. The Company also paid down $375,000 of the approximate $417,000 outstanding balance to the non-participating note holder on the closing date. This transaction resulted in a non-cash charge of approximately $2.6 million due to the acceleration of the remaining balance of the debt discount amortization for approximately $1.2 million and the reduction in the price of the warrants for approximately $1.4 million recorded in the second quarter of 2007. The remaining principal balance of approximately $42,000 owed to the non-participating note holder was converted to common stock in June 2007.

During the first six months of 2007 and 2006, approximately $3.2 million and $1.3 million, respectively, of interest expense was recorded related to this financing, including non-cash prepaid finder fees, a debt discount amortization charge and deemed dividend related to the reduction in the price of the warrants of approximately $3.0 million (including the $2.6 million charge indicated above related to the conversion and exercise of warrants) and non-cash prepaid finder fees and a debt discount amortization of $911,000, respectively.

These convertible subordinated notes were issued in December 2003 through a private placement of $7.5 million and included warrants to purchase approximately 2.6 million shares of the Company's common stock. The notes were convertible at $1.75 per share and the remaining warrants could be exercised at $1.75 per share. The quoted closing market price of the Company's common stock on the commitment date was $2.37 per share. The notes bore interest at 11% annually for the first two years and then at 8% through the remainder of their term. The Company recorded a debt discount of approximately $7.5 million consisting of the intrinsic value of the beneficial conversion feature of approximately $4.5 million and the portion of the proceeds allocated to the warrants issued to the investors of approximately $3.0 million, using a Black-Scholes option pricing model, based on the relative fair values of the investor warrants and the notes. The debt discount was being amortized as interest expense over the five-year term of the note using the effective interest method. The notes were subordinate to the Siemens notes payable.

HearUSA, Inc

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

In addition to the 2.6 million investor warrants issued to the investors in the financing, the Company also issued 117,143 common stock purchase warrants with the same terms as the investor warrants and paid cash of approximately $206,000 to third parties as finder fees and financing costs. These warrants were valued at approximately $220,000 using a Black-Scholes option pricing model. The total of such costs of approximately $426,000 was being amortized as interest expense using the effective interest method over the five-year term of the notes.

5. Subordinated Notes and Warrant Liability

On August 22, 2005, the Company completed a private placement of $5.5 million three-year subordinated notes (Subordinated Notes) with warrants (Note Warrants) to purchase approximately 1.5 million shares of the Company's common stock at $2.00 per share expiring on November 22, 2008. The Note Warrants are all currently exercisable. The quoted closing market price of the Company's common stock on the commitment date was $1.63 per share. The notes bear interest at 7% per annum. Proceeds from this financing were used to redeem all of the Company's 1998-E Series Convertible Preferred Stock. The notes are subordinate to the Siemens notes payable.

The Company recorded a debt discount of approximately $1.9 million based on the portion of the proceeds allocated to the fair value of the Note Warrants, using a Black-Scholes option pricing model. The debt discount is being amortized as interest expense over the three-year term of the notes using the effective interest method. In addition to the Note Warrants, the Company also issued 55,000 common stock purchase warrants with the same terms as the Note Warrants and paid cash of approximately $330,000 to third parties as finder fees and financing costs. These warrants were valued at approximately $66,000 using a Black-Scholes option pricing model. The total of such costs of approximately $396,000 is being amortized as interest expense using the effective interest method over the three-year term of the notes. During the first six months of 2007 and 2006, approximately $479,000 and $752,000 respectively, in interest expense was recorded related to this financing, including non-cash prepaid finder fees and debt discount amortization charges of approximately $292,000 and $469,000, respectively. The future non-cash debt discount and prepaid finder fees to be amortized as interest expense in future years total approximately $312,000 for the remainder of 2007 and $192,000 in 2008. In the event the Company retires the Subordinated Notes, the Company will be required to expense the debt discount and prepaid financing fees in the period in which the retirement occurs.

At issuance, the Company agreed to register the common shares underlying the warrant shares and to maintain such registration during the three-year period ending September 2008 so that the warrant holders could sell their shares if the Note Warrants were exercised. The liability created by the Company's agreement to register and keep the underlying shares registered during the three-year period was recorded as a warrant liability of $1.9 million based on the fair value of the warrants, using a Black-Scholes option pricing model at issuance. Any gains or losses resulting from changes in fair value from period to period are recorded in interest expense. As the holders exercise their Note Warrants, the applicable portion of the liability will be reclassified to additional paid in capital. During the third quarter of 2006 the Company renegotiated its registration obligations with the Note Warrant holders to eliminate the penalty provisions of the registration rights agreement for failure to keep the registration active. Holders of eighty-six percent of the Note Warrants agreed to the changes. For those who agreed to the changes, the value of the Note Warrant was calculated at the date the amended registration rights agreement was signed and approximately $918,000 was reclassified from warrant liability to additional paid in capital. Effective January 1, 2007, under FSP EITF 00-19-2, which specifies that the contingent obligation to make future payments or otherwise transfer consideration under a registration payment arrangement, whether issued as a separate agreement or included as a provision of a financial instrument or other agreement, should be separately recognized and measured in accordance with FASB Statement No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies, the warrant liability balance of approximately $110,000 was reclassified to additional paid-in capital.

HearUSA, Inc

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

On the date of issuance of the Subordinated Notes, the Company prepaid interest for the first four months of the notes. On December 22, 2005, the Company began making quarterly payments of principal corresponding to 8% of the original principal amount plus interest and a premium of 2% of the principal payment made. Approximate annual aggregate amount of maturities of such notes maturing in future years is approximately $880,000 for the remainder of 2007 and approximately $1.5 million in 2008.

6. Stockholders EquityCommon stock

During the six months ended June 30, 2007, approximately 2.5 million warrants were exercised at an exercise price of $.0.70, approximately 3.2 million shares of common stock were issued in connection with the conversion of the 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes and employee stock options for 25,000 shares of common stock were exercised.

7. Stock-based Compensation

Under the terms of the company's stock option plans, officers, certain other employees and non-employee directors may be granted options to purchase the company's common stock at a price equal to the closing price of the Company's common stock on the date the option is granted. For financial reporting purposes, stock-based compensation expense is included in general and administrative expenses. Stock-based compensation expense total approximately $278,000 and $474,000 in the first six months of 2007 and 2006, respectively. As of June 30, 2007, there was approximately $725,000 of total unrecognized compensation cost related to share-based compensation under our stock award plans. That cost is expected to be recognized over a straight-line period of four years.

Stock-based Payment Award Activity

The following table provides additional information regarding options outstanding and options that were exercisable as of June 30, 2007 (options and in the money values in thousands):

9. Segments

The following operating segments represent identifiable components of the Company for which separate financial information is available. The following table represents key financial information for each of the Company's business segments, which include the operation and management of centers; the establishment, maintenance and support of an affiliated network; and the operation of an e-commerce business. The centers offer people afflicted with hearing loss a complete range of services and products, including diagnostic audiological testing, the latest technology in hearing aids and listening devices to improve their quality of life. The network, unlike the Company-owned centers, is comprised of hearing care practices owned by independent audiologists. The network revenues are mainly derived from administrative fees paid by employer groups, health insurers and benefit sponsors to administer their benefit programs as well as maintaining an affiliated provider network. E-commerce offers on-line product sales of hearing aid related products, such as batteries, hearing aid accessories and assistive listening devices. The Company's business units are located in the United States and Canada.

10. Income Taxes

Uncertain Income Tax Positions

We file income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, with various states and with various foreign jurisdictions. We are subject to tax audits in all jurisdictions for which we file tax returns. Tax audits by their very nature are often complex and can require several years to complete. There are currently no tax audits that have commenced with respect to income returns in any jurisdiction.

Federal: Under the tax statute of limitations applicable to the Internal Revenue Code, we are no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations by the Internal Revenue Service for years before 2003. However, because we are carrying forward income tax attributes, such as net operating losses and tax credits from 2002 and earlier tax years, these attributes can still be audited when utilized on returns filed in the future.

State: Under the statutes of limitation applicable to most state income tax laws, we are no longer subject to state income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2003 in states in which we have filed income tax returns. Certain states may take the position that we are subject to income tax in such states even though we have not filed income tax returns in such states and, depending on the varying state income tax statutes and administrative practices, the statute of limitations in such states may extend to years before 2003.

HearUSA, Inc

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

Foreign: We began foreign operations in 2002. We are subject to foreign tax examinations by tax authorities for all such years of operation.

As a result of our January 1, 2007 implementation of FIN 48, the total amount of gross tax benefits, excluding the offsetting full valuation allowance, that became unrecognized, was approximately $11 million. There were no accrued interest and penalties resulting from such unrecognized tax benefits. We recognize interest and penalties, if any, related to uncertain tax positions in general and administrative expenses. As of June 30, 2007, the total amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits was $11 million, with no accrued interest and penalties on such unrecognized tax benefits.

The net unrecognized tax benefits, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate as of December 30, 2006 and June 30, 2007, due to the effect of our full net deferred tax asset valuation allowance.

We do not currently anticipate that any significant increase or decrease to the gross unrecognized tax benefits will be recorded during the remainder of 2007.

Other Income Tax Disclosures

Consistent with 2006, we anticipate recording a valuation allowance against all of our deferred tax assets during 2007 other than for the Canadian deferred tax benefits. As a result of this valuation allowance, we expect our full year effective tax rate to be at or about zero.

Under Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code, or Section 382, certain significant changes in ownership may restrict the future utilization of our tax loss carryforwards. The annual limitation is equal to the value of our stock immediately before the ownership change, multiplied by the long-term tax-exempt rate (i.e., the highest of the adjusted federal long-term rates in effect for any month in the three-calendar-month period ending with the calendar month in which the change date occurs). Based upon preliminary calculations, we estimate that the utilization of pre-Section 382 ownership change tax losses for federal income tax purposes would be limited to approximately $2 million per year. As a result, federal net operating losses may expire before we are able to fully utilize them. As we have recorded a full valuation allowance against our net deferred tax assets, there is no current impact of this limitation for financial reporting purposes. A more detailed calculation will be prepared once we have taxable income reportable under federal and state laws.

Forward Looking Statements

This Form 10-Q and, in particular, this management's discussion and analysis contain or incorporate a number of forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Act of 1934. These statements include those relating to the Company's belief that its current cash and cash equivalents and cash flow from operations at current net revenue levels will be sufficient to support the Company's operational needs through the next twelve months; belief that the Company is in line to achieve its revenues growth objective for the year of 15% to 20% and revenues target of $102 million to $107 million in 2007; expectations that the negative trend in average selling prices and comparable center revenues will not continue for the remainder of the year, that the new Coach Shula TV campaign will start showing benefits in the third and fourth quarter of 2007 to return to historical marketing cost levels, for the balance of the year, the new compensation program should have a positive impact on the Company's average unit selling price and that the Company will continue to see increase in revenues from the centers acquired within the last twelve months; expectation that in the remainder of 2007 the total cost of products sold before the Siemens rebate credits as a percent of total net revenues will be consistent with the first six months of 2007; expectation that in the remainder of 2007 the Siemens rebate credit in absolute dollar will remain consistent with the first six months of 2007; expectation that additional center operating expenses due to acquisitions should be consistent with the current center operating expenses when looked at as a percent of total net revenues, expectations that the general and administrative expenses for the remainder of the year to be consistent with the first half of the year when looked at in dollars; expectation to achieve the long-term objective to reach an income from operations, in percent of total net revenues, of 10% to 12%. These forward-looking statements are based on current expectations, estimates, forecasts and projections about the industry and markets in which we operate and management's beliefs and assumptions. Any statements that are not statements of historical fact should be considered forward-looking statements and should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and notes to the consolidated financial statements included in this report. The statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict, and those risks described in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for fiscal 2006 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

GENERAL

In the first six months of 2007, the Company continued to focus on its acquisition program and closed on six transactions involving six centers with aggregate annual estimated revenues of approximately $4.1 million. At the time of this filing, two additional transactions involving four centers with aggregate annual estimated revenues of approximately $1.7 million were closed and we had non-binding letters of intent to acquire six centers with aggregate annual estimated revenues of approximately $5.0 million. The average number of centers in the first six months 2007 was approximately 168, compared to approximately 139 in the same period of 2006.

Included in the $3.4 million loss applicable to common stockholder in the second quarter of 2007 are $2.6 million of cash and non-cash interest expenses associated with the 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes (see Note 4 Convertible Subordinated Notes, Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included herein), which were all converted or paid off by the end of the second quarter of 2007, as well as additional marketing costs related to the new TV and Don Shula campaigns of approximately $668,000. The signing of Don Shula delayed the launch of the TV campaign from the first quarter of 2007 to the middle of the second quarter of 2007. As a result, the Company expects to realize the benefits in the third and fourth quarters of 2007, as well as returning to historical marketing cost levels for the balance of the year. Also the Company incurred additional one-time professional fees of approximately $232,000 related to the restatement of prior years financial statements. Included in the $3.9 million of the first six months of 2007 are approximately $3.2 million of charges related to the 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes as well as the additional marketing and restatement costs discussed above totaling approximately $900,000.

The $2.7 million or 12.0% increase in net revenues over 2006 is attributable to the centers acquired within the last twelve months which generated approximately $3.7 million in net revenues or 16.8% over 2006, offset by a decrease in net revenues from comparable centers of approximately $1.1 million or 4.8% below the 2006 total net revenues. The decline in revenues from comparable centers in the second quarter when compared to the same period of 2006 is attributable to both a decrease in the number of units sold and a small decline in our average unit selling price. The comparable centers total net revenues also include a favorable impact of $91,000 related to fluctuations in the Canadian exchange rate from 2006 to 2007.

In total in the second quarter of 2007 there was an 11.1% increase in the number of hearing aids sold over the same period in 2006 due to the additional number of centers in that quarter resulting from acquisitions made within the last twelve months, which increased by approximately 22.0% on average. As indicated above, this increase was partially offset with a decrease in the units from comparable centers. The increase was also partially offset by a 0.6% decrease in the average unit selling price mostly attributable to a different mix of products sold and from promotions. Service revenues increased approximately $335,000, or 23.6% over last year due in part to the additional number of centers and change in our pricing structure for these types of services as well as an increase in the Network business segment net revenues due to additional contracts.

The decrease in units from comparable centers when compared to the same period of last year is due primarily to a combination of two factors. First, the Company benefited from an extraordinarily successful new product launch targeted to a specific segment of the hearing impaired population in 2006. This program began in the first quarter of 2006 and had its largest impact in the second quarter of 2006. Secondly, the TV campaign scheduled for launch in the first quarter of 2007 to off-set this was delayed until the middle of the second quarter of 2007 when the Company had the opportunity to engage Don Shula as its spokesperson.

Management does not expect to see the negative trend in average selling prices and comparable center revenues to continue for the remainder of the year. The third and fourth quarter of 2006 were particularly low in units sold and in average selling price due to the impact of the new Florida Medicaid benefit implemented in July 2006, as well as the slow down of the aforementioned new product launch. We expect the Don Shula campaigns (both TV and print) to start showing benefits in the third and fourth quarter of 2007. We also implemented a new compensation program providing our professionals incentives to provide our patients with the best technology available. We expect this will have a positive impact on our average unit selling price. Management also expects to continue to see increase in revenues from the centers acquired within the last twelve months resulting from trailing effect of acquisitions made in preceding quarters and new acquisitions, to be closed during the remainder of 2007.

Cost of Products Sold and Services

Cost of products sold and services (dollars in thousands)	2007	2006	Change	%
Hearing aids and other products	$ 6,062	$ 6,076	$ (14)	(0.2)%
Services	556	414	142	34.3%

Percent of total net revenues	26.6%	29.2%	(2.6)%	(8.9)%

The cost of products sold includes the effect of rebate credits pursuant to our agreements with Siemens. The following table reflects the components of the rebate credits which are included in the above costs of products sold for hearing aids (see Note 3 Long-term Debt, Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included herein):

Siemens rebate credits included above (dollars in thousands)	2007	2006	Change	%
Base required payments on Tranches A and C forgiven	$ 1,043	$ 730	$ 313	42.9%
Required payments of $65 per Siemens unit from acquired centers on Tranche B forgiven	140	13	126	900.0%
Interest expense on Tranches A, B and C forgiven	672	63	609	966.7%
Total Siemens rebate credits	$ 1,855	$ 806	$ 1,048	129.9%
Percent of total net revenues	7.4%	3.6%	3.8%	105.6%

The decrease of total cost of products sold and services, as a percentage of total net revenues, is primarily due to the additional Siemens rebate credits provided for in the new agreements signed in December 2006, as indicated in the above table. Cost of products sold before the impact of the Siemens rebate credits, in percent of total net revenues, were 34.0% in the second quarter of 2007 compared to 32.8% in the first quarter of 2006. This increase is due to a different mix of products sold and the lower average unit selling price. For the remainder of the year, management expects the cost of products sold, in percent of total net revenues and before the impact of the Siemens rebate credits, to remain consistent with the first half of the year and that the Siemens rebate credits, in absolute dollar, will remain consistent with the first six months of 2007.

The increase in center operating expenses in the second quarter of 2007 is mainly attributable to additional expenses of approximately $1.5 million related to the centers acquired during the last twelve months and the additional cost of the Coach Shula TV campaign of approximately $668,000. The remaining increase relates to increase in incentive compensation of approximately $55,000 related to additional total net revenues and other normal annual increases. As a percent of total net revenues, center operating expenses increased from 46.3% in the second quarter of 2006 to 52.7% in the second quarter of 2007. This increase is due in part to the additional marketing expense discussed above, which corresponds to approximately 2.7% of total net revenues and the decline in comparable center total net revenues. Center operating expenses related to centers acquired in the last twelve months, at 40.4% of related total net revenues, were in line with management expectations. Management expects that center operating expenses will increase in dollars during the remainder of 2007 due to additional centers acquired in the second quarter of 2007 as well as pending acquisitions, however, it is expected that these increases will be consistent with the current center operating expenses when looked at as a percent of total net revenues.

The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily attributable to increases in professional fees related to the restatement in the company's financial statement for prior years for approximately $232,000, increases in property and business interruption and directors and officers insurance premiums and increases in occupancy expenses.

Management expects the general and administrative expenses for the remainder of the year to be consistent with the first half of the year when looked at it in dollars.

Depreciation and amortization expense in the second quarter of 2007 remained stable compared to the same period in 2006. Depreciation was $308,000 in the second quarter of 2007 and $290,000 in the second quarter of 2006.

Amortization expense was $228,000 in the second quarter 2007 and $198,000 in the second quarter 2006. Most of the amortization expense comes from the amortization of intangible assets related to the acquisitions made by the Company.

Income from Operations

Income from operations decreased approximately $819,000 from $1.6 million (or 7.3% of total net revenues) in the second quarter of 2006 to approximately $810,000 (or 3.3% of total net revenues) in the second quarter of 2007. As indicated above, this decrease was mostly caused by the additional marketing expense and restatement costs, which all together accounted for approximately $900,000, or 3.6% of total net revenues. The remaining decrease of 0.3 base points in the margin is attributable to the decrease in total net revenues from comparable centers, which is estimated to have had a negative impact of approximately $650,000 or 2.6% of total net revenues. The Company's long term objective is still to reach a 10% to 12% income from operations, as a percent of total net revenues.

The $2.3 million increase in interest expense in the second quarter of 2007 is mostly attributable to the additional interest on the new Siemens Tranche D with a balance of $7.2 million at the beginning of the year, which did not exist in the second quarter of 2006, additional interest on the new promissory notes issued for business acquisitions during 2006 and a non-cash charge of approximately $2.6 million due to conversion of the 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes in the second quarter of 2007, partially offset by reductions due to lower principal balances following the quarterly repayments made, as well as additional interest on Siemens Tranche C due to higher average balance in the second quarter of 2007 compared to 2006. 2006 also benefited from a reduction on interest due to reduction in value of the warrant liability which did not exist in 2007.

Income Taxes

The Company has temporary timing differences between the financial statement and tax reporting arising primarily from differences in the amortization of intangible assets and goodwill and depreciation of fixed assets. The deferred tax assets for US purposes have been offset by a valuation allowance because it was determined that these assets were not likely to be used. The deferred tax assets for Canadian tax purposes are recorded in reduction of the deferred income tax liability on the Company's balance sheet and were approximately $680,000 at December 30, 2006. During the second quarter, the Company recorded a deferred tax expense of approximately $206,000 compared to approximately $314,000 in the second quarter of 2006 related to estimated taxable income generated by the Canadian operations during the quarter and the estimated deduction of tax deductible goodwill from its US operations. The deferred income tax expense related to the Canadian operations of approximately $86,000 is due to the estimated utilization of deferred tax benefit previously recorded as discussed above. The deferred income tax expense recorded of approximately $120,000 was recorded because it cannot be offset by other temporary differences as it relates to infinite-lived assets and that the timing of reversing the liability is unknown.

Minority Interest

During the second quarter of 2007, HEARx West, the Company's fifty percent owned joint venture; generated net income of approximately $557,000. The Company recorded a minority interest equal to 50% of the venture's net income that exceeded the accumulated deficit, as an expense in the Company's consolidated statements of operations and with a corresponding liability on its consolidated balance sheets. The minority interest for the second quarter of 2007 was approximately $259,000 compared to $62,000 in the same period of 2006. This increase is due to the fact that the minority interest started to be calculated on toward the end of the second quarter of last year.

Net Loss Applicable to Common Stockholders

The increase in the net loss applicable to common stockholders of approximately $3.4 million in the second quarter of 2007, or $0.09 per share, from a net loss applicable to common stockholders of approximately $100,000 in the second quarter of 2006, or $0.00 per share, is mostly attributable to the non-cash charge of approximately $2.6 million ($0.07 per share) related to the conversion of the 2003 convertible notes and exercise of related warrants (compared to a charge of approximately $655,000 for these same notes in the same period of 2006), the additional marketing expense and restatement costs discussed above and totaling approximately $900,000 ($0.02 per share) and the increase in the minority interest charge of approximately $197,000 ($0.01 per share), as explained above. The 2007 performance was also affected by the reduction in revenues from comparable center from one period to another, which is estimated to have had a negative impact of approximately $650,000 (0.02 per share).

For the six months ended June 30, 2007 compared to the six months ended July 1, 2006

(1) Represents that portion of revenues from the 2006 acquired centers recognized for those acquisitions that had less than one full quarter of revenues recorded in the first six months of 2006 due to the timing of their acquisition.

(2) Also includes revenues from the network business segment as well as the impact of fluctuation of the Canadian exchange rate.

(3) The revenues from acquired centers percentage changes are calculated by dividing those revenues by the total first six months of 2006 net revenues.

The $4.6 million or 10.4% increase in net revenues over 2006 is a result of revenues from the centers acquired within the last twelve months which generated approximately $7.2 million or 16.5% over 2006, offset by a decrease in net revenues from comparable centers of approximately $2.7 million or 6.1% below the 2006 total net revenues level. The decline in revenues from comparable centers in 2007 when compared to the same period of 2006 is attributable to both a decrease in the number of hearing aids sold, and a slight decrease in the average unit selling price. The comparable centers total net revenues also include a favorable impact of $34,000 related to fluctuations in the Canadian exchange rate from 2006 to 2007.

In total in the second quarter of 2007 there was a 9.2% increase in the number of hearing aids sold over the same period in 2006 due to the additional number of centers in the first six months of 2007 resulting from acquisitions made within the last twelve months, which increased by approximately 22% on average. As indicated above, this increase was partially offset with a decrease in the units from comparable centers. In addition, the average unit selling price increased slightly by 0.1%, mostly attributable to a different mix of products sold and promotions. Service revenues increased approximately $490,000, or 17.0% over last year, due in part to the additional number of centers and change in our pricing structure for these types of services.

As indicated for the second quarter, the decrease in units from comparable centers when compared to the same period of last year is due primarily to a combination of two factors. First, the Company benefited from an extraordinarily successful new product launch targeted to a specific segment of the hearing impaired population in 2006. This program began in the first quarter of 2006 and had its largest impact in the second quarter of 2006. Secondly, the TV campaign scheduled for launch in the first quarter of 2007 to off-set this was delayed until the middle of the second quarter of 2007 when the Company had the opportunity to engage Don Shula as its spokesperson.

Cost of Products Sold and Services

Cost of products sold and services (dollars in thousands)	2007	2006	Change	%
Hearing aids and other products	$ 11,789	$ 12,189	$ (400)	(3.3)%

Percent of total net revenues	26.4%	29.6%	(3.2)%	(10.8)%

The cost of products sold includes the effect of rebate credits pursuant to our agreements with Siemens. The following table reflects the components of the rebate credits which are included in the above costs of products sold for hearing aids (see Note 3 Long-term Debt, Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included herein):

Siemens rebate credits included above (dollars in thousands)	2007	2006	Change	%
Base required payments on Tranches A and C forgiven	$ 2,085	$ 1,460	$ 625	42.8%
Required payments of $65 per Siemens unit from acquired centers on Tranche B forgiven	258	13	245	1884.6%
Interest expense on Tranches A, B and C forgiven	1,313	110	1,203	1093.6%
Total Siemens rebate credits	$ 3,656	$ 1,583	$ 2,073	131.0%
Percent of total net revenues	7.5%	3.6%	3.9%	108.3%

The decrease of total cost of products sold and services, as a percentage of total net revenues, is primarily due to the additional Siemens rebate credits provided for in the new agreements signed in December 2006, as shown in the above table. Cost of products sold before the impact of the Siemens rebate credits, in percent of total net revenues, were 34.0% in the first six months of 2007 compared to 33.2% in the first six months of 2006. This increase is due to a different mix of products sold.

Expenses

Operating expenses (dollars in thousands)	2007	2006	Change	%
Center operating expenses	$ 24,742	$ 20,065	$ 4,677	23.3%
Percent of total net revenues	51.0%	45.7%	5.3%	11.6%
General and administrative expenses	$ 7,425	$ 6,588	$ 837	12.7%
Percent of total net revenues	15.3%	15.0%	0.3%	2.0%
Depreciation and amortization	$ 1,025	$ 980	$ 45	4.6%
Percent of total net revenues	2.1%	2.2%	(0.1)%	(4.5)%

The increase in center operating expenses in the second quarter of 2007 is mainly attributable to additional expenses of approximately $3.6 million related to the centers acquired during the last twelve months and the additional cost of the Coach Shula TV campaign of approximately $668,000. The remaining increase relates to increase in incentive compensation of approximately $94,000 related to additional total net revenues and other normal annual increases. As a percent of total net revenues, center operating expenses increased from 45.7% in the second quarter of 2006 to 51.0% in the second quarter of 2007. This increase is due in part to the additional marketing expense discussed above, which corresponds to approximately 1.4% of total net revenues and the decline in comparable centers total net revenues. Center operating expenses related to centers acquired in the last twelve months, at 42.5% of related total net revenues, were in line with management expectations.

The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily attributable to increases in wages due to normal merit increases, professional fees related to the restatement of prior years financial statements, increases in property and business interruption and directors and officers insurance premiums and increases in occupancy expenses.

Depreciation and amortization expense in 2007 remained stable compared to the same period in 2006. Decreases as certain property and equipment become fully depreciated were offset by increases due to the acquisition of fixed assets and intangible assets during 2007. Depreciation was $613,000 in 2007 and $599,000 in 2006. Amortization expense was $412,000 in 2007 and $381,000 in 2006. Most of the amortization expense comes from the amortization of intangible assets related to the acquisitions made by the Company.

Income from Operations

Income from operations decreased approximately $839,000 from $3.3 million (or 7.5% of total net revenues) in the first half of 2006 to approximately $2.5 million (or 5.1% of total net revenues) in the first half of 2007. As indicated above, this decrease was mostly caused by the additional marketing expense and restatement costs, which all together accounted for approximately $900,000, or 1.9% of total net revenues. The remaining decrease of 0.5 base points in the margin is attributable to the decrease in total net revenues from comparable centers, which is estimated to have had a negative impact of approximately $1.6 million or 3.3% of total net revenues.

When compared to the entire year in 2006, income from operations, as a percentage of total net revenues, improved from 4.3% to 5.1%. Also when compared to the third and fourth quarter of 2006, the improvement is even more significant where the percentage were 1.8% and 0.4%, respectively. These improvements over preceding quarters are mostly attributable to the reduction in our cost of products sold, resulting in one part from initiatives implemented during the fourth quarter of 2006 to increase our average unit selling price and on the other part to the additional benefits from the new Siemens agreements signed on December 30, 2006. It is also attributable to the fact that general and administrative expenses remained stable at $7.4 million in the first six months of 2007 compared to the last six months of 2006, while revenues increased $3.6 million or 8.1%, which resulted in a decrease of general and administrative expenses, in percentage of total net revenues from 16.5% to 15.3%.

The increase in interest expense in 2007 is attributable to the additional interest on the new Siemens Tranche D with a balance of $7.2 million at the beginning of the year, which did not exist in 2006 and additional interest on the new promissory notes issued for business acquisitions during 2006 and non-cash interest charges of approximately $2.6 million for the early conversion of the 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes, partially offset by reductions due to lower principal balances following the quarterly repayments made, as well as additional interest on Siemens Tranche C due to higher average balance in the first six months of 2007 compared to 2006. 2006 also benefited from a reduction on interest due to reduction in value of the warrant liability which did not exist in 2007.

Income Taxes

The Company has temporary timing differences between the financial statement and tax reporting arising primarily from differences in the amortization of intangible assets and goodwill and depreciation of fixed assets. The deferred tax assets for US purposes have been offset by a valuation allowance because it was determined that these assets were not likely to be used. The deferred tax assets for Canadian tax purposes are recorded in reduction of the deferred income tax liability on the Company's balance sheet and were approximately $680,000 at December 30, 2006. During the first six months of 2007, the Company recorded a deferred tax expense of approximately $352,000 compared to approximately $578,000 in 2006 related to estimated taxable income generated by the Canadian operations during the quarter and the estimated deduction of tax deductible goodwill from its US operations. The deferred income tax expense related to the Canadian operations of approximately $161,000 is due to the estimated utilization of deferred tax benefit previously recorded as discussed above. The deferred income tax expense recorded of approximately $191,000 was recorded because it cannot be offset by other temporary differences as it relates to infinite-lived assets and that the timing of reversing the liability is unknown. Deferred income tax expense will continue to be recorded for these two items as long as the Canadian operations generate taxable income and/or tax deductible goodwill exist for US tax purposes. Tax deductible goodwill with a balance of approximately $21.3 million at December 31, 2006 will continue to increase as we continue to purchase the assets of businesses.

Minority Interest

During the first six months of 2007, HEARx West, the Company's fifty percent owned joint venture; generated net income of approximately $1.4 million. The Company recorded a minority interest equal to 50% of the venture's net income that exceeded the accumulated deficit, as an expense in the Company's consolidated statements of operations and with a corresponding liability on its consolidated balance sheets. The minority interest for the first six months of 2007 was approximately $683,000, compared to $62,000 in the same period of last year. This increase is due to the fact that the minority interest started to be calculated on toward the end of the second quarter of last year.

Net Loss Applicable to Common Stockholders

The increase in the net loss applicable to common stockholders of approximately $3.9 million in the first six months of 2007, or $0.11 per share, from a net loss applicable to common stockholders of approximately $59,000 in the first six months of 2006 is mostly attributable to the non-cash charge of approximately $2.6 million ($0.07 per share) related to the conversion of the 2003 convertible notes and exercise of related warrants, the additional marketing expense and restatement costs discussed above and totaling approximately $900,000 ($0.03 per share) and the increase in the minority interest charge of approximately $621,000 ($0.02 per share), as explained above. The 2007 performance was also affected by the reduction in revenues from comparable center from one period to another, which is estimated to have had a negative impact of approximately $1.6 million ($0.05 per share).

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Siemens Transaction

On December 30, 2006, the Company entered into a Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement, Amended and Restated Supply Agreement, Amendment No. 1 to Amended and Restated Security Agreement and an Investor Rights Agreement with Siemens Hearing Instruments, Inc.

Pursuant to these agreements, the parties have increased and restructured the credit facility, extended the term of the credit facility and the supply arrangements, increased the rebates to which the Company may be entitled upon the purchase of Siemens hearing aids and granted Siemens certain conversion rights with respect to the debt. On the closing date, Siemens agreed to transfer $2.2 million of accounts payable to the newly available credit and subsequently the Company drew down an additional $5 million in cash in January 2007.

The credit facility has been increased from $26 million to $50 million and its term extended to February 2013. The first $30 million of the line is structured in two tranches and all of it now bears interest at 9.5%. Tranche B is a revolver established to accommodate funding for acquisitions by the Company. The Company may borrow under Tranche B up to a $30 million limit, less any amounts then outstanding under Tranche C. At the time of the closing, there was outstanding under Tranche B approximately $3.5 million of principal and accrued interest. Required quarterly payments of principal and interest under Tranche B are subject to rebate credits described below. Additional loans may be made to the Company under Tranche C for certain acquisitions, up to a $30 million limit, less any amounts then outstanding under Tranche B. On the closing date, there was outstanding under Tranche C a balance of approximately $24 million of principal and accrued interest. The Company must make quarterly installment payments on Tranche C of $730,000 of principal plus imputed interest thereon, which quarterly payments are also subject to rebate credits as described below.

The required principal payments of Tranche B and Tranche C, with imputed interest, will continue to be eligible for repayment utilizing rebate credits on purchases of hearing aids from Siemens, provided that the Company meets the minimum purchase requirements under the Amended Supply Agreement. Siemens will also provide the Company with a minimum of an additional $1.25 million per annum of volume discounts under the Amended Supply Agreement, when certain volume tests are met, that can be applied against the remaining principal balances of Tranches B and C through rebate credits. In the event that Tranche B and C are completely paid-off, the equivalent of the above rebate credits and additional volume discounts can be applied in reduction of Tranche D through rebate credits and in the event that all Tranches are completely paid-off, such rebate credits and volume discounts will be paid in cash to the Company.

The new $20 million Tranche D line of credit is a revolver bearing interest at an annual rate of 5%, interest payable monthly with the principal due and payable at the end of the term. This line is to be used primarily for acquisitions under the parties' acquisition guidelines.

The Amended Credit Agreement provides that the Company will reduce the principal balance by making annual payments in an amount equal to 20% of Excess Cash Flow (as that term is defined in the Amended Credit Agreement), and by paying over to Siemens 25% of proceeds from equity offerings the Company may complete. The Company did not have any Excess Cash Flow (as defined) in 2006. In addition, The Company must prepay approximately $4.2 million under the $20 million line of credit within the first six months of the agreement. On July 24, 2007, the parties agreed to extend the payment date of this amount to September 24, 2007.

Under the terms of the Amended Credit Agreement, after a three-year waiting period, Siemens has the right to convert approximately $21.2 million of the outstanding debt at $3.30 per share (representing approximately 6.4 million shares, of the Company's outstanding common stock at the time of the closing). Siemens will have the right to convert prior to the end of the three-year holding period in the event of a change of control of HearUSA, a default by HearUSA under the agreements or certain principal prepayments by HearUSA. These conversion rights may entitle Siemens to a lower conversion price, but in all events Siemens will be limited to approximately 6.5 million shares of common stock. The parties have entered into an Investor Rights Agreement pursuant to which the Company granted Siemens resale registration rights for the common stock underlying the credit facility. The investor rights agreement states the Company will use its best effort to register the shares underlying the conversion option and in any event within 180 days after the date of the agreement. The agreement further states that the parties acknowledge and agree that although the Company is obligated to use its best efforts to effect the registration of the securities in accordance with the terms of the agreement, the Company will not be liable to the Investor for liquidated damages or penalties in the event its best efforts are insufficient to accomplish the intent of the agreement. On June 30, 2007 the Company filed a Form S-3 form to register these shares for resale and is now in the registration process.

In addition, the Company has granted to Siemens certain rights of first refusal in the event the Company chooses to engage in a capital raising transaction or if there is a change of control transaction involving a person in the hearing aid industry.

The Company has extended to Siemens a security interest in substantially all of the Company's assets to secure repayment of the loans, just as the Company did in connection with the original credit agreement.

The Siemens credit facility imposes certain financial and other covenants on the Company which are customary for loans of this size and nature, including restrictions on the conduct of the Company's business, the incurrence of indebtedness, merger or sale of assets, the modification of material agreements, changes in capital structure, making certain payments and paying dividends. If the Company cannot maintain compliance with these covenants, Siemens may terminate future funding under the credit facility and declare all then outstanding amounts under the facility immediately due and payable. In addition, a material breach of the Amended Supply Agreement or a willful breach of certain of the Company's obligations under the Investor Rights Agreement may be declared to be a breach of the Amended Credit Agreement and Siemens would have the right to declare all amounts outstanding under the credit facility immediately due and payable. Any non-compliance with the Amended Supply

Agreement could have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition and continued operations.

Working Capital

The working capital deficit decreased approximately $800,000 to approximately $14.1 million as of June 30, 2007 from approximately $14.9 million as of December 30, 2006. The decrease in the deficit is attributable to a decrease of approximately $2.5 million in current maturities of convertible subordinated notes and an excess of cash provided by financing activities of approximately $2.5 million over cash used for investing activities, offset by an increase of approximately $3.3 million current maturities of long-term debt.

The working capital deficit of approximately $14.1 million includes approximately $3.6 million representing the current maturities of the long-term debt to Siemens which may be repaid through rebate credits. In the first six months of 2007, the Company generated income from operations of approximately $2.5 million compared to $3.3 million in the first six months of 2006. Cash and cash equivalents as of June 30, 2007 were approximately $3.2 million.

Cash Flows

Net cash used in operating activities in 2007 increased approximately $3.3 million compared to net cash provided by operating activities in 2006, mainly attributable to a decrease in cash provided by operating activities before changes in non-cash working capital items of approximately $2.8 million from one period to another, and a decrease in cash due to changes in non-cash working capital items of approximately $485,000.

During 2007, cash of approximately $2.4 million was used to complete the acquisition of centers, a decrease of approximately $2.5 million over the $4.9 million spent on acquisitions in 2006. It is expected that additional funds will continue to be used for acquisitions during the remainder of 2007. The source of these funds is expected to be primarily the Siemens acquisition line of credit.

In 2007, funds of approximately $3.3 million were used to repay long-term debt. This is a decrease of $322,000 from 2006 due to the payment and conversion of the convertible subordinated notes in the second quarter of 2007 (see Note 4 Convertible Subordinated Notes, Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included herein) offset in part by increase in cash outflows relating to additional notes from business acquisitions. In 2007, proceeds of $5 million were received from the Siemens Tranche D and $2.2 million from the Siemens Tranches B and C used for acquisitions. The Company expects to continue to draw additional money from the Siemens acquisition line of credit, as indicated above, in order to cover the cash portion of its 2007 acquisitions. The Company also made a first distribution to minority interest related to its HEARx West joint venture with Kaiser in the amount of approximately $579,000. Such distribution did not exist in prior years.

The Company believes that current cash and cash equivalents and cash flow from operations, at current net revenue levels, will be sufficient to support the Company's operational needs through the remainder of the year. However, there can be no assurance that the Company can maintain compliance with the Siemens loan covenants, that net revenue levels will remain at or higher than current levels or that unexpected cash needs will not arise for which the cash, cash equivalents and cash flow from operations will not be sufficient. In the event of a shortfall in cash, the Company might consider short-term debt, or additional equity or debt offerings. There can be no assurance however, that such financing will be available to the Company on favorable terms or at all. The Company also is continuing its aggressive cost controls and sales and gross margin improvements.

Below is a chart setting forth the Company's contractual cash payment obligations, which have been aggregated to facilitate a basic understanding of the Company's liquidity as of June 30, 2007:

Contractual obligations	Total	Payments due by period (000 $)
		Less than 1 year	1 - 3 years	4 - 5 Years	More Than 5 years
Long-term debt (1)	$ 42,845	$ 11,688	$ 11,299	$ 7,610	$ 12,248
Subordinated notes	2,420	1,760	660
Subtotal of obligations recorded on balance sheet	45,265	13,448	11,959	7,610	12,248
Interest to be paid on long-term debt (2)	1,616	638	571	311	96
Interest to be paid on subordinated notes	116	113	3
Operating leases	18,571	5,593	8,277	3,145	1,556

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Management believes the following critical accounting policies affect the significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Goodwill

The Company's goodwill resulted from the combination with Helix in 2002 and the acquisitions made since the inception of its acquisition program in 2005. On at least an annual basis, the Company is required to assess whether its goodwill is impaired. The Company elected to perform this analysis on the first day of its fourth quarter. In order to do this, management applied judgment in determining its reporting units, which represent distinct parts of the Company's business. The reporting units determined by management are the centers, the network and e-commerce. The definition of the reporting units affects the Company's goodwill impairment assessments. The annual goodwill impairment assessment involves estimating the fair value of a reporting unit and comparing it with its carrying amount. If the carrying value of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, additional steps are required to calculate a potential impairment charge. Calculating the fair value of the reporting units requires significant estimates and long-term assumptions. The Company utilized an independent appraisal firm to test goodwill for impairment as of the first day of the Company's fourth quarter during 2006 and 2005, and each of these tests indicated no impairment. The Company estimates the fair value of its reporting units by applying a weighted average of three methods: quoted market price, external transactions, and discounted cash flow. Significant changes in key assumptions about the business and its prospects, or changes in market conditions, stock price, interest rates or other externalities, could result in an impairment charge.

Revenue recognition

Revenues from the sale of audiological products are recognized at the time of delivery. Revenues from hearing care services and repair are recognized at the time those services are performed.

The Company has capitation contracts with certain health care organizations under which the Company is paid an amount for each enrollee of the health maintenance organization to provide to the enrollee a once every three years discount on certain hearing products and services. The amount paid to the Company by the healthcare organization is calculated on a per-capita basis and is referred to as capitation revenue. Capitation revenue is earned as a result of agreeing to provide services to members without regard to the actual amount of service provided; revenue is recorded in the period that the beneficiaries are entitled to hearing care services.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

Certain of the accounts receivable of the Company are from health insurance and managed care organizations and government agencies. These organizations could take up to nine months before paying a claim made by the Company and also impose a limit on the time the claim can be billed. The Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated uncollectible amounts. That estimate is based on historical collection experience, current economic and market conditions, and a review of the current status of each customer's trade accounts receivable.

In order to calculate that allowance, the Company first identifies any known uncollectible amounts in its accounts receivable listing and charges them against the allowance for doubtful accounts. Then a specific percent per plan and per aging categories is applied against the remaining receivables to estimate the needed allowance. Any changes in the percent assumptions per plan and aging categories results in a change in the allowance for doubtful accounts. For example, an increase of 10% in the percent applied against the remaining receivables would increase the allowance for doubtful accounts by approximately $27,000.

Sales returns

The Company provides to all patients purchasing hearing aids a specific return period of at least 30 days if the patient is dissatisfied with the product. The Company provides an allowance in accrued expenses for returns. The return period can be extended to 60 days if the patient attends the Company's H.E.L.P. program. The Company calculates its allowance for returns using estimates based upon actual historical returns. The cost of the hearing aid is reimbursed to the Company by the manufacturer.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Long-lived assets are subject to a review for impairment if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. If the future undiscounted cash flows generated by an asset or asset group is less than its carrying amount, it is considered to be impaired and would be written down to its fair value. Currently we have not experienced any events that would indicate a potential impairment of these assets, but if circumstances change we could be required to record a loss for the impairment of long-lived assets.

Stock-based compensation

Share-based payments are accounted for in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment (SFAS No. 123(R)). To determine the fair value of our stock option awards, we use the Black-Scholes option pricing model, which requires management to apply judgment and make assumptions to determine the fair value of our awards. These assumptions include estimating the length of time employees will retain their vested stock options before exercising them (the expected term), the estimated volatility of the price of our common stock over the expected term and an estimate of the number of options that will ultimately be forfeited.

The expected term is based on historical experience of similar awards, giving consideration to the contractual terms, vesting schedules and expectations of future employee behavior. Expected stock price volatility is based on a historical volatility of our common stock for a period at least equal to the expected term. Estimated forfeitures are calculated based on historical experience. Changes in these assumptions can materially affect the estimate of the fair value of our share-based payments and the related amount recognized in our Consolidated Financial Statements.

Income taxes

Income taxes are calculated in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS No. 109), which requires the use of the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized based on the difference between the carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the enacted tax rates. A valuation allowance is established against the deferred tax assets when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred taxes may not be realized.

Both the calculation of the deferred tax assets and liabilities, as well as the decision to establish a valuation allowance requires management to make estimates and assumptions. Although we do not believe there is a reasonable likelihood that there will be a material change in the estimates and assumptions used, if actual results are not consistent with the estimates and assumptions, the balances of the deferred tax assets, liabilities and valuation allowance could be adversely affected.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation (FIN) No. 48 Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes An Interpretation of FASB Statement 109. FIN 48 prescribes a comprehensive model for recognizing, measuring, presenting and disclosing in the financial statements tax positions taken or expected to be taken on a tax return, including a decision whether to file or not to file in a particular jurisdiction. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. If there are changes in net assets as a result of application of FIN 48 these will be accounted for as an adjustment to retained earnings. Because the guidance was recently issued, we have not yet determined the impact, if any, of adopting the provisions of FIN 48 on our financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) 157 Fair Value Measurement (SFAS 157), which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The provisions of SFAS 157 are effective for the Company on January 1, 2008 and is not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated results of operations and financial condition.

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities including an amendment of FASB Statement 115 (SFAS 159), which permits measurement of financial instruments and other certain items at fair value. SFAS 159 does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS 159 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. Early adoption of SFAS 159 is permitted provided that SFAS 157 is concurrently adopted. We do not expect SFAS 159 to have an impact on our financial statements.

In May 2007, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position No. FIN 48-1 (FSP 48-1), Definition of Settlement in FASB Interpretation No. 48 . FSP 48-1 amended FIN 48 to provide guidance on how an enterprise should determine whether a tax position is effectively settled for the purpose of recognizing previously unrecognized tax benefits. FSP 48-1 required application upon the initial adoption of FIN 48. The adoption of FSP 48-1 did not affect the Company's consolidated results of operations and financial condition.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company does not engage in derivative transactions. The Company is exposed to Canadian currency exchange rates and the Company is not hedging that exposure. Differences in the fair value of investment securities are not material; therefore the related market risk is not significant. The Company's exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to the Company's long-term debt. The following table presents the Company's financial instruments for which fair value is subject to changing market interest rates:

	Fixed Rate			Other	Total
	9.5% due January 2013 $ (000 s)	5% note Due January 2013 (000 s)	7% Due August 2008 $ (000 s)
2007	(3,290)	(4,200)	(880)	(2,011)	(10,381)
2008	(3,628)	(3,000)	(1,540)	(3,033)	(11,201)
2009	(3,628)			(2,091)	(5,719)
2010	(3,628)			(939)	(4,567)

Estimated fair value	(27,540)	(7,200)	(2,410)	(8,230)	(45,380)

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

The Company's management, with the participation of the Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act) as of June 30, 2007. The Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that, as of June 30, 2007, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were not effective. The Company is taking steps to remediate any deficiencies in its disclosure controls and procedures including hiring outside firms to assist in these matters.

No change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Securities Exchange Act) occurred during the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 2007 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

Part II Other InformationItem 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

Effective April 9, 2007, all but one of the holders of the Company's 2003 Convertible Subordinated Notes converted their notes into a total of 3,158,966 shares of common stock. At the same time, these holders exercised warrants, paying $1,749,930 cash for a total of 2,499,900 shares of common stock. The Company relied on Section 4(2) as the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933. The transaction qualified as a private placement to accredited investors.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders

The Company held its annual meeting of stockholders on June 11, 2007. At that meeting, the stockholders were asked to consider and act on the election of directors and the approval of the HearUSA 2007 Incentive Compensation Plan. The following persons were elected as directors for terms expiring in 2008 and received the number of votes set forth opposite their respective names:

	Nominee	For	Against/ Withheld
	Paul A. Brown, M. D.	30,184,539	7,699,969
	Stephen J. Hansbrough	30,283,044	7,601,464
