The questions and answers below were developed for use regarding Human Resources matters.

I am in Career Band 5, 6 or 7 and was awarded Restricted Stock Grants (RSGs). What will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding RSGs.

If you are in Career Band 5, 6 or 7, your RSGs that are outstanding when the transaction with Anthem closes will be “rolled over” into a number of restricted Anthem shares in a manner that preserves the value of your Cigna RSGs. Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The restricted Anthem shares will remain subject to the same terms and conditions as your Cigna RSGs, including with respect to the vesting schedule.

It is not possible to calculate at this time the exact number of restricted Anthem shares you will receive because the number will be based on the value of the merger consideration at the closing ($103.40 in cash and 0.5152 Anthem shares for each Cigna share). Any fractional Anthem shares will be rounded up to the nearest whole share.

Example: Assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the value of Anthem shares at the closing is $164.22, which was the closing price on May 28, 2015, before reports that Cigna and Anthem were in negotiations.

For 100 Cigna RSGs, you would be entitled to receive a number of restricted Anthem shares equal to $100 \times [($103.40 / $164.22) + 0.5152] = 115$ restricted Anthem shares

There will be more information forthcoming.

I am in Career Band 4 and was awarded Restricted Stock Grants (RSGs) after June 30, 2015. What will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding RSGs.

If you are in Career Band 4, your RSGs awarded after June 30, 2015 that are outstanding upon the closing will be “rolled over” in the same manner as RSGs held by employees in Career Bands 5, 6 or 7, as described above.

There will be more information forthcoming.

I am in Career Band 4 and was awarded Restricted Stock Grants (RSGs) prior to July 1, 2015. What will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding RSGs.

If you are in Career Band 4, your RSGs awarded prior to July 1, 2015 that are outstanding when the transaction with Anthem closes will be converted into merger consideration (cash and Anthem shares). Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The cash portion will be paid as soon as reasonably practicable (within 5 days) following the closing and the stock portion will remain subject to the same terms and conditions as your Cigna RSGs, including with respect to the vesting schedule. Any fractional Anthem shares will be rounded up to the nearest whole share.

Example: For 100 Cigna RSGs, you would be entitled to receive:

1. An amount in cash equal to $100 \times $103.40 = $10,340$; and
2. A number of restricted Anthem shares equal to $100 \times 0.5152 = 52$ restricted Anthem shares

There will be more information forthcoming.

I was awarded Restricted Stock Units (RSUs), what will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding RSUs.

Your RSUs that are outstanding upon the closing of the transaction with Anthem will be “rolled over” into a number of restricted stock units denominated in Anthem shares in a manner that preserves the value of your Cigna RSUs. Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The Anthem restricted stock units will remain subject to the same terms and conditions as your Cigna RSUs, including with respect to the vesting schedule.

It is not possible to calculate at this time the exact number of Anthem restricted stock units you will receive because the number will be based on the value of the merger consideration at the closing ($103.40 in cash and 0.5152 Anthem shares for each Cigna share). Any fractional Anthem restricted stock units will be rounded up to the nearest whole share.

Example: Assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the value of Anthem shares at the closing is $164.22, which was the closing price on May 28, 2015, before reports that Cigna and Anthem were in negotiations.

For 100 Cigna RSUs, you would be entitled to receive a number of Anthem restricted stock units equal to $100 \times [($103.40 / $164.22) + 0.5152] = 115$ Anthem restricted stock units

If you are in Career Band 4 and Cigna determines that you are not subject to U.S. income tax, further information will be forthcoming about your Cigna RSUs awarded prior to July 1, 2015.

There will be more information forthcoming.

I was awarded Stock Options. What will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding stock options.

Your outstanding stock options that are vested when the transaction with Anthem closes will be cancelled and converted into merger consideration (cash and Anthem shares). The merger consideration you receive will have a value equal to your stock options' intrinsic value (the excess, if any, of the value of the merger consideration over each stock option's per-share exercise price). The portions payable in cash and Anthem shares will be based on the portions of cash and Anthem shares that make up the merger consideration that will be paid to Cigna shareholders generally. Any fractional Anthem shares will be paid in cash. Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The cash portion will be paid as soon as reasonably practicable (within 5 days) following the closing and the stock portion will not be subject to any vesting restrictions.

It is not possible to calculate at this time the exact number of Anthem shares you will receive because the number will be based on the value of the merger consideration at the closing ($103.40 in cash and 0.5152 Anthem shares for each Cigna share).

Example: Assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the value of Anthem shares at the closing is $164.22, which was the closing price on May 28, 2015, before reports that Cigna and Anthem were in negotiations. Also assume, for illustrative purposes only, that 55% of the merger consideration is payable in cash, 45% of the merger consideration is payable in stock and the intrinsic value of your vested stock options is $100.

For 100 vested Cigna stock options, you would be entitled to receive:

1. An amount in cash equal to $100 \times$ the intrinsic value of the stock options \times the percentage of the merger consideration payable in cash

$$= 100 \times $100 \times 55\% = $5,500.00; \text{ and}$$

2. A number of vested Anthem shares equal to $[100 \times$ the intrinsic value of the stock options \times the percentage of the merger consideration payable in stock] / [the price of Anthem shares]

$$= [100 \times 100 \times 45\%] / $164.22 = 27 \text{ vested Anthem shares, plus } $66.06 \text{ in lieu of a fractional Anthem share}$$

Your outstanding stock options that are unvested when the transaction with Anthem closes will be "rolled over" into options to purchase Anthem shares. The number of Anthem stock options you will receive and their per-share exercise price will be adjusted in a manner that will preserve the intrinsic value of your Cigna stock options (the excess, if any, of the value of the merger consideration over the stock option's per-share exercise price). The number of stock options resulting from such adjustment will be rounded down to the nearest whole share, and the per-share exercise price resulting from such adjustment will be rounded up to the nearest whole cent. Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The Anthem stock options will remain subject to the same terms and conditions as your Cigna stock options, including with respect to the vesting schedule.

It is not possible to calculate at this time the exact number of Anthem stock options you will receive because the number will be based on the value of the merger consideration at the closing ($103.40 in cash and 0.5152 Anthem shares for each Cigna share).

Edgar Filing: CIGNA CORP - Form 425

Example: Assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the value of Anthem shares at the closing is $164.22, which was the closing price on May 28, 2015, before reports that Cigna and Anthem were in negotiations.

For 100 unvested Cigna stock options with a per-share exercise price of $78.00, you would be entitled to receive a number of Anthem stock options equal to $100 \times [($103.40 / $164.22) + 0.5152] = 114$ Anthem stock options. The exercise price of the Anthem stock options would be $$78.00 / [($103.40 / $164.22) + 0.5152] = \68.14 exercise price

There will be more information forthcoming.

I was awarded Strategic Performance Shares (SPSs), what will happen to them?

The announcement has no immediate effect on outstanding SPSs.

Your SPSs that are outstanding when the transaction with Anthem closes will be deemed to have achieved a shares earned percentage equal to the greatest of: (1) 100%, (2) the shares earned percentage that applied to the last SPS performance period that ended prior to the closing, or 3) the average of the shares earned percentages that applied to the last two SPS performance periods that ended prior to the closing.

After the shares earned percentage is applied, your SPSs will be “rolled over” into restricted stock units denominated in Anthem shares in a manner that preserves the value of your SPSs. Please see below for an example of how this conversion will be calculated. The Anthem restricted stock units will remain subject to the same terms and conditions as your SPSs, including with respect to the vesting schedule. However, the Anthem restricted stock units will not be subject to any performance conditions.

It is not possible to calculate at this time the exact number of Anthem restricted stock units you will receive because the number will be based on the value of the merger consideration at the closing (which is $103.40 in cash and 0.5152 Anthem shares for each Cigna share). Any fractional Anthem restricted stock units will be rounded up to the nearest whole share.

Example: Assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the value of Anthem shares is $164.22, which was the closing price on May 28, 2015, before reports that Cigna and Anthem were in negotiations. Also assume, for illustrative purposes only, that the shares earned percentage deemed achieved (as determined in accordance with the merger agreement) is 175%.

For 100 Cigna SPSs, you would be entitled to receive a number of Anthem restricted stock units equal to $100 \times 175\% [($103.40 / $164.22) + 0.5152] = 201$ Anthem restricted stock units

There will be more information forthcoming.
