Crawford & Company (the Registrant), founded in 1941, is the world's largest (based on annual revenues) independent provider of claims management solutions to insurance companies and self-insured entities, with a global network of more than 700 locations, in 63 countries. Major service lines include property and casualty claims management, integrated claims and medical management for workers' compensation, legal settlement administration, including class action and warranty inspection, and risk management information services.

DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

The Registrant has four operating segments. The Registrant's four operating segments are comprised of: U.S. Property & Casualty, which serves the U.S. property and casualty insurance company market; International Operations, which serves the property and casualty insurance company markets outside of the U.S.; Broadspire, which serves the U.S. self-insurance marketplace; and Legal Settlement Administration, which serves the securities, bankruptcy, product warranties and inspections and other legal settlements market. U.S. Property & Casualty and International Operations together serve the global property and casualty insurance markets. The percentages of total revenues before reimbursements, derived from the Registrant's segments are shown in the following schedule:

Years Ended December 31,

U.S. Property & Casualty	18.2%	25.6%	28.9%
International Operations	38.6%	37.1%	37.0%
Broadspire	32.9%	21.4%	19.3%
Legal Settlement Administration	10.3%	15.9%	14.8%

U.S. PROPERTY & CASUALTY OPERATIONS. The Registrant provides claims management services in the U.S. mainly to insurance companies, which customarily manage their own claims administration function, but require various services which the Registrant provides, primarily with respect to the field investigation and evaluation of property and casualty insurance claims.

The major elements of the Registrant's U.S. claims management services are:

- Initial Loss Reporting - the Registrant's XPressLinkSM service provides 24-hour receipt, acknowledgment, and distribution of claims information through Electronic Data Interchange, customized reporting and referral programs, call center reporting, and facsimile receipt and distribution.

Table of Contents

- .. Investigation - the development of information necessary to determine the cause and origin of loss.

- .. Evaluation - the determination of the extent and value of damage incurred and the coverage, liability, and compensability relating to the parties involved.

- .. Disposition - the resolution of the claim, whether by negotiation and settlement, by denial, or by other means as to a claimant or an insured.

- .. Subrogation - the negotiation with, and recovering funds from, third parties or insurers responsible for the loss.

In addition, the Registrant contracts with a network of contractors through Crawford Contractor ConnectionSM to provide property damage repair services at agreed contract rates for property damage losses. The Registrant markets Crawford Contractor Connection to property and casualty insurance companies to facilitate faster, more economical resolution of smaller property damage claims under homeowner policies.

BROADSPIRE. Broadspire Management Services, Inc. (Broadspire), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Registrant, is a leading third-party administrator offering a comprehensive integrated platform of workers' compensation and liability claims management and medical management services. Through this segment, the Registrant serves clients in the self-insured or commercially insured market through alternative loss funding methods, and provides them with a complete range of services. In addition to the field investigation and evaluation of their claims, the Registrant also may provide initial loss reporting services for their claims, loss mitigation services such as medical bill review and vocational rehabilitation, administration of trust funds established to pay claims and risk management information services.

Expanded services provided primarily, but not exclusively, to the Registrant's self-insured clients include:

- .. Information Services - through the Registrant's information systems, reports are provided of detailed claims information of both a statistical and financial nature to self-insured entities and insurance companies.

- .. Management - the coordination and supervision of all parties involved in the claims settlement process, including the adjusting personnel directly involved in handling the claim. Typically, this management function is performed by an independent administrative unit within the Registrant which is not involved in the initial investigation of a claim.

- .. Auditing Services - the Registrant's medical and hospital bill audit programs assist clients in controlling medical costs associated with workers' compensation and liability claims by comparing fees charged by health care providers and hospitals with maximum fee schedules prescribed by statutory regulations as well as usual and customary charges in non-fee-schedule states.

- “ Managed Care Services - provides a broad range of cost containment and utilization review services to insurance companies, service organizations and self-insured corporations. These services, which are designed both to control the cost and to enhance the efficient delivery of medical benefits, include early medical intervention, triage, assessment, case management, PPO channeling, physician peer review, and medical bill review.

- “ Vocational Services - provides vocational evaluation in order to assess an injured employee’s potential to return to work. These services involve diagnostic testing and occupational, personal and motivational counseling of the employee. Vocational, medical and employment consultants assist in the re-employment and preparation of injured individuals to return to work.

- “ Medical Case Management Services - are typically provided by rehabilitation nurses who work closely with attending physicians and other medical personnel in order to expedite the injured person’s physical recovery and rehabilitation and maximize the opportunity for the person to return to work. These services also involve coordinating and monitoring treatment plans and related costs to ensure that such treatment is appropriate and necessary in the circumstances.

- “ Long-Term Care - offers a full menu of long-term care services including comprehensive on-site assessments, complete care coordination, and on-going care monitoring. These services are provided through experienced health care professionals with an insight into local quality care needs and are offered primarily to senior citizens and their children, attorneys, and trust officers.

- “ Risk Sciences Group, Inc. (RSG), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Registrant, is a software applications and consulting firm. RSG provides customized computer-based information systems and analytical forecasting services to the risk management and insurance industry. It manages the Registrant’s basic information systems, including SISDAT[™], and has developed the SIGMA ENCORESM system, an on-line risk management information system which supports multiple sources of claims, locations, risk control, medical, litigation, exposure, and insurance policy information. RSG serves a variety of clients with specialized computer programs for long-term risk management planning, data and systems integration, development of historical claims/loss databases, claims administration and management, regulatory reporting, insurance and risk management cost control, and actuarial and financial analysis required for loss forecasting, reserve estimation and financial reporting.

The claims administration services described above for both U.S. Property & Casualty and Broadspire segments are provided to clients for a variety of different referral assignments which generally are classified as to the underlying insured risk categories, or major types of loss, used by insurance companies. The major risk categories are described below:

- “ Automobile - relates to all types of losses involving use of an automobile. Such losses include bodily injury, physical damage, medical payments, collision, fire, theft, and comprehensive liability.

Table of Contents

- .. Property - relates to losses caused by physical damage to commercial or residential real property and certain types of personal property. Such losses include those arising from fire, windstorm, or hail damage to commercial and residential property, burglary, robbery or theft of personal property, and damage to property under inland marine coverage.
- .. Workers Compensation - relates to claims arising under state and federal workers compensation laws.
- .. Public Liability - relates to a wide range of non-automobile liability claims such as product liability; owners, landlords and tenants liabilities; and comprehensive general liability.
- .. Catastrophe - covers all types of natural disasters, such as hurricanes, earthquakes and floods, and man-made disasters such as oil spills, chemical releases, and explosions, where the Registrant provides specially trained catastrophe teams to handle claims, as well as to manage the recovery efforts.

INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS. Substantially all of the Registrant's international revenues are derived from the insurance company market where it provides field investigation and evaluation of property and casualty insurance claims. The major elements of international claims management services are substantially the same as those provided to the U.S. property and casualty insurance company clients. The major services offered by the Registrant through its international operations are provided to clients for a variety of different referral assignments which are generally classified as to the underlying risk categories, or major types of loss, used by insurance companies. The major risk categories are described below:

- .. Property and Casualty - provides loss adjusting services for property (volume and major incident), general liability, employer's liability, professional indemnity for directors and officers, and product liability services.
- .. Oil, Energy & Engineering - provides loss adjusting for oil, gas, petrochemicals, other energy risks, utilities and mining industries, as well as marine and off-shore risks.
- .. Environmental Pollution - provides cost-containment and claims management services with respect to environmental related losses.
- .. Construction - provides loss adjusting services under contractors all risk, engineering all risk, and contractors liability coverages. Additionally, evaluates machinery breakdown claims and provides peripheral services including plant valuation and loss prevention surveys.

- .. Catastrophe - organizes major loss teams to provide claims management and cost containment services.
- .. Class action services - handles the administrative functions related to product liability and other class action settlements, including qualifying class members, determining and dispersing payments, and administering the settlement funds.
- .. Marine - provides loss adjusting services for freight carriers liability, loss investigations, recoveries, salvage disposal, yacht and small craft, cargo, container, discharge, draft, general average, load, trailer and on/off live surveys, ship repairer liability and port stevedore liability.
- .. Specie and Fine Art - provides loss adjusting services under fine art dealers block and jewelry and furrriers block policies.
- .. Banking, Financial and Political Risks - performs loss adjusting functions under bankers blanket bond, political risk, and financial contingency policies.
- .. Livestock - performs loss adjusting on bloodstock, and liability/equestrian activity.
- .. Reinsurance - provides external audits, portfolio analyses, and management and marketing research as well as claims adjustment services.
- .. Medical and Vocational Case Management Services - provides specialized return to work and expert testimony services in the employer liability and auto liability markets.

Revenues and expenses outside of the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean are reported on a two-month delayed basis and, accordingly, the Registrant's December 31, 2007, 2006, and 2005 consolidated financial statements reflect the financial position of entities outside of the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean as of October 31, 2007, 2006, and 2005, respectively, and the results of those entities' operations and cash flows for the 12-month periods ended October 31, 2007, 2006, and 2005, respectively.

LEGAL SETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION. The Registrant also performs legal settlement administration related to settlements of securities cases, product liability cases, bankruptcy noticing and distribution, and other legal settlements, by identifying and qualifying class members, determining and dispensing settlement payments, and administering the settlement funds. Such services are generally referred to by the Registrant as class action services.

The major elements of class action services are as follows:

- .. Administration provided by The Garden City Group, Inc. (GCG), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Registrant. GCG handles the administrative functions related to securities, product liability, bankruptcy noticing and distribution, and other legal settlements, including qualifying class members, determining and dispensing payments, and administering the settlement funds. With the field operations of the Registrant, GCG and the Registrant offer comprehensive programs to integrate the field inspection and administrative functions in a single source for product liability class action settlements.

- “ Strategic Warranty Services (SWS), formerly Crawford Inspection Services, was re-branded in 2007 to better reflect the wider array of services it now offers to manufacturers seeking to outsource all or a portion of their warranty administration and inspection work. While still performing inspections for a number of building product class action settlements, the division has made a natural expansion to warranty services for manufacturers of composite decking, doors, windows, vinyl siding and trim. Inspections include the determination of the extent and compensability of damage incurred primarily related to product liability class action settlements.

Information regarding each of the Company’s segments is included in Note 10, Segment and Geographic Information, to the Registrant’s consolidated financial statements of the Annual Report to Shareholders for the year ended December 31, 2007.

ADDITIONAL RISK MANAGEMENT AND OTHER SERVICES. The Registrant provides the following additional risk management and other related services, which support and supplement the claims and risk management services offered:

- “ Education Services are provided by Crawford Educational Services, an internal program that provides education for professionals engaged in service delivery for all lines of business to assure consistent quality in the Registrant’s work products. In addition, Crawford Educational Services provides continuing education in support of career paths, management and supervisory training, and the opportunity to obtain professional certification through IIA/CPCU. Clients have the opportunity to attend Crawford Educational Services education programs and access the Crawford Educational Services continuing education curriculum in a variety of risk management subjects.
- “ e-Triage® is a proprietary web-based application that addresses core problems such as inconsistency in claim practices and failure to identify complex files early in the life of a claim. By using a multi-tiered interview process backed by scientific evidence-based research, e-Triage functions as an effective decision support system that helps claim and medical professionals identify potential complications and recommends actions for optimal management of each individual claim.

SERVICE DELIVERY - The Registrant’s claims management services are offered primarily through its more than 350 locations throughout the U.S. and approximately 350 locations in 62 countries throughout the rest of the world.

COMPETITION, EMPLOYMENT AND OTHER FACTORS

The claims services markets, both in the U.S. and internationally, are highly competitive and are comprised of a large number of companies of varying size and scope of services. These include large insurance companies and insurance brokerage firms which, in addition to their primary services of insurance underwriting or insurance brokerage, also provide services such as claims administration, healthcare and disability management, and risk management information systems, which compete with services offered by the Registrant. Many of these companies are larger than the Registrant in terms of annual revenues and total assets; however, based on experience in the market, the Registrant believes that few, if any, of such organizations derive revenues from independent claims administration activities which equal the Registrant's.

In addition to large insurance companies and insurance brokerage firms, the Registrant competes with a great number of smaller local and regional claims management services firms located throughout the U.S. and internationally. Many of these smaller firms have rate structures that are lower than the Registrant's, but do not offer the broad spectrum of claims management services the Registrant provides and, although such firms may secure business which has a local or regional source, the Registrant believes its quality product offering, broader scope of services, and its large number of geographically dispersed offices provide the Registrant with a competitive advantage in securing business from U.S. and international clients. There are also national independent companies that provide a similar broad spectrum of claims management services and who directly compete with the Registrant.

At December 31, 2007, the total number of full-time equivalent employees was 8,967 compared with 9,280 at December 31, 2006. In addition, the Registrant has available a significant number of on-call employees, as and when the demand for services requires. The Registrant, through Crawford Educational Services, provides many of its employees with formal classroom training in basic and advanced skills relating to claims administration and healthcare management services. Such training is generally provided at the Registrant's education facility in Atlanta, Georgia, although much of the material is also available through correspondence courses and the Internet. In many cases, employees are required to complete these or other professional courses in order to qualify for promotion from their existing positions.

In addition to technical training through Crawford Educational Services, the Registrant also provides ongoing professional education for certain of its management personnel on general management, marketing, and sales topics. These programs involve both in-house and external resources.

At December 31, 2007, our Legal Settlement Administration segment had a backlog of projects awarded totaling $45.0 million. Additional information regarding this backlog is available in the Registrant's Annual Report to Shareholders in the section titled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" under the caption "Legal Settlement Administration."

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the risks described below and other information contained in this report on Form 10-K when considering an investment decision with respect to our securities. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us, or that we currently deem immaterial, may also impair our business operations. Any of the events discussed in the risk factors below may occur. If they do, our business, results of operations or financial condition could be materially adversely affected. In such an instance, the trading prices of our securities could decline, and you might lose all or part of your investment.

We have experienced declines in the volume of cases referred to us for many of our service lines associated with the property and casualty and self-insurance insurance industry.

We are unable to predict the future of this trend due to the following factors:

changes in the degree to which property and casualty insurance carriers outsource their claims handling functions;

changes in the overall employment levels and associated workplace injury rates in the U.S.;

the growth of alternative risk programs and the use of independent third party administrators such as us, as opposed to administrators affiliated with brokers or insurance carriers;

occurrences of weather-related, natural, and man-made disasters;

major insurance carriers, underwriters, and brokers could elect to expand their activities as third party administrators and adjusters, which would directly compete with our business; and the renewal of existing major contracts with clients and our ability to obtain such renewals and new contracts on satisfactory financial terms, including the creditworthiness of clients.

We have debt covenants that require us to maintain a maximum leverage ratio, a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio, and a minimum consolidated net worth. We may not be able to maintain compliance with these debt covenant requirements. These debt covenant requirements also have requirements that restrict our ability to pay dividends to our shareholders.

Table of Contents

On October 31, 2006, we entered into a Credit Agreement by and among us, Crawford & Company International, Inc., the lenders party thereto and SunTrust Bank, as Issuing Bank and Administrative Agent for the Lenders, as amended on March 2, 2007, July 5, 2007 and December 21, 2007, which we refer to herein as the Credit Agreement. The Credit Agreement contains customary representations, warranties and covenants, including covenants limiting liens, indebtedness, guaranties, mergers and consolidations, substantial asset sales, investments and loans, sale and leasebacks, restrictions on dividends and distributions, and other fundamental changes. In addition, the Credit Agreement contains covenants to the effect that we will maintain a maximum leverage ratio, a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio and a minimum consolidated net worth. We were in compliance with these debt covenants, as amended, as of December 31, 2007. The covenants become more restrictive in the future and if we do not meet the covenant requirements, we would be in default under these agreements. In such an event, we would need to obtain a waiver of the default or repay the outstanding indebtedness under the agreements. If we could not obtain a waiver on satisfactory terms, we could be required to renegotiate this indebtedness. Any such renegotiations could result in less favorable terms, including higher interest rates and accelerated payments. Based upon our projected operating results for 2008, we expect to remain in compliance with these debt covenants. However, there can be no assurance that our actual financial results will match our planned results or that we will not violate the covenants.

We may be obligated to make earnout payments related to our acquisitions.

Some business acquisitions are structured to include earnout payments, which are contingent upon the acquired entity reaching certain revenue and operating earnings targets. The amount of the contingent payments and length of the earnout period varies for each acquisition, and the ultimate payments when made will vary, as they are dependent on future events. Based on 2007 levels of revenues and operating earnings, additional payments under existing earnout agreements approximate $7.5 million through 2010, as follows: 2008 - $780,191; 2009 - $5,792,636; and 2010 - $910,197.

We face potential limitations on our ability to pay cash dividends to our shareholders.

Our Board of Directors makes dividend decisions each quarter based in part on an assessment of current and projected earnings and cash flows. Our ability to pay future dividends could be impacted by many factors including the funding requirements for our defined benefit pension plans, repayments of outstanding borrowings, future levels of cash generated by our operating activities, and restrictions related to the covenants contained in our Credit Agreement. The covenants in our Credit Agreement limit dividend payments to shareholders to $12.5 million in any 12-month period and permit dividends only if certain leverage and fixed charge coverage ratios are met. Once these ratios are met, the payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors.

Table of Contents

Legal Settlement Administration service revenues are project-based and can fluctuate significantly.

Our Legal Settlement Administration service revenues are project-based and can fluctuate significantly from period to period. Growth in these revenues is in part dependent on the growth in product liability, bankruptcy and securities class action settlements. Legislation or a change in market conditions could curtail or limit growth of this part of our business. Tort reforms in the U.S., both at the national and state levels, could limit the number and size of future class action settlements.

We may not be able to identify new revenue sources not directly tied to the insurance underwriting cycle.

The insurance industry may go through a hard market cycle in the future. Indicators of a hard insurance underwriting cycle include higher premiums, lower liability limits, excluded coverages, reservation of rights letters and unpaid claims. During a hard insurance underwriting market, insurance companies become very selective in the risks they underwrite and insurance premiums and policy deductibles increase. This results in a reduction in industry-wide claims volumes, which reduces claim referrals to us unless we can offset the decline in claim referrals with growth in our market share. In softer insurance markets, where insurance premium and deductible levels are generally in decline, as is currently being experienced, industry-wide claim volumes generally increase, which should increase claim referrals to us provided property and casualty insurance carriers do not reduce the number of claims they outsource to independent firms such as ours. Although we are currently experiencing a soft insurance market, claim volumes remain low and carriers have reduced the number of claims they outsource to independent firms such as ours.

We are subject to this insurance underwriting market risk and try to mitigate this risk through the development and marketing of services which are not affected by the insurance underwriting cycle, such as those related to class action and warranty services.

We may not be able to develop or acquire information technology resources to support and grow our business.

We have made substantial investments in software and related technologies that are critical to the core operations of our business. These information technology resources will require future maintenance and enhancements, potentially at substantial costs. Additionally, these information technology resources may become obsolete in the future and require replacement, potentially at substantial costs. We may not be able to develop or acquire replacement resources or to identify and acquire new technology resources to support and grow our business.

The Broadspire segment currently operates on multiple claim platforms. In January 2007, a project was initiated to consolidate the multiple claim platforms into RiskTech, our proprietary claim platform.

The registrant's Broadspire segment currently utilizes five claims adjudication platforms for collection of client data. These platforms will be consolidated into the RiskTech platform. Operational efficiencies, including reduction of costs of maintaining multiple claim platforms, depend upon integration of all claim platforms into RiskTech. Consolidation of the claim platforms is anticipated to continue through 2008; however the Registrant cannot guarantee that it will attain all scheduled integration goals. Failure to achieve targeted integration dates may adversely affect our results of operations.

We may not be able to recruit, train, and retain qualified personnel, including retaining a sufficient number of on-call claims adjusters to respond to catastrophic events that may, singularly or in combination, significantly increase our clients' needs for adjusters.

Our catastrophe revenues can fluctuate dramatically based on natural and man-made disasters. When such events happen, our clients usually require a sudden and substantial increase in the need for catastrophe adjusting services, which can place strains on the capacity of our catastrophe adjusters. Our internal resources are sometimes not sufficient to meet these sudden and substantial increases in demand. When these situations occur, we must retain outside adjusters (contractors and temporary employees) to increase our capacity. Insurance companies and other loss adjusting firms also aggressively compete for these independent adjusters, who often command high prices for their services at such times of peak demand.

We are party to lawsuits that could adversely impact our business.

In the normal course of the claims administration services business, we are named as a defendant in suits by insureds or claimants contesting decisions by us or our clients with respect to the settlement of claims. Additionally, our clients have brought actions for indemnification on the basis of alleged negligence on our part or on the part of our agents or our employees in rendering service to clients. We currently are party to other litigation. There can be no assurance that additional lawsuits will not be filed against us. There also can be no assurance that these lawsuits will not have a disruptive effect upon the operations of our business, that the defense of the lawsuits will not consume the time and attention of our senior management or that the resolution of this litigation will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our U.S. and United Kingdom (U.K.) defined benefit pension plans are significantly under funded. Future funding requirements, including those imposed by recent and potential regulatory changes, could restrict cash available for our operating, financing and investing requirements.

At the end of the most recent measurement periods for our defined benefit pension plans, our projected benefit obligations were underfunded by $80,769,000. The Pension Protection Act of 2006 (the Act) will require us to make substantial contributions to our frozen U.S. defined benefit pension plan over the next seven years in order for us to meet the Funding Target Liability as defined in the Act. In addition, regulatory requirements in the U.K. require us to make additional contributions to our underfunded U.K. defined benefit pension plans. Required contributions to our underfunded defined benefit pension plans may restrict available cash for our operating, financing, and investing needs.

Table of Contents

Inaccurate estimates or assumptions used in our annual impairment tests could lead to adverse effects on our results of operations.

We may be required to take an impairment charge for goodwill or intangible assets. We are required by applicable accounting standards to perform annual impairment tests of our goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets. The fair values calculated in our annual impairment tests are determined using discounted cash flow models involving several assumptions. These assumptions include, but are not limited to, anticipated growth rates by segments, operating margins and the discount rate. The results of our 2007 annual impairment test indicates that the fair value of each segment exceeds their carrying amounts by 11.4% to 74.8%. If, in the future, the estimated fair value of any segment was to fall below its carrying amount, we would need to record a noncash impairment charge for the goodwill, which would adversely affect our results of operations. For additional information about our goodwill and intangible assets, refer to Note 3 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

We are subject to potential challenges relating to overtime pay and other regulations that affect our relationship with our employees, which could adversely affect our business.

We are subject to numerous federal, state and foreign employment laws, and from time to time we face claims by our employees and former employees under such laws. In addition, the number of cases involving alleged violations of wage and hour laws has recently increased. The outcome of these cases is highly fact specific and there has been a substantial amount of legislative and judicial activity pertaining to employment-related issues. We were notified in January 2008 that a former employee filed a lawsuit in California alleging, among other things, unpaid overtime. The former employee is asking that the lawsuit be granted class action status for all similarly situated employees. We intend to defend ourselves. At the present time, we cannot assess the probability of an unfavorable verdict nor can we assess the potential damages in the event of an unfavorable verdict. In addition, we cannot assure anyone that claims under such laws or other employment-related laws will not be attempted in the future against us, nor can we predict the likely impact of any such claims. We are currently aware of allegations made by certain employees that we are in violation of wage and hour laws in certain jurisdictions. We do not know if these allegations will result in litigation and cannot predict the outcome of any such litigation. Such claims or litigation involving our current or former employees could divert our management's time and attention from our business operations and could potentially result in substantial costs of defense, settlement or other disposition, which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial position, and cash flows.

The risks included above are not exhaustive. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New risk factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for management to predict all such risk factors, nor can we assess the impact of known risk factors on our business or the extent to which any factor or combination of factors may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement.

Special Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Report on Form 10-K contains and incorporates by reference forward-looking statements within the meaning of that term in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (the 1995 Act).

Statements contained in this report that are not historical in nature are forward-looking statements made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the 1995 Act. These statements are included throughout this report, and in the documents incorporated by reference in this report, and relate to, among other things, projections of revenues, earnings, earnings per share, cash flows, capital expenditures, working capital or other financial items, output, expectations, or trends in revenues or expenses. These statements also relate to our business strategy, goals and expectations concerning our market position, future operations, margins, case volumes, profitability, contingencies, debt covenants, liquidity, and capital resources. The words anticipate , believe , could , would , should , estimate , expect , intend , may , plan , goal , strategy , pre similar terms and phrases identify forward-looking statements in this report and in the documents incorporated by reference in this report.

Additional written and oral forward-looking statements may be made by us from time to time in information provided to the Securities and Exchange Commission, press releases, our website, or otherwise.

Although we believe the assumptions upon which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of these assumptions could prove to be inaccurate and the forward-looking statements based on these assumptions could be incorrect. Our operations and the forward-looking statements related to our operations involve risks and uncertainties, many of which are outside our control, and any one of which, or a combination of which, could materially affect our results of operations and whether the forward-looking statements ultimately prove to be correct. Included among, but not limited to, the risks and uncertainties we face are declines in the volume of cases referred to us for many of our service lines associated with the property and casualty insurance industry, global economic conditions, interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates, regulations and practices of various governmental authorities, the competitive environment, the financial conditions of our clients, the performance of sublessors under certain subleases related to our leased properties, regulatory changes related to funding of defined benefit pension plans, the fact that our U.S. and U.K. defined benefit pension plans are significantly underfunded, changes in the degree to which property and casualty insurance carriers outsource their claims handling functions, changes in overall employment levels and associated workplace injury rates in the U.S., the ability to identify new revenue sources not tied to the insurance underwriting cycle, the ability to develop or acquire information technology resources to support and grow our business, the ability to attract and retain qualified personnel, renewal of existing major contracts with clients on satisfactory financial terms, general risks associated with doing business outside the U.S., our ability to comply with debt covenants, possible legislation or changes in market conditions that may curtail or limit growth in product liability and securities class actions, and man-made disasters and natural disasters. Therefore you should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements.

Table of Contents

Actual results and trends in the future may differ materially from those suggested or implied by the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made and we undertake no obligation to publicly update any of these forward-looking statements in light of new information or future events. All future written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to the Company or persons acting on behalf of the Company are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements made herein.

ITEM 1B. UNRESOLVED STAFF COMMENTS

None.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

As of December 31, 2007, the Registrant owns a building in Tucker, Georgia where part of its information technology facility is located and certain operations of the Registrant's U.S. Property & Casualty and Legal Settlement Administration segments. It also owns an office located in Kitchener, Ontario and an additional office location in Stockport, England, both of which are utilized by the Registrant's International Operations segment. As of December 31, 2007, the Registrant leased approximately 526 office locations under leases with remaining terms ranging from a few months to multiple years. The remainder of its office locations are occupied under various short-term rental arrangements.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In the normal course of the claims administration services business, the Registrant is named as a defendant in suits by insureds or claimants contesting decisions by the Registrant or its clients with respect to the settlement of claims. Additionally, clients of the Registrant have brought actions for indemnification on the basis of alleged negligence on the part of the Registrant, its agents or its employees in rendering service to clients. The majority of these claims are of the type covered by insurance maintained by the Registrant; however, the Registrant is self-insured for the deductibles under its various insurance coverages. In the opinion of the Registrant, adequate reserves have been provided for such self-insured risks.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to security holders for a vote during the fourth quarter of 2007.
