Dear Fellow Shareholder:

In a challenging market and economic environment during the fiscal year ended May 31, 2002, Putnam Managed High Yield Trust delivered slightly negative absolute returns at net asset value. As the year was marked by geopolitical turmoil and corporate accounting problems, Putnam's extensive research capabilities became an even more valuable asset to shareholders.

On the following pages, the report from your fund's management team will provide a full discussion of what has been driving the fund's performance as well as a view of prospects for the remainder of 2002.

You may notice as you read this report that we are now listing the team that manages your fund. We do this to reflect more accurately how your fund is managed as well as Putnam's firm belief in the value of team management. The names of the individuals who comprise the management team are shown at the end of management's discussion of performance.

We know that Putnam Investments values its relationship with you and its other shareholders and that it appreciates your loyalty and patience as your management team steers the fund through this period of market uncertainty.

Respectfully yours,

/S/ JOHN A. HILL

REPORT FROM FUND MANAGEMENT

This fund is managed by the Putnam Core Fixed-Income High-Yield Team

The fiscal year ended May 31, 2002, was marked by significant global turmoil, including the terrorist attacks in the United States on September 11. The U.S. economy experienced a significant slowdown, exacerbated by the events of September 11, although it began to show signs of recovery in the late fall and through the first quarter of

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-30D

2002. The high-yield market also evolved during the 12-month period, generating lackluster returns last summer, strong returns in the late fall, and then more moderately positive returns during the first five months of 2002.

While your fund's absolute return at net asset value for the period may not appear impressive on its own, it is important to realize that this result was well ahead of the average for closed-end high-yield funds tracked by Lipper over the same period. The fund's performance at market price reflects a change in investors' perception of the fund, possibly due to increased volatility in the high-yield market over the past several months. This change in perception caused the fund's return at market price to be lower than its return at net asset value. While the fund underperformed its benchmark, the CSFB High Yield Index, it is important to keep in mind that your fund's benchmark is not an investment vehicle. See the performance comparisons on page 7 for more information.

* HIGH-YIELD MARKET TURNED AROUND AFTER SEPTEMBER 11

In the past year, high-yield bonds have, to some degree, followed the volatile trends of the economy and the equity markets. During the summer of 2001, several high-yield sectors had solid performance, including cable television, broadcasting, gaming, chemicals, and automotive. The Federal Reserve Board's short-term interest-rate reductions that occurred throughout 2001 caused a dramatic steepening of the yield curve (meaning that the difference between short-term and long-term bond yields increased significantly). This was positive for the bond market in general and for high-yield bonds, but the latter continued to suffer from the woes of the telecommunications industry. Defaults and large price declines in the telecommunications sector plagued the high-yield market throughout the summer of 2001. Fortunately, the stronger-performing sectors helped offset those that lagged.

After September 11, high-yield bond prices fell sharply, as did those in practically every asset class and market sector except for the highest-quality bonds, short-term U.S. Treasuries. High-yield sectors such as airlines, gaming, lodging, and other travel-related industries all experienced undue price declines. In October and November, however, the high-yield market quickly turned around on reports of a recovering U.S. economy, positive news from the war in Afghanistan, and a resurgent stock market. High-yield returns for October and November were strong, even though the bond market generally was volatile, and the sector finished 2001 well ahead of the major equity indexes.

This year, high-yield performance has continued to follow the ups and downs of the stock market and the economy, but performance remained solidly in positive territory for the first five months of the year. As a result of the Enron scandal, credit quality and corporate financial health have become important in a way that has not been the case for many years. While the increased scrutiny has caused volatility in both the equity and high-yield markets in the short term, it should be a positive going forward. However, there may be further problematic events, such as the recent difficulties reported by Worldcom in June. This holding represented a fractional percentage of the fund's net assets. As a result of our research, most of the fund's Worldcom holdings were sold well before the scandal was reported.

Fund Profile

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust seeks high current income and the potential for capital appreciation by investing in high-yield bonds believed to have the potential for financial improvements and credit-rating upgrades. The fund is designed for investors seeking high income and capital appreciation, and who are willing to take on the added risk of investing in below-investment-grade securities.

* "FALLEN ANGELS" HAVE CHANGED THE HIGH-YIELD LANDSCAPE

In the past year, companies that previously had been high-grade bond issuers have entered the high-yield bond market. Many of these so-called "fallen angels" still have strong cash flow, significant assets that remain valuable, and the ability to generate consistent earnings. They have come upon hard times, but remain attractive because of their liquidity and their potential for higher returns.

At Putnam, we are fortunate to have a large fixed-income department with a sizeable group of analysts on the investment-grade side who know these companies well. This is a distinct advantage for Putnam over many of our peers. Through our Knowledge Management initiative, in which we regularly share information across different investing groups, we are able to quickly gather valuable analytical insights from the investment-grade bond analysts within our firm.

* MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES PRODUCED STRONG RELATIVE PERFORMANCE

Going into September 2001, the fund was positioned defensively, which helped when the market declined in the wake of September 11. We had improved the credit quality among the holdings throughout 2000 and into 2001, adding more BB-rated bonds. In addition, the fund was well diversified across a range of industries outside telecommunications. Our reduction of holdings in the telecommunications industry -- particularly wireline companies (as opposed to wireless) -- was particularly helpful in boosting the fund's relative performance, especially during the month of September. These reductions were difficult to achieve, given the significance of the telecom industry in the high-yield market and the extent of the former's collapse.

In October and November of 2001, we increased the fund's weightings in some of the beaten-down sectors, such as media, cable, broadcasting, airlines, gaming, and lodging. This contrarian strategy paid off, as the bonds in these sectors have seen solid performance since we acquired them. The market in the weeks after September 11 was extremely bearish, but we were not as pessimistic as many other investors were at the time. For example, bonds that we acquired in the broadcasting industry have benefited from higher-than-expected advertising revenues, as well as a more favorable regulatory climate that has allowed companies to expand.

The gaming and lodging industries also benefited from the post-September 11 environment. Understandably, people were much less willing to travel after the events of September 11, but there was a somewhat irrational belief that travel and hotel occupancy would decline much more than it actually did. As a result, our holdings in these sectors, acquired in October and November, performed well when travel and hotel use recovered more quickly than had been anticipated.

* LOWER MARKET YIELDS, DEFAULTS LED TO DIVIDEND REDUCTION

During the past 12 months, the fund's dividend was reduced for several reasons. Market yields have come down significantly in the past year and a half. In addition, your fund's managers have been replacing poor-performing telecommunications bonds with higher-quality bonds, which typically have lower yields. Finally, some bonds in the fund have defaulted, and when a bond defaults its income is eliminated. As a result of these factors, the fund did not earn its dividend for the entire fiscal year; therefore, the fund had a non-taxable return of capital to shareholders as part of its distributions (see page 37 for details).

* OUTLOOK REMAINS POSITIVE FOR HIGH-YIELD BONDS

There are several reasons to remain optimistic about high-yield bonds going forward. First, it appears default rates have peaked, which is positive because it should signal a generally improving market environment. Second, technical factors are quite positive. Money has flowed into the market from both individual and institutional investors, with several billion dollars invested in high-yield bonds already in 2002. Third, the yield curve is still steep, with short-term rates at a 40-year low. This gives investors incentive to take on more risk in order to receive higher yields. Finally, after several years of focusing solely on growth, the renewed emphasis on reducing debt should result in higher credit quality.

These holdings represent 9.1% of the fund's net assets as of 5/31/02.
Portfolio holdings will vary over time.

There are risks, as always. First, the Federal Reserve Board will eventually begin raising short-term interest rates. We believe that this will happen later than many are expecting (perhaps as late as 2003), and that when the Fed does begin to raise rates, the increases will probably be larger and will occur at regular intervals. Secondly, while the impact of September 11 has receded significantly from an economic and market psychology standpoint, corporate accounting scandals and geopolitical events are still having a dampening effect on the equity markets, which does influence high-yield bonds peripherally. We remain acutely aware of these and other risks, and will continue to make adjustments to your fund as are warranted by changes in the market and economic environment.

The views expressed here are exclusively those of Putnam Management. They are not meant as investment advice. Although the described holdings were viewed favorably as of 5/31/02, there is no guarantee the fund will continue to hold these securities in the future. Lower-rated bonds may offer higher yields in return for more risk.

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

Total return shows how the value of the fund's shares changed over time, assuming you held the shares through the entire period and reinvested all distributions in the fund.

Net asset value (NAV) is the value of all your fund's assets, minus any liabilities, divided by the number of outstanding common shares.

Market price is the current trading price of one share of the fund. Market prices are set by transactions between buyers and sellers on the New York Stock Exchange.

COMPARATIVE BENCHMARKS

Consumer price index (CPI) is a commonly used measure of inflation; it does not represent an investment return.

Credit Suisse First Boston (CSFB) High Yield Index is an unmanaged list of lower-rated higher-yielding U.S. corporate bonds. It assumes reinvestment of all distributions and interest payments and does not take into account brokerage fees or taxes. Securities in the fund do not match those in the index and performance of the fund will differ. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Lipper Inc. is a third-party industry ranking entity that ranks funds (without sales charges) with similar current investment styles or objectives as determined by Lipper.

A GUIDE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These sections of the report, as well as the accompanying Notes, preceded by the Report of independent accountants, constitute the fund's financial statements.

The fund's portfolio lists all the fund's investments and their values as of the last day of the reporting period. Holdings are organized by asset type and industry sector, country, or state to show areas of concentration and diversification.

Statement of assets and liabilities shows how the fund's net assets and share price are determined. All investment and noninvestment assets are added together. Any unpaid expenses and other liabilities are subtracted from this total. The result is divided by the number of shares to determine the net asset value per share, which is calculated separately for each class of shares. (For funds with preferred shares, the amount subtracted from total assets includes the net assets allocated to remarketed preferred shares.)

Statement of operations shows the fund's net investment gain or loss. This is done by first adding up all the fund's earnings -- from dividends and interest income -- and subtracting its operating expenses to determine net investment income (or loss). Then, any net gain or loss the fund realized on the sales of its holdings -- as well as any unrealized gains or losses over the period -- is added to or subtracted from the net investment result to determine the fund's net gain or loss for the fiscal year.

Statement of changes in net assets shows how the fund's net assets were affected by distributions to shareholders and by changes in the number of the fund's shares. It lists distributions and their sources (net investment income or realized capital gains) over the current reporting period and the most recent fiscal year-end. The distributions listed here may not match the sources listed in the Statement of operations because the distributions are determined on a tax basis and may be paid in a different period from the one in which they were earned.

Financial highlights provide an overview of the fund's investment results, per-share distributions, expense ratios, net investment income ratios, and portfolio turnover in one summary table, reflecting the five most recent reporting periods. In a semiannual report, the highlight table also includes the current reporting period. For open-end funds, a separate table is provided for each share class.

Note 1

Significant accounting policies

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The fund's investment objective is to seek high current income. The fund intends to achieve its objective by investing in high yielding income securities.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Investments for which market quotations are readily available are stated at market value, which is determined using the last reported sales price on its principal exchange, or if no sales are reported -- as in the case of some securities traded over-the-counter -- the last reported bid price. Securities quoted in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the current exchange rate. Short-term investments having remaining maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Other investments, including restricted securities, are stated at fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees. Market quotations are not considered to be readily available for certain debt obligations; such investments are stated at fair value on the basis of valuations furnished by an independent pricing service or dealers, approved by the Trustees, which determine valuations for normal institutional-size trading units of such securities using methods based on market transactions for comparable securities and variable relationships, generally recognized by institutional traders, between securities.

B) Joint trading account The fund may transfer uninvested cash balances, including cash collateral received under security lending arrangements, into a joint trading account along with the cash of other registered investment companies and certain other accounts managed by Putnam Investment Management, LLC ("Putnam Management"), the fund's manager, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. These balances may be invested in issuers of high-grade short-term investments having maturities of up to 397 days for collateral received under security lending arrangements and up to 90 days for other cash investments.

C) Repurchase agreements The fund, or any joint trading account, through its custodian, receives delivery of the underlying securities, the market value of which at the time of purchase is required to be in an amount at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest. Collateral for certain tri-party repurchase agreements is held at the counterparty's custodian in a segregated account for the benefit of the fund and the counterparty. Putnam Management is responsible for determining that the value of these underlying securities is at all times at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest.

D) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Gains or losses on securities sold are determined on the identified cost basis.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Non-cash dividends, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of the securities received. All premiums/discounts are amortized/accreted on a yield-to-maturity basis.

E) Foreign currency translation The accounting records of the fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. The market value of foreign securities, currency holdings, and other assets and liabilities are recorded in the books and records of the fund after translation to U.S. dollars based on the exchange rates on that day. The cost of each security is determined using historical exchange rates. Income and withholding taxes are translated at prevailing exchange rates when accrued or incurred. The fund does not isolate that portion of realized or unrealized gains or losses resulting from changes in the foreign exchange rate on investments from fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities. Such gains and losses are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments. Net realized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net realized exchange gains or losses on closed forward currency contracts, disposition of foreign currencies and the difference between the amount of investment income and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation and depreciation of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies arise from changes in the value of open forward currency contracts and assets and liabilities other than investments at the period end, resulting from changes in the exchange rate. Investments in foreign securities involve certain risks, including those related to economic instability, unfavorable political developments, and currency fluctuations, not present with domestic investments.

F) Futures and options contracts The fund may use futures and options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of securities the fund owns or expects to purchase. The fund may also write options on securities it owns or in which it may invest to increase its current returns.

The potential risk to the fund is the change in value of futures and options contracts may not correspond to the change in value of the hedged instruments. In addition, losses may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments, if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts, or if the counterparty to the contract is unable to perform. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. Realized gains and losses on purchased options are included in realized gains and losses on investment securities.

Futures contracts are valued at the quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. The Fund agrees to receive from or pay to the broker an amount of cash equal to the daily fluctuation in the value of the futures contract. Such receipts or payments are known as "variation margin." Exchange traded options are valued at the last sale price, or if no sales are reported, the last bid price for purchased options and the last ask price for written options. Options traded over-the-counter are valued using prices supplied by dealers.

G) Security lending The fund may lend securities, through its agent Citibank N.A., to qualified borrowers in order to earn additional income. The loans are collateralized by cash and/or securities in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities loaned. The market value of securities loaned is determined daily and any additional required collateral is allocated to the fund on the next business day. The risk of borrower default will be borne by Citibank N.A., the fund will bear the risk of loss with respect to the investment of the cash collateral. Income from securities lending is included in investment income on the Statement of operations. At May 31, 2002, the value of securities loaned amounted to $3,211. The fund received cash collateral of $3,655, which is pooled with collateral of other Putnam funds into 40 issuers of high-grade short-term investments.

H) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its taxable income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section 4982 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains.

At May 31, 2002, the fund had a capital loss carryover of approximately $18,916,000 available to the extent allowed by tax law to offset future capital gains, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

Loss Carryover	Expiration
$2,584,000	May 31, 2007
4,168,000	May 31, 2008
3,778,000	May 31, 2009
8,386,000	May 31, 2010

I) Distributions to shareholders Distributions to shareholders from net investment income are recorded by the fund on the ex-dividend date. Distributions from capital gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These differences include temporary and permanent differences of losses on wash sale transactions, foreign currency gains and losses, post-October loss deferrals, defaulted bond interest, market discount and interest on payment-in-kind securities. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations. For the year ended May 31, 2002, the fund reclassified $107,544 to increase distributions in excess of net investment income and $67,014 to increase paid-in-capital, with a decrease to accumulated net realized losses of $40,530. As of May 31, 2002, there was no undistributed ordinary income on a tax basis.

Note 2

Management fee, administrative services and other transactions

Compensation of Putnam Management, for management and investment advisory services is paid quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund. Such fee is based on the following annual rates: 0.75% of the first $500 million of the average weekly net assets, 0.65% of the next $500 million, 0.60% of the next $500 million and 0.55% thereafter.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-30D

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company (PFTC), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. Investor servicing agent functions are provided by Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC.

The fund has entered into an arrangement with PFTC whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the fund's expenses. For the year ended May 31, 2002, the fund's expenses were reduced by $1,636 under these arrangements.

Each independent Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $473 has been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustees meeting attended. Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees Fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as a Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Compensation of Trustees in the Statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for compensation of Trustees in the Statement of assets and liabilities.

Purchases and sales of securities

During the year ended May 31, 2002, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities other than U.S. government obligations and short-term investments aggregated $45,664,290 and $49,134,822, respectively. There were no purchases and sales of U.S. government obligations.

Written option transactions during the year are summarized as follows:

	Contract Amounts	Premiums Received
Written options outstanding at beginning of year	$ --	$ --
Options opened	1,990,000	349,613
Options closed	(1,000,000)	(179,620)
Written options outstanding at end of year	$ 990,000	$ 169,993

Note 4

New accounting pronouncement

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-30D

As required, the fund has adopted the provisions of the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, Audits of Investment Companies. This Guide requires that the fund amortize premiums and accrete discounts on all fixed-income securities, and classify as interest income gains and losses realized on paydowns on mortgage-backed securities. Prior to June 1, 2001, the fund did not amortize premiums for certain fixed-income securities. Adopting these accounting principles did not affect the fund's net asset value, but did change the classification of certain amounts between interest income and realized and unrealized gain/loss in the Statement of operations. The adoption of this principle was not material to the financial statements.

FEDERAL TAX INFORMATION
(Unaudited)

The Form 1099 you receive in January 2003 will show the tax status of all distributions paid to your account in calendar 2002.

For the year ended May 31, 2002, a portion of the fund's distribution represents a return of capital and is therefore not taxable to shareholders.

The fund has designated 1.49% of the distributions from net investment income as qualifying for the dividends received deduction for corporations.
