PRESS RELEASE

Milan, 13 April 2010

With reference to reports published today by an important newspaper, at the request of Consob, Telecom Italia clarifies that it was already informed that Carlo Buora, former executive officer of the company, and Roberto Moro, Head of the Tax Department, were the subjects of two penal proceedings regarding the crime of unfaithful statements concerning VAT and income declaration (ex art. 4 of legislative decree n. 74/2000). These cases do not entail administrative liability for a corporation under the legislative decree n. 231/2001 and therefore Telecom Italia is not involved in the above mentioned proceedings.

With regards to the fiscal issues, the first proceeding regards the objections concerning extraordinary operations carried out in the 2002-2007 period on the merger of Telecom Italia into Olivetti and the sale of Seat Pagine Gialle, as well as the deductibility of some expense items concerning the Security costs, with reference to which the Company and the Revenue Agency reached an agreement in December 2008, before the case was brought to court, on the basis of the tax conciliation procedure at a cost to the Company of about euro 186 million as reported in the notes to the 2008 financial report.

The second proceeding (brought by the Rome Public Prosecutors Office in 2008 and then sent to the Milan Public Prosecutors Office) regards VAT reversal procedure for transactions undertaken with defaulting parties. The correctness of this procedure (introduced in 1995 on the basis of authoritative advice) had already been verified by the Revenue Agency, without criticisms, in 2002.

Cautionary Statement for Purposes of the "Safe Harbor" Provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a "safe harbor" for forward - looking statements. The press release included in this Form 6-K contains certain forward -looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements that are not historical facts and can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as "believes," "may," "is expected to," "will," "will continue," "should," "seeks" or "anticipates" or similar expressions or the negative thereof or other comparable terminology, or by the forward- looking nature of discussions of strategy, plans or intentions.

Actual results may differ materially from those projected or implied in the forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking information is based on certain key assumptions which we believe to be reasonable but forward-looking information by its nature involves risks and uncertainties, which are outside our control, that could significantly affect expected results.

The following important factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from those projected or implied in any forward-looking statements:

1. the continuing impact of increased competition in a liberalized market, including competition from established domestic competitors and global and regional alliances formed by other telecommunications operators in our core Italian domestic fixed-line and wireless markets;
2. our ability to restructure our organizational model from one based on technology (fixed and mobile) to one based on customer segments (consumers, SOHOs, SMEs, Corporates) in order to focus on customers and their needs in utilizing our products and services;
3. our ability to utilize our relationship with Telefónica to attain synergies primarily in areas such as network, IT, purchasing, sales activities in Germany and international mobile roaming;
4. our ability to introduce new services to stimulate increased usage of our fixed and wireless networks to offset declines in the traditional fixed-line voice business due to the continuing impact of regulatory required price reductions, market share loss, pricing pressures generally and shifts in usage patterns;

5. our ability to successfully implement our internet and broadband strategy both in Italy and abroad;

6. our ability to successfully achieve our debt reduction targets;

7. the impact of regulatory decisions and changes in the regulatory environment in Italy and other countries in which we operate;

8. the impact of economic development generally on our international business and on our foreign investments and capital expenditures;

9. our services are technology-intensive and the development of new technologies could render such services non-competitive;

10. the impact of political and economic developments in Italy and other countries in which we operate;

11. the impact of fluctuations in currency exchange and interest rates;

12. our ability to successfully implement our strategy over the 2010-2012 period;

13. our ability to build up our business in adjacent markets (pay-TV and IT services) and in international markets (particularly Brazil in mobile telecommunications and Europe-Germany-in BroadBand), due to our specialist and technical resources;

14. our ability to achieve the expected return on the investments and capital expenditures we have made and continue to make in Brazil on mobile and in Europe on BroadBand;

15. the amount and timing of any future impairment charges for our licenses, goodwill or other assets; and 16. the outcome of litigation, disputes and investigations in which we are involved or may become involved.

The foregoing factors should not be construed as exhaustive. Due to such uncertainties and risks, readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date hereof. We undertake no obligation to release publicly the result of any revisions to these forward-looking statements which may be made to reflect events or circumstances after the date hereof, including, without limitation, changes in our business or acquisition strategy or planned capital expenditures, or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.
