To Our Valued Customers and Partners,

Today, August 4th, Ascential announced that it has signed a definitive agreement to acquire Mercator Software, Inc. Although regulatory approvals and the tender of shares by Mercator shareholders are still pending, we expect that the tender offer will close by the end of the third quarter, 2003.

This is a strategic, growth-oriented acquisition that combines two companies with complementary products, distribution channels, strategic alliances, and geographic presence. Ascential has entered into this agreement with one goal in mind: to strengthen our company and deliver greater value to our customers, partners, employees and shareholders.

Combination Creates a Strong Category Leader for Your Critical Data Integration Needs

With the acquisition of Mercator, Ascential becomes the largest independent enterprise data integration software company with more than 3,000 customers, 900 employees, offices across the globe, and annualized revenues of approximately $250 million.

This transaction is expected to greatly enhance our powerful data integration capabilities:

- Creates the industry's first and most comprehensive enterprise data integration product set to support the full spectrum of transactional, operational, and analytical requirements, regardless of data volumes or latency

- Extends and deepens Ascential Software's resources for technology innovation, customer value and global reach

- Adds solutions, expertise, customers and partners in key vertical markets including: finance, healthcare, retail, manufacturing, and distribution

- Elevates the visibility and strategic importance of Ascential Software within the enterprise IT community

- Leverage's Ascential's business model by accelerating profitability and growth, providing accretion to earnings while retaining substantial financial resources

Ascential Customers and Partners Will Greatly Benefit From the Combined Companies

Through the addition of new technologies, deep domain expertise and skill sets, and an expanded global sales, services and customer care operation, the combined company should allow customers to apply our comprehensive data integration platform pervasively, throughout their enterprise, regardless of data volumes or latency. The acquisition is expected to benefit our customers in the following ways:

- Enhanced Product Innovation Now and In the Future this transaction significantly strengthens and protects your product and resource investment in Ascential technologies and solutions. With this combination, Ascential customers and partners benefit from an expanded offering that includes transaction-oriented data transformations and routing, new industry standard adaptors, and industry-ready solutions.

- Expanded Global Services and Delivery In addition to Mercator's technology, Ascential is also gaining highly skilled employees, with deep domain expertise, that extends and deepens Ascential Software's resources for technology innovation, customer value and global reach. Ascential customers now have access to an organization with the ability to deploy large scale, mission critical, data integration solutions backed by comprehensive global sales, service and support organizations.

Proven Integration Capabilities and Resources Ascential has a very successful acquisition track record of integrating and enhancing complementary technologies into market leading end-to-end integration solutions with tangible ROI. With the acquisition of Mercator, Ascential's complementary cross platform capabilities reduce the on-going time and expense of piecing together, and separately maintaining, different vendor's technologies to achieve the same solution.

Your Ascential sales, service or partner contact is available to answer your questions on this transaction and to assist you in any way possible during the transition. We can speak for our employees by telling you how excited they are with this new opportunity, because we believe this agreement greatly enhances our ability to compete and service our customers in the world-class fashion we are accustomed to providing. You can also learn more about Ascential and view the press release on the acquisition by logging onto www.Ascential.com.

In closing, let us personally thank you for your ongoing investments in, and support of, Ascential. We remain firmly committed to your success and to delivering leading-edge integration products and services.

Regards,

Pete Fiore
