PROPOSAL NO. 2

RATIFICATION OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC) has served as the independent registered public accounting firm for RTI and its predecessors for a number of years. For 2007, PwC rendered professional services in connection with the audit of the financial statements of RTI and its subsidiaries, including review of quarterly reports and review of filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and provided tax services. They are knowledgeable about RTI 's operations and accounting practices and are well qualified to act as the independent registered public accounting firm, and the Audit Committee has selected PwC as such for 2008.

Audit Fees

The aggregate fees billed for professional services rendered by PwC for the audit of RTI 's annual financial statements and review of financial statements in RTI 's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q in 2007 and 2006 were $2,117,053 and $2,625,074, respectively.

Audit-Related Fees

The aggregate fees billed for assurance and related services rendered by PwC that were related to the services described above in 2007 and 2006 were $9,000 and $12,000, respectively. These services include agreed upon procedures related to compliance requirements.

Tax Fees

The aggregate fees billed for services rendered by PwC for tax services in 2007 and 2006 were $55,101 and $103,700, respectively. The services comprising these fees include federal and state tax return compliance, international tax consulting projects and assistance with new tax pronouncements.

All Other Fees

Other than fees disclosed above, there was $2,400 related to licensing fees in each of 2007 and 2006.

The Audit Committee on an annual basis preapproves the Audit Plan for the year along with the estimated fees for the plan. At each regularly scheduled, quarterly meeting, the Audit Plan and fees incurred to date are reviewed, and any fees above the estimate are reviewed and approved or disapproved at the meeting. In addition, the Chairman of the Audit Committee has been delegated authority by the full Committee to preapprove additional audit and non-audit fees between meetings, subject to review by the full Committee at the next regularly scheduled meeting. For 2007 and 2006, 100% of PwC 's fees were preapproved.

Representatives of PwC will be present at the Annual Meeting, will have an opportunity to make a statement if they desire to do so and will be available to respond to appropriate questions.

Vote Required

Ratification of the appointment of the independent registered public accounting firm requires the favorable vote of a majority of the votes cast. Each share of RTI 's Common Stock is entitled to one vote per share and only votes for or against the proposal count. Abstentions and broker non-votes do not count for voting purposes. Broker non-votes occur when a broker returns a proxy but does not have authority from the beneficial owner to vote on a particular proposal.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Audit Committee Report

The Committee met with management, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, and representatives of the Internal Audit group (which is outsourced to Ernst & Young LLP) frequently throughout the year to review and consider the adequacy of RTI's internal control over financial reporting and the objectivity of its financial reporting, including compliance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. We also discussed with RTI's management and PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP the process used for certifications by RTI's chief executive officer and principal financial officer that are required for certain of RTI's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We have reviewed and discussed RTI's 2007 audited financial statements with management and with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP. The Committee also discussed with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP the matters required to be communicated by Statement on Auditing Standards (SAS) No. 61 as amended by SAS No. 90 (Communications With Audit Committees).

In addition, the Committee received from PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP the written disclosures required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 and discussed with them their independence from RTI and its management. We have considered whether the provision by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP of the professional services described above was compatible with the maintenance by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP of its independent status and have determined that it was.

Based on these reviews and discussions, we recommended to RTI's Board of Directors, and the Board has approved, that the Audited Financial Statements be included in RTI's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

A. Overview and Pay Philosophy

For the 2007 executive compensation detailed in the tables that follow this discussion and analysis, our Board of Directors empowered the Compensation Committee (the Committee or the Compensation Committee) to discharge the Board's duties concerning executive compensation and advise the Board on the Company's compensation philosophy, programs, and objectives. Specifically, the Committee makes decisions regarding compensation of our named executive officers in accordance with the Committee's Charter and in accordance with the Company's compensation philosophy. The Committee is responsible for the review and approval of the Company's compensation philosophy including executive compensation programs, plans and awards; policies, principles and procedures for the selection of performance objectives of the CEO and other named executive officers; and for establishing compensation levels for the CEO and other named executive officers based on the Committee's evaluation of performance. The Committee also administers RTI's stock-based compensation plans (including the shareholder-approved 2004 Stock Plan) through which long-term incentive compensation awards are granted to our named executive officers and other managers and employees.

Consistent with the Committee's mandate, RTI has adopted a comprehensive statement entitled Pay Philosophy and Guiding Principles Governing Officer Compensation (the Pay Philosophy). The Pay Philosophy covering 2007 was amended to provide for performance-based long-term equity incentive awards in addition to the stock options and time-based restricted stock awards that we have used historically. We also made the Pay Philosophy applicable to the new executive officer positions created in connection with our management succession plan that became effective in April 2007. As such, the Pay Philosophy is applicable to RTI's Vice Chairman & Chief Executive Officer, President & Chief Operating Officer, Executive Vice Presidents, Senior Vice Presidents and Vice Presidents.

The overall philosophy related to our officer compensation programs set out in the Pay Philosophy is as follows:

To promote achievement of the Company's business objectives and reinforce its strategies;

To align the interests of the Company's officers with those of its shareholders; and

To provide pay that is externally competitive and internally equitable.

The Pay Philosophy is designed to reward executive performance on both an individual basis and as a team as follows:

To recognize the efforts of the executive team in their performance against identified quantitative and qualitative objectives for the Company;

To provide compensation awards based on individual performance against quantitative and qualitative personal objectives; and

To allow for significant rewards for exceptional performance.

B. Elements of Named Executive Officer Compensation

The Company's comprehensive compensation program consists of the following elements for our named executive officers:

Salary: Executive salary addresses current compensation and is paid to attract and retain qualified personnel and to provide a guaranteed level of income regardless of performance as well as recognition of consistent excellent performance over a number of years. An individual's salary may fall anywhere in a pre-determined range, the midpoint of which for each position will be maintained near the median of that for similar positions at appropriate comparator companies with a maximum near the seventy-fifth percentile of the comparator group. However, individual salaries and salary adjustments will reflect a variety of factors including relevant experience, time in position, and individual performance as measured by the executive's annual performance review.

Bonuses: The major role of annual incentive compensation (i.e., annual bonuses) is to motivate officers through the recognition of attainment of specific key short-term objectives and/or other strategic milestones or operational goals. The bonus award opportunity guidelines set forth in the Pay Philosophy call for annual bonuses for target performance to be established near the median of that for similar positions at appropriate comparator companies.

No bonus will be paid to an officer whose performance is judged to be unacceptable regardless of the level of corporate performance. Likewise, the Compensation Committee may, in order to retain valued executives, pay bonuses to recognize exceptional individual performance regardless of the level of corporate performance.

Long-term Incentives: Long-term incentive awards are designed specifically to reward increases in shareholder wealth as measured by improvement in earnings per share and the price of the Company's common stock. Long-term incentive grants are currently made pursuant to the Company's 2004 Stock Plan and may be made in a combination of stock (which, under the plan, may be awards of restricted shares, performance shares, phantom stock or non-restricted shares) and stock options. Historically it had been the Company's practice to utilize a mix of stock options and restricted share awards, each vesting over time. Stock options align management's interest with that of shareholders and have value only if the stock price increases over time. Our stock options are granted at fair market value on the date of grant and vest ratably over three years. As many companies moved away from the reliance on stock options, due in part to the evolution of regulatory, tax and accounting treatments, restricted share awards became more prevalent. Because it is important to us to provide compensation that is externally competitive and to retain our executive officers, we utilize restricted share awards that vest ratably over five years.

In January 2008, when determining the grants of long-term incentives based upon 2007 performance, the Compensation Committee instituted a change in our philosophy for long-term incentives by introducing performance-based awards to be implemented over a transition year. The Committee determined that long-term incentives that are in part based upon the future performance of the Company rather than being entirely time based will more closely align the compensation of our executives with the interests of our shareholders. Generally, our executives who are granted performance awards will earn shares of our common stock in amounts ranging from 0% to 200% of a target number of shares based upon the total shareholder return (TSR) of RTI as compared to our peers over a pre-determined performance period. For years after this transition year the Committee intends that approximately 40% of the long-term incentives should be in the form of performance share awards for all the named executives. Performance share awards granted after this transition year are expected to have a three-year performance period. The remaining long-term incentives after this year are anticipated to be split approximately 40% time-based restricted shares and 20% stock options for our CEO and COO with a slightly higher percentage of options (and correlating decrease in restricted shares) for our other named executives.

The Committee recognizes that while performance share awards more closely align incentive compensation with the interests of our shareholders, from the executives' point of view, performance-based awards contain additional risk. Specifically, if RTI does not produce a TSR at the minimum specified levels during the performance period, the executive will not receive any shares of our common stock while, in contrast, if the executive had received restricted shares that vest over time, he or she would have received the shares regardless of the future performance of the Company so long as the executive continued to be employed. The long-term incentives granted in January 2008 were based upon the performance of the named executives and RTI during 2007 with certain transition year adjustments. The executives performed in 2007 in part because they believed that they were eligible to receive the time based long-term incentives if they and the Company met their objectives. As a result the Committee decided to transition the shift to performance awards for this year only by increasing the total mix of incentive awards granted, increasing the target amount of the long-term incentives as a percentage of salary and reducing the performance period for the performance award component to two years.

Although the Company has not imposed strict stock ownership guidelines for management, the Board of Directors expects our named executive officers to continue to align their interests with that of our shareholders through long-term holdings in our common stock.

Health and Welfare Benefits: We provide certain health and welfare benefits to our named executive officers which are not tied to any individual or corporate performance objectives and are intended to be part of an overall competitive compensation program. Our named executive officers participate in these plans on the same terms as other eligible employees, subject to any regulatory limits on amounts that may be contributed by or paid to the named executive officers under such health and welfare plans.

Perquisites: Our named executive officers and other senior managers are provided certain perquisites that we believe are competitive and consistent with our compensation philosophy. Our principal perquisite programs are tax preparation and financial planning advice, use of a Company automobile or automobile allowance, certain business-related club memberships, and annual executive medical exams. Perquisites are discussed in greater detail in the footnotes to and narrative disclosure following the Summary Compensation Table.

Post-Employment Compensatory Arrangements:

- Pension Plan. We have a qualified defined benefit plan that covers each of our current named executive officers except for Mr. Wellham and Mr. Whalen. The benefits are based on a formula which includes a percentage of the participant's average monthly base salary multiplied by continuous years of service. See Retirement Benefits following for a description of our defined benefit plan.
- Supplemental Pension Program. Our named executive officers also participate in the Supplemental Pension Program, a non-qualified defined benefit plan. It entitles the executives to specified annual benefits based upon average annual bonuses and years of service if they retire after age 60 or prior to age 60 with 30 years of service with RTI's consent. See Retirement Benefits following for a description of our supplemental pension program.
- 401(k) Plan. We maintain a 401(k) defined contribution plan in which the Company contributes 50% of the first 8% of an executive's base salary and bonus contributed by the executive, subject to applicable Internal Revenue Code limits, for Mr. Wellham and Mr. Whalen as they do not participate in the defined benefit pension plan. Other named executive officers may participate in the 401(k) plan up to applicable Internal Revenue Code limits but the Company does not match their contributions.
- Change in Control Severance Policy. Each named executive officer is eligible to participate in our executive change in control severance policy that entitles the CEO to a benefit equal to 2.5 times her annual base salary and bonus and each other named executive officer to a benefit equal to 2 times their annual base salary and bonus, in each case if the executive's employment with the Company is terminated by the Company other than for cause, death or disability, or by the executive for good reason within 24 months after a change in control of the Company. Also, upon such event the executives will be entitled to accelerated vesting of previously unvested stock-based long-term incentive awards, the continuation of life, disability and health insurance benefits for a specified period, and a gross-up payment in certain circumstances if the executive is subject to excise taxes because of these provisions.

- Non-Change in Control Severance Policy. Each named executive officer is also eligible to participate in our executive non-change in control severance policy. It entitles the named executive officers to certain severance benefits in the event that the Company terminates the executive's employment other than for cause, death or disability outside of the context of a change of control, or if the Company breaches the executive's employment agreement in certain circumstances or if the Company reduces the executive's base salary without the executive's consent. In such event, the CEO will be entitled to a benefit equal to 2 times her annual base salary and bonus, the COO will be entitled to 1.5 times his annual base salary and bonus and each other named executive officer will be entitled to a benefit equal to 1 times their annual base salary and bonus. Participants are also entitled to the continuation of life, disability and health insurance benefits for a specified period.

C. Overview of the Decision Making Process

In furtherance of our management succession plan that was put into effect in April 2007, the Compensation Committee hired Towers Perrin, a national benefits consulting firm, to review the Company's executive compensation generally, and to give specific advice on the compensation of the Company's executive officers. Considering this advice, the Company entered into new employment contracts with each of Ms. Hickton, Mr. Wellham, Mr. Hull and Mr. Giangiorano effective on April 27, 2007, with Mr. Whalen effective February 23, 2007 and with Mr. Strome in November 19, 2007 (who is an executive officer, but for 2007 was not a named executive officer). The initial salaries and incentive targets for each named executive officer as reflected in the employment contracts are discussed below under the heading Analysis of Compensation Awards for Our NEOs.

In making determinations as to the compensation for the named executive officers for the different elements of the compensation program, the Committee looks at each of the following considerations:

Variability: A large portion of total compensation will be based upon Company performance, recognizing the highly cyclical nature of the Company's business. While salaries will generally be maintained at competitive levels, the major opportunities for significant upward shifts in total compensation will be provided through short-term and long-term incentive programs.

Clarity: Performance objectives for short-term and long-term incentive programs will be clearly articulated to executives. The objectives will be predetermined in the beginning of a determination period, which occurred when our executives took over their new positions in 2007 for the year ending 2007, and in January of 2008 for the current year. However, if deemed appropriate by the Company's Board, after-the-fact discretionary judgment will be applied.

Communicability: Officers are made aware of and fully understand their earnings potential for a given year and what specific actions and results are needed to achieve these earnings.

Strategic Emphasis: The Company's compensation program emphasizes variable components over guaranteed fixed components of compensation. For 2007, the approximate proportion of total direct compensation to be represented by salary, short-term (bonus) and long-term incentives assuming both short-term and long-term incentives are paid at target levels by classes of officer as follows:

- Vice Chairman & CEO 35% salary, 20% bonus and 45% long-term incentives.

- ° President & COO 35% salary, 20% bonus and 45% long-term incentives.
- ° Executive Vice Presidents 40% salary, 20% bonus and 40% long-term incentives.
- ° Senior Vice Presidents 40% salary, 20% bonus and 40% long-term incentives.
- ° Vice Presidents 45% salary, 15% bonus and 40% long-term incentives.

Table of Contents

The Pay Philosophy provides that RTI's officers compensation should generally range at about the average or median of the remuneration paid by the Company's comparator group when aspects of performance are at target levels.

Upon her appointment as CEO, with input from the individual executives as well as the Chairman of the Board of Directors, Ms. Hickton established specific performance-based objectives for each member of the executive team, based upon various factors including the immediate past performance of the Company and its reporting segments, the projected market conditions in the industry, and the short- and long-term strategic plan of the Company as established by the Board. Each performance-based objective is reviewed by the Compensation Committee. At the same time, and using the same general factors, the Compensation Committee and the Chairman of the Board established specific performance-based objectives for Ms. Hickton.

The Compensation Committee met in October and agreed to introduce performance-based long-term incentive awards for 2007 to enhance the link between compensation and objectively measurable performance of the Company.

In November, the CEO began to review the performance of the named executive officers, other than herself, for the purpose of setting base salary for the following year and bonus and incentive compensation for the year then ending. She reviewed the RTI stock price during the year; the Company and each business unit's performance with respect to income before tax, cash flow return on invested capital, return on equity and return of assets (all determined in accordance with Company accounting policy) as compared to the Company's annual and six month business plans; and individual performance for each of the named executive officers as compared against the specific objectives set earlier in the year, and discussed these factors with the Chairman of the Board. Using this information, with input from the Chairman of the Board, and basic information regarding trends in executive salaries in the manufacturing industry and the understanding that performance-based awards would be introduced, the CEO made recommendations as to the compensation of the other named executive officers. The recommendations, along with tally sheets summarizing each executive's current compensation and aggregate stock holdings and benefits were distributed to the Compensation Committee in January. The overall purpose of the tally sheets is to bring together, in one place, all the elements of compensation so that the Committee may analyze both the individual elements of compensation (including the compensation mix) as well as total compensation.

The Committee reviewed the recommendations of the CEO with respect to the other executive officers and then, with the assistance of the Chairman of the Board, reviewed the performance of the CEO in the same manner that the CEO evaluated the other executive officers. The Committee then made the final determination as to base salaries for the new year and any bonus and incentive compensation for the immediate past year's performance based upon each individual's status and performance, in each case consistent with the Pay Philosophy set forth above. Awards of long-term, equity-based compensation were granted by the Committee at this January meeting and the compensation of the named executive officers was ratified by the Board of Directors.

Tax Considerations

The Committee considers the impact of the applicable tax laws with respect to executive compensation. In certain circumstances, applicable tax laws impose potential penalties on compensation or result in a loss of deduction to RTI for such compensation.

Participation in and compensation paid under our plans, contracts and compensation arrangements may result in the deferral of compensation that is subject to the requirements of Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code. While we intend for our plans, contracts and compensation arrangements to be structured and administered in a manner that complies with the requirements of Section 409A, to the extent that our plans, contracts and compensation arrangements fail to meet certain requirements under Section 409A, compensation earned thereunder may be subject to immediate taxation and tax penalties.

Table of Contents

With certain exceptions, Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code limits RTI's tax deduction for compensation deduction for compensation in excess of $1 million paid to certain covered employees. Compensation paid to covered employees is not subject to the deduction limitation if it is considered qualified performance-based compensation. The Committee reserves the right to provide both market and performance-based compensation to covered employees. Certain awards, such as stock options, are intended to qualify for deduction under Section 162(m). Other types of awards, such as restricted shares and performance share awards, however, may not qualify for the performance-based exception and therefore may not be deductible under Section 162(m). While the Committee considers the tax impact of any compensation arrangement, it reserves the right to approve non-deductible compensation consistent with the overall pay philosophy of the Company.

If a change in control of the Company results in the payment of severance or the accelerated vesting of equity-based awards, a disqualified individual could, in some cases, be considered to have received parachute payments within the meaning of Sections 280G and 4999 of the Internal Revenue Code. A disqualified individual can be subject to a 20% excise tax on excess parachute payments and the Company can be denied a tax deduction. Our executive change in control severance policy discussed above provides that if it is determined any payment or benefit thereunder would constitute an excess parachute payment, the Company will pay a gross-up payment, subject to certain limitations, such that the net amount retained by the disqualified person after the application of any excise taxes will be equal to such payments or distributions. Gross-up payments will not be deducted by the Company.

D. Analysis of Compensation Awards for Our Named Executive Officers

In order to determine the initial base salaries for 2007 the Compensation Committee reviewed the compensation practices among publicly-owned peer companies in order to ensure the appropriateness of the Company's compensation program design and compensation levels. Towers Perrin was hired to report directly to the Compensation Committee as its compensation consultant to advise on compensation matters. The consultant participated in Committee meetings throughout 2007 and was engaged to advise on compensation trends and best practices, plan design and the reasonableness of individual compensation awards.

The consultant employed a benchmarking process as an assessment tool that compares elements of RTI's compensation programs with those of other companies that have similar characteristics. The purpose of the benchmarking process is to:

- Understand the competitiveness of current pay levels relative to peer companies with similar revenues and business characteristics;

- Understand the alignment between executive compensation levels and Company performance; and

- Serve as a basis for developing salary adjustments and incentive awards for the Compensation Committee's approval.

When advising the Compensation Committee on 2007 base salary and incentive compensation, the consultant used both market compensation data from reputable compensation surveys (Towers Perrin, Mercer, and Watson Wyatt) representing general industry companies and a more specific analysis of proxy disclosures from publicly-owned peer companies. The peer group was developed based on a set of characteristics that include:

- Asset-intensive companies similar to RTI; and

- Annual revenues that range from $100 million to $1.6 billion.

Table of Contents

The following compensation peer group was established in January 2007:

Aeroflex Inc.	Dril-Quip Inc.	Kaydon Corp.	Olympic Steel Inc.
AMCOL International Corp.	Ducommun Inc.	LMI Aerospace Inc.	Steel Technologies Inc.
Brush Engineered Materials Inc.	Eagle Materials Inc.	Myers Industries Inc.	Texas Industries Inc.
Carpenter Technology Corp.	Easterline Technologies Corp.	NN Inc.	Titanium Metals Corp.
Castle (AM) & Co.	Intermagnetics General Corp.	Northwest Pipe Company	Triumph Group Inc.

Peer group pay practices for each pay element were analyzed for base salary, target annual bonus opportunities and long-term incentives. The peer group data was supplemented by broader general industry data from compensation surveys to facilitate the evaluation of compensation levels and design.

Towers Perrin presented the Compensation Committee with ranges of base salary, target annual bonus as a percentage of salaries and target long-term incentives as a percentage of salaries for each of our named executive officers. The Compensation Committee reviewed these ranges and determined the base salaries and incentive targets to be included in each named executive officer's employment contract as described below. In making this determination, the Committee considered each executive officer's experience in the position, the amount of the increase of the salary level over the current compensation and relative internal positioning. In the case of each of our named executives, the base salaries used for 2007 were below the median of the ranges determined by the peer group and the broader industry surveys. The Compensation Committee believed this was appropriate as each executive was new to their respective positions in 2007.

Based upon the Towers Perrin recommendations, the Committee caused the Company to enter into employment contracts with each of our named executive officers pursuant to which the Company established initial compensation for 2007 as follows:

	Base Salary	Target Bonus	Total Projected Value of Long-Term Incentive Awards at Target Performance
Dawne S. Hickton	$ 425,000	75% of Salary	200% of Salary
Michael C. Wellham	$ 325,000	60% of Salary	110% of Salary
Stephen R. Giangjordano	$ 250,000	50% of Salary	100% of Salary
William T. Hull	$ 250,000	50% of Salary	80% of Salary
Chad Whalen	$ 200,000	40% of Salary	60% of Salary

In reviewing the performance of the named executive officers for purposes of determining if bonuses and long-term incentive compensation should be awarded for 2007, the Committee took into consideration RTI's operating and financial performance as well as the change in share price during the year. The Committee noted that RTI's share price declined from December 31, 2006 to December 31, 2007 by approximately 12%. It was noted that the peer group showed an aggregate appreciation during the period of approximately 36% and the S&P 500 appreciated by approximately 4%. Offsetting this, however, the Committee noted that RTI's actual income before tax, earnings per share, cash flow, return on invested capital, return on equity and return on assets for the year all were better than as projected in the Company's 6-plus-6 business plan. The 6-plus-6 business plan shows the actual results for the first six months of the year and the projected results for the last six months of the year. Given the timing of the management succession, the 6-plus-6 plan was used rather than the full-year business plan because the CEO and named executives all assumed their current positions at the end of April (with the exception of Mr. Whalen). The Committee noted that RTI reported record revenues for the year and increased its earnings per share by 22%. Finally, the Committee noted that the Company signed several long-term contracts with key customers estimated to generate over $4 billion in revenue, thus helping to create a significant foundation for long-term stability and growth.

The Committee also measures executive performance against pre-determined personal objectives. Specific objectives for 2007 for Ms. Hickton were to develop a comprehensive five-year strategic plan, strengthen relationships with key customers, strengthen the Company's investor relations initiatives, secure raw material sourcing plans, lead the Company's efforts to support legislation concerning military procurement of specialty metals, and develop an internal management structure to support the Company's strategic plan. Certain of the other named executive officers shared some of Ms. Hickton's objectives and were tasked with other goals and objectives specific to their individual tasks and responsibilities.

The following chart summarizes the achievement of each of the named executive officer's personal objectives:

	Number of Personal Objectives	Number of Personal Objectives Achieved
Dawne S. Hickton	6	6
Michael C. Wellham	5	4
Stephen R. Giangiardano	6	5
William T. Hull	7	5
Chad Whalen	6	6

Certain operational goals (for example, productivity, inventory turnover and on-time deliveries) are established for each of the Company's two operating segments, often times at levels that represent significant improvements from prior periods. These operational goals are included in the personal objectives of Mr. Wellham, Mr. Giangiardano and Mr. Hull and were not 100% achieved in 2007. However, several of the operational goals were met and marked improvements were seen in certain of those goals that were not fully achieved during the year.

In addition to the personal objectives described above, each of the executive officers is responsible for the Company's safety goal for reportable incidents during the year. The Company did not meet this goal for 2007.

After considering the Company's overall performance, each executive's performance against their personal objectives, and the performance of the executive management team as a whole, the Committee decided to award cash bonuses at approximately the target amount for our CEO and each other named executive officer. The long-term incentives granted to Ms. Hickton included time-based awards (restricted shares and stock options) at approximately 176% of her base salary and performance awards at approximately 88% of her base salary. Time-based awards to Mr. Wellham were granted at 96% of his base salary and he received performance awards at approximately 48% of his base salary. Mr. Giangiardano receives time-based awards at approximately 87% of his base salary and performance awards at approximately 44% of his base salary. Mr. Hull's time-based awards were granted at approximately 70% of his base salary and his performance awards at approximately 36% of his base salary. Finally, Mr. Whalen was granted time-based awards valued at approximately 55% of his base salary and performance awards valued at approximately 28% of his base salary.

In each case the Committee's intent was to compensate each of our executive officers near the targeted amount established for 2007, as the Committee believes each person's performance was at least at the expected level and that the Company's record sales and earnings should be recognized despite the stock price performance. The value of the time-based awards was less than the target established in the Pay Philosophy due to the addition of the performance awards that were not contemplated by the Pay Philosophy as in effect for 2007. The value of the combination of the time based and performance awards was in excess of the targeted amounts to account for the transition to performance based awards as described above.

E. Changes in Compensation for 2008

In January 2008, we amended the Pay Philosophy to provide for the addition of performance awards as described above. In addition, we expanded the Pay Philosophy to make it applicable to non-officer executives designated by the CEO. Finally, we removed the previously included targets and ranges for incentive grant types and for the proportion of total compensation to be represented by each element. These were removed as the Committee, after consultation with Towers Perrin, believes that our compensation programs should emphasize variable components over guaranteed fixed components. Going forward, we intend to develop award guidelines and targets to approximate the median of comparator companies.

- (1) Represents the number of restricted stock awards granted in 2007 to the Named Executive Officers. These awards vest ratably in five equal annual installments beginning one year after the grant date.
- (2) Represents the number of stock option awards granted in 2007 to the Named Executive Officers. These awards vest ratably in three equal annual installments beginning one year after the grant date.
- (3) Represents the exercise price for the stock options granted, which is determined based on the average of the high and low market prices on the date of grant.
- (4) Represents the grant date fair value of the award determined in accordance with SFAS 123(R). The grant date fair value for restricted stock awards is based on the average of the high and low market prices on the date of grant. The grant date fair value for stock option awards is based on the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The actual value, if any, that a Named Executive Officer may realize upon exercise of stock options will depend on the excess of the stock price over the base value on the date of exercise. As such, there is no assurance that the value realized by a Named Executive Officer will be at or near the value estimated by the Black-Scholes model. The assumptions used in determining the grant date fair values of these awards are set forth in the Notes to the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements, which are included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007 filed with the SEC.
- (5) Mr. Rupert, the former President and Chief Executive Officer, retired from the Company on July 31, 2007.

- (7) Mr. Whalen joined the Company as Vice President and General Counsel in February 2007.

The tables above summarize the total compensation paid to or earned by each of our named executive officers for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2007. The narrative below describes current employment agreements and material employment terms with each of our named executive officers, as applicable, and provides additional description with respect to the compensation components set forth in the above tables.

Table of Contents

Employment Agreements

On August 1, 1999, RTI entered into employment agreements with Messrs. Odle and Rupert covering their employment for an initial four year term and for additional one year terms each year thereafter until the officer attains age 65 unless terminated prior thereto by either party on 120 days notice. Under the agreements, each of Mr. Odle and Rupert received the annual salary set forth, subject to increases from time to time in the sole discretion of RTI. RTI had the ability to terminate the services of the officer at any time for cause as defined in the agreement. They each agreed, for a period of 24 months after the end of the employment period or employment termination, whichever occurs first, not to be employed by, or otherwise participate in, any business which competes with RTI. This restriction does not apply if the officer terminates employment with RTI under certain circumstances following a change in control of RTI as defined therein.

Timothy G. Rupert stepped down as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company on April 27, 2007 and retired from the Company on July 31, 2007. John H. Odle stepped down as Executive Vice President of the Company on April 27, 2007 and retired, consistent with RTI's mandatory retirement policy, on September 28, 2007 when he reached 65 years of age. See page 30 of this proxy statement for information regarding the payments to be received by each of them in connection with their respective retirements.

The Company entered into letter agreements with each of Dawne S. Hickton, William T. Hull, Michael C. Wellham and Stephen R. Giangjordano, effective April 27, 2007, with Chad Whalen on February 23, 2007 and William F. Strome on November 19, 2007, with respect to their employment as executive officers of the Company. These letter agreements superseded any previous agreements in place between the executive and the Company with respect to their employment.

Except as described below, each of the five letter agreements are alike. In each case the named executive will be employed by the Company for an initial three-year term. Each executive's employment will be automatically extended for additional one year periods until the executive attains age 65 unless either the Company or the executive gives prior notice that the agreement will not be renewed. The Company may terminate the agreements at any time for any reason including cause as defined in the agreement. If an executive's employment is terminated for cause he or she will be entitled to no further compensation except for any base salary accrued and unpaid on the date of termination. If the Company terminates the executive's employment other than for cause and not in connection with a change in control of the Company as defined, the provisions of the Company's Executive Non-Change in Control Severance Policy, as described on page 37 of this proxy statement, will be effective. If the Company terminates the executive's employment other than for cause and in connection with a change in control of the Company as defined, the provisions of the Company's Executive Change in Control Severance Policy, as described on page 35 of this proxy statement, will be effective.

Each executive who is party to a letter agreement has agreed not to do any of the following: compete with the Company or be involved with any business that has as its principal business the production of titanium; solicit the business of any Company customer, supplier or licensee; or induce or attempt to influence any employee of the Company or its affiliates to terminate his or her employment with the Company or its affiliate. These covenants apply to each of the executives during the period equal to the longer of 12 months (24 months in the case of Ms. Hickton) after termination of employment or the period during which the executive is receiving any severance benefits.

Under the agreements, each officer will be paid the annual salary set forth therein, subject to increases from time to time in the sole discretion of the Company. In addition to base salaries, each executive is eligible for bonuses as the Board of Directors of the Company may determine under the Company's Pay Philosophy and Guiding Principles

Governing Officer Compensation, which is discussed under Compensation Discussion and Analysis on page 15, and will be eligible to participate in the Company's stock incentive plan. Each executive is also entitled to paid vacation and other benefits in accordance with the Company's existing policies and existing and future applicable employee benefit programs including RTI's Supplemental Pension Plan, as may be amended from time to time. For further information regarding RTI's Supplemental Pension Plan, see page 30 of the proxy statement.

Awards under the 2004 Stock Plan

The Company's 2004 Stock Plan permits the granting of awards, which may be made in a combination of stock (which, under the plan, may be awards of restricted shares, performance shares, phantom stock or non-restricted shares) and stock options. Historically, the Company has utilized a mix of incentive stock options and restricted share awards, with each vesting over time. Stock options are granted at fair market value on the date of grant and vest ratably over three years. Restricted share awards are also granted by the Company, and vest ratably over five years. See page 24 of the proxy statement for additional information regarding awards issued under the Company's 2004 Stock Plan.

Incentive Bonus Awards

Consistent with the Company's Pay Philosophy, annual bonuses for target performance against short-term objectives and/or other strategic milestones or operational goals are established near the median of that for similar positions at appropriate comparator companies. The Compensation Committee has discretion to pay or not pay a bonus to a particular officer, based on his individual performance, regardless of the level of corporate performance. See page 15 of this proxy statement under Compensation Discussion and Analysis for additional information regarding the Company's payment of bonus awards.

Perquisites and Other Compensation

Certain perquisites are provided to our named executive officers that the Company believes are competitive with other similar companies and consistent with the Company's compensation philosophy, as discussed under Compensation Discussion and Analysis. The principal perquisite programs that may be utilized by the named executive officers include tax preparation and financial planning advice, use of a Company automobile or automobile allowance, business-related club memberships, and annual executive medical exams.

The Company currently also has in place a 401(k) defined contribution plan in which the Company contributes 50% of the first 8% of an executive's base salary and bonus contributed by the executive, subject to applicable Internal Revenue Code limits, for those named executive officers that do not participate in the defined benefit pension plan, which is discussed below. Mr. Wellham and Mr. Whalen are the only named executive officers for whom the Company is making matching contributions. Other named executive officers may participate in the 401(k) plan up to applicable Internal Revenue Code limits but the Company does not match their contributions.

Post-Employment Compensatory Arrangements

The Company currently has in place a Pension Plan for Eligible Salaried Employee, Supplemental Pension Program and Excess Pension Plan that may be utilized by some or all of the named executive officers. The Company's pension plan is a qualified defined benefit plan that covers each of the Company's current named executive officers except for Mr. Wellham and Mr. Whalen. The benefits are based on a formula which includes a percentage of the participants average monthly base salary multiplied by continuous years of service. The named executive officers also participate in the supplemental pension program, a non-qualified defined benefit plan, which entitles the executive to specified annual benefits based upon average annual bonuses and years of service if they retire after age 60 or prior to age 60 with 30 years of service with RTI's consent. The Company also maintains the RTI International Metals, Inc. Excess Benefits Plan for certain highly-compensated employees, which is an unfunded excess benefit plan, and provides additional retirement income in an amount equal to the difference between benefits that would have been received under the Pension Plan but for certain tax limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code and amounts actually payable under the Pension Plan. See Retirement Benefits on page 29 of the proxy statement for additional detail regarding the Company's pension plans.

The remaining assumptions used are consistent with the assumptions as described in the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements, which are included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007 filed with the SEC. As described in the financial statements, the discount rate assumption is 6.25%.

Mr. Odle, the former Executive Vice President, retired from the Company September 28, 2007. The amounts set forth in the table reflect the actual amounts owed to Mr. Odle as of his date of retirement. The following narrative describes each plan set forth in the above table.

Pension Plan

RTI's Pension Plan for Eligible Salaried Employees (the Pension Plan) is a tax-qualified defined benefit plan which first became effective at Reactive Metals, Inc. (a predecessor of RTI International Metals, Inc.) in 1964. The Pension Plan recognizes, for pension benefits, services and compensation with RTI, RMI Titanium Company, RMI Company, Reactive Metals, Inc., United States Steel Corporation, USX Corporation, Quantum Chemical Corporation, or subsidiaries of each. The amounts payable under the Pension Plan will be paid monthly after a participant retires. The benefits are based on a formula which provides under normal retirement amounts equal to 1.25% of the average monthly earnings multiplied by continuous years of service up to and including 30 years; plus 1.35% of the average monthly earnings multiplied by continuous years of service in excess of 30 years of a specified percentage (dependent on years of service) of average annual eligible earnings in the five consecutive years in the ten years prior to retirement in which such earnings are highest. Eligible earnings include only base salary. Incentive awards and similar benefits are excluded, although the amount of such benefits is included in the Summary Compensation Table. Benefits payable under the Pension Plan, and amounts reflected in the following table, are subject to offsets for certain pensions payable under the U.S. Steel and the Quantum pension plans. Effective January 1, 2006 the Plan was closed to new participants.

Mr. Rupert retired under a 55/10 Retirement (meaning reduced benefits based on being at least 55 years of age with 10 or more years of service) effective August 1, 2007. Excess Benefits Plan

The Internal Revenue Code imposes limits on the amount of annual eligible compensation under tax-qualified pension plans. For 2007, annual compensation in excess of $225,000 cannot be taken into account in determining qualified plan benefits. RTI maintains the RTI International Metals, Inc. Excess Benefits Plan (the Excess Benefits Plan) for certain highly-compensated employees who participate in RTI's tax-qualified pension plans and would otherwise be limited by such tax limits. The Excess Benefits Plan is an unfunded excess benefit plan within the meaning of Section 3(36) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. It provides additional retirement income in an amount equal to the difference between benefits that would have been received under the Pension Plan but for the limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code and amounts actually payable under the Pension Plan. Participants must be designated by the Board of Directors; at this time only Messrs. Rupert and Odle, Ms. Hickton, and Mr. Giangiordano and Mr. Hull have been so designated.

At the time of his retirement, Mr. Rupert was eligible for a lump sum payment of $538,414 under the terms of the Excess Benefit Plan. The payment was delayed until February 1, 2008 in accordance with the provisions of his Letter Agreement in order to comply with Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code.

At the time of his retirement, Mr. Odle was eligible for a lump sum payment of $399,247 under the terms of the Excess Benefits Plan. The payment has been delayed until April 1, 2008 in accordance with the provisions of his Letter Agreement in order to comply with Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code.
