LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

[Photo of Jeffrey L. Shames]

Jeffrey L. Shames

Dear Shareholders,

As I write this in mid-November, the Dow Jones Industrial Average has just recorded its second-best October ever(1) -- a hopeful sign in what has been a bad year for investors in stocks and corporate bonds. Other types of bonds that have had a great run so far in 2002 have demonstrated the value of diversification. In our view, signals on the future direction of the economy and the market remain decidedly mixed.

A RELAY RACE

In mid-November, we could describe the state of the U.S. economy as a relay race against time involving two runners: the consumer, whose spending has fueled the beginning of a recovery, and corporate spending, which has yet to contribute much to the recovery. The hope is that corporate spending kicks in so that the consumer can pass the baton before running out of steam. But at this point, the near-term direction of consumer spending or corporate spending and profits is difficult to predict. The result is that the economy seems to us to be in a holding pattern as we wait for clear signs that things are improving.

REASONS FOR OPTIMISM

Optimists would point out that wages, according to the U.S. Labor Department, have been rising over the past year. This, in combination with historically low interest rates and inflation, may enable the consumer to keep spending. Perhaps the next good signal of consumer sentiment will be the level of retail sales over the holiday season -- which should become clear about the time this letter reaches your mailbox.

In the corporate arena, our research indicates that business spending overall has at least stopped falling and that corporate earnings and spending could trend upward in 2003. A hopeful sign is that business spending in the third quarter of 2002 eked out its first increase in two years, according to a preliminary report from the U.S. Commerce Department.

Pessimists, however, would counter that the outlook for corporate profits remains very murky, that corporations could resort to further layoffs if profits languish, and that the situation with Iraq adds to market uncertainty. They would also point out that consumer confidence dropped to a nine-year low in October, according to the Conference Board. (Optimists, however, would question the value of confidence readings that have dropped while consumer spending has remained strong.)

STAYING THE COURSE

With the economy in a holding pattern and markets extremely volatile, we think it's important to remember the familiar investment strategies that we believe apply in any market: Think long term. Be diversified. See crises as opportunities. That's how we'd describe our approach to this volatile environment -- which we think plays to our strength as research-based, bottom-up, long-term investors. We would also point out that history has shown that the market and the economy have been cyclical; downturns have usually been followed by upturns.

As always, we appreciate your confidence in MFS and welcome any questions or comments you may have.

Respectfully,

/s/ Jeffrey L. Shames

MANAGEMENT REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

Peter C. Vaream

Dear Shareholders,

For the 12 months ended October 31, 2002, the trust provided a total return of 0.90% based on its beginning and ending stock market prices and assuming the reinvestment of any distributions paid during the period. The trust's total return based on its net asset value (NAV) was 2.33%. The trust's results compare with returns over the same period for the following benchmarks: 10.18% for the J.P. Morgan Non-Dollar Government Bond Index (the Morgan Index), 6.41% for the Lehman Brothers Government Bond Index, and -5.49% for the Lehman Brothers High Yield Bond Index. The Morgan Index is an unmanaged aggregate of actively traded government bonds issued from 12 countries (excluding the United States) with remaining maturities of at least one year. The Lehman Brothers Government Bond Index is unmanaged and is comprised of all publicly issued debt obligations of the U.S. Treasury, U.S. government agencies, quasi-federal corporations, and corporate debt guaranteed by the U.S. government. The Lehman Brothers High Yield Bond Index includes all fixed-income securities having a maximum quality rating from Moody's Investors Service of "Ba1," a minimum amount outstanding of $150 million, and at least one year to maturity. Defaulted bonds are excluded from this index.

During the past 12 months, the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (the Fed) cut short-term interest rates to 1.25% in an effort to stimulate a sagging economy. At the same time, accounting scandals and fraud in some of this country's largest companies were front-page news. Stocks plunged across all industries, and corporate bonds mirrored stock performance. Investment-grade bonds, even those issued by companies with clean balance sheets, became much less attractive to potential buyers. In July of 2002, the high-yield market declined severely when the number of companies that were unable to make timely principal and/or interest payments rose to new levels. There was a flight to quality as investors sold their corporate bonds in favor of the safety offered by U.S. government securities. International bond markets performed much better than their U.S. counterparts because they were not as severely affected by accounting scandals. Also, technology and telecommunications, two of the worst performing industries for the period, represented a much smaller proportion of the international market and consequently had much less impact on overall market performance.

BRIGHT SPOTS IN QUALITY, INTERNATIONAL, AND BANKING

Generally, the fund's focus on high-quality bonds helped its performance throughout the past 12 months. For example, our holdings in U.S. Treasury and government agency bonds generated positive returns for the fund even though we were underweighted in those areas relative to the Lehman Government Bond Index. U.S. Treasury bills and U.S. government bonds fluctuate in value, but they are guaranteed as to the timely payment of interest and, if held to maturity, provide a guaranteed return of principal.

International investments in Germany, the United Kingdom, and "dollar bloc" countries such as Canada also performed well for the fund. These issues offered higher yields than U.S. Treasury securities and boosted fund performance because of currency gains made when the value of many international currencies rose in comparison to the U.S. dollar.

The fund had a relatively large portion of its portfolio invested in U.S. banks, one of the few groups in the corporate sector that did well. A hot housing market translated into increased mortgage lending that improved business profitability for banks. The banks we held were well-capitalized, had a strong consumer base, and fewer credit problems than many investors expected.

WEAKNESS IN HIGH-YIELD SECTOR AND SELECTED CORPORATE BONDS

Although the fund avoided most of the bonds with significant accounting and corporate governance problems such as Enron and Tyco, it did not escape from the general declines experienced in the high-yield market. Throughout the period, the fund's position in high-yield bonds ranged from 17.5% to 20%. Our high-yield holdings dampened performance when corporate issuers were unable to fulfill their obligations. As the year progressed, our high-yield strategy was to try and increase the fund's diversification across industries, to focus on more liquid issues where there was a ready market for buyers, and to improve the credit quality of our holdings.

OPPORTUNITIES IN MORTGAGE HOLDINGS AND INTERNATIONAL BONDS

The fund's mortgage-backed bonds have done well towards the end of the period, and we think they could continue to be attractive assets to us. We're interested in 15-year mortgage issues for two reasons. First, if the Fed makes further interest rate cuts, as many believe it will, there may be another wave of refinancing, but we think that wave would be the last for the near future. Second, if the Fed does not take action or were to raise interest rates, we believe that maturity range has tended to be less volatile in a potentially rising interest rate market.

We gradually increased the fund's holdings in international bonds over the period. A year ago, the fund held 13.5% of its assets in international issues. At the end of the period, that position was more than 26%. Yields on international bonds such as those from Germany, France, Denmark, and Sweden were higher than the yields on U.S. Treasury securities. We believe that these non-U.S. bonds may offer investors solid income opportunities as well as appreciation potential.

The fund's holdings in emerging market bonds stand at nearly 8% of the portfolio, as of October 31, 2002. We have invested in what we believe is a well diversified group that includes Mexico, Russia, and Bulgaria. All three countries have made solid progress in reforming social, political, and economic policies. As a result, their credit quality has improved and we feel all are much better able to possibly attract investment capital. We believe that Mexico and Russia have been highly successful at reform and see Bulgaria moving in the right direction.

POTENTIAL FOR CHANGE IN CORPORATE BOND MARKETS

Going forward, we expect to see companies continue to clean up and strengthen their balance sheets to improve their credit quality. We would also anticipate less volatility in the bond markets as investors' faith in the corporate bond market is restored. That may have been already happening. In our view, the corporate bond investor's aversion to risk, real or perceived, has begun to shift over the last quarter. Buyers have been starting to come back. If business spending were also to pick up, in our view long-term investors may be well-positioned to see both income and capital appreciation potential.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

Government guarantees apply to underlying securities only and not to prices and yields of the portfolio.

As a nondiversified portfolio, the portfolio invests in a limited number of companies and may have more risk because a change in one security's value may have a more significant effect on the portfolio's net asset value. An investment in the portfolio is not a complete investment program.

Investments in foreign and/or emerging market securities may be unfavorably affected by interest-rate and currency-exchange-rate changes, as well as by market, economic, and political conditions of the countries where investments are made. There may be greater returns but also greater risk than with U.S. investments.

Investments in lower-rated securities may provide greater returns but may have greater-than-average risk.

The portfolio may invest in derivative securities, which may include futures and options. These types of instruments can increase price fluctuation.

Edgar Filing: MFS MULTIMARKET INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

These risks may increase share price volatility. Please see the prospectus for details.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT AND CASH PURCHASE PLAN

MFS offers a Dividend Reinvestment and Cash Purchase Plan that allows you to reinvest either all of the distributions paid by the trust or only the long-term capital gains. Purchases are made at the market price unless that price exceeds the net asset value (the shares are trading at a premium). If the shares are trading at a premium, purchases will be made at a discounted price of either the net asset value or 95% of the market price, whichever is greater. Twice each year you can also buy shares. Investments over $100 can be made in January and July on the 15th of the month or shortly thereafter.

If your shares are in the name of a brokerage firm, bank, or other nominee, you can ask the firm or nominee to participate in the plan on your behalf. If the nominee does not offer the plan, you may wish to request that your shares be re-registered in your own name so that you can participate.

There is no service charge to reinvest distributions, nor are there brokerage charges for shares issued directly by the trust. However, when shares are bought on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise on the open market, each participant pays a pro rata share of the commissions. The automatic reinvestment of distributions does not relieve you of any income tax that may be payable (or required to be withheld) on the distributions.

To enroll in or withdraw from the plan, or if you have any questions, call 1-800-637-2304 any business day from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Eastern time. Please have available the name of the trust and your account and Social Security numbers. For certain types of registrations, such as corporate accounts, instructions must be submitted in writing. Please call for additional details. When you withdraw, you can receive the value of the reinvested shares in one of two ways: a check for the value of the full and fractional shares, or a certificate for the full shares and a check for the fractional shares.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(1) Business and Organization

MFS Multimarket Income Trust (the trust) is a non-diversified trust that is organized as a Massachusetts business trust and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a closed-end management investment company.

Edgar Filing: MFS MULTIMARKET INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

(2) Significant Accounting Policies

General - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The trust can invest in foreign securities. Investments in foreign securities are vulnerable to the effects of changes in the relative values of the local currency and the U.S. dollar and to the effects of changes in each country's legal, political, and economic environment.

Investment Valuations - Debt securities (other than short-term obligations which mature in 60 days or less), including listed issues, forward foreign currency exchange contracts, and swap agreements, are valued on the basis of valuations furnished by dealers or by a pricing service with consideration to factors such as institutional-size trading in similar groups of securities, yield, quality, coupon rate, maturity, type of issue, trading characteristics, and other market data, without exclusive reliance upon exchange or over-the-counter prices. Equity securities listed on securities exchanges or reported through the NASDAQ system are reported at market value using last sale prices. Unlisted equity securities or listed equity securities for which last sale prices are not available are reported at market value using last quoted bid prices. Short-term obligations, which mature in 60 days or less, are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Securities for which there are no such quotations or valuations are valued in good faith at the direction of the Trustees.

Repurchase Agreements - The trust may enter into repurchase agreements with institutions that the trust's investment adviser has determined are creditworthy. Each repurchase agreement is recorded at cost. The trust requires that the securities collateral in a repurchase transaction be transferred to the custodian in a manner sufficient to enable the trust to obtain those securities in the event of a default under the repurchase agreement. The trust monitors, on a daily basis, the value of the collateral to ensure that its value, including accrued interest, is greater than amounts owed to the trust under each such repurchase agreement. The trust, along with other affiliated entities of Massachusetts Financial Services Company (MFS), may utilize a joint trading account for the purpose of entering into one or more repurchase agreements.

Foreign Currency Translation - Investment valuations, other assets, and liabilities initially expressed in foreign currencies are converted each business day into U.S. dollars based upon current exchange rates. Purchases and sales of foreign investments, income, and expenses are converted into U.S. dollars based upon currency exchange rates prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. Gains and losses attributable to foreign currency exchange rates on sales of securities are recorded for financial statement purposes as net realized gains and losses on investments. Gains and losses attributable to foreign exchange rate movements on income and expenses are recorded for financial statement purposes as foreign currency transaction gains and losses. That portion of both realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments that results from fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates is not separately disclosed.

Deferred Trustee Compensation - Under a Deferred Compensation Plan (the Plan) independent Trustees may elect to defer receipt of all or a portion of their annual compensation. Deferred amounts are treated as though equivalent dollar amounts had been invested in shares of the trust or other MFS trusts selected by the Trustee. Deferred amounts represent an unsecured obligation of the trust until distributed in accordance with the Plan.

Written Options - The trust may write call or put options in exchange for a premium. The premium is initially recorded as a liability, which is subsequently adjusted to the current value of the option contract. When a written option expires, the trust realizes a gain equal to the amount of the premium received. When a written call option is exercised or closed, the premium received is offset against the proceeds to determine the realized gain or loss. When a written put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the security purchased by the trust. The trust, as writer of an option, may have no control over whether the underlying securities may be sold (call) or purchased (put) and, as a result, bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the securities underlying the written option. In general, written call options may serve as a partial hedge against decreases in value in the underlying securities to the extent of the premium received. Written options may also be used as part of an income producing strategy reflecting the view of the trust's management on the direction of interest rates.

Forward Foreign Currency Exchange Contracts - The trust may enter into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for the purchase or sale of a specific foreign currency at a fixed price on a future date. Risks may arise upon entering into these contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from unanticipated movements in the value of a foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar. The trust may enter into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for hedging purposes as well as for non-hedging purposes. For hedging purposes, the trust may enter into contracts to deliver or receive foreign currency it will receive from or require for its normal investment activities. The trust may also use contracts in a manner intended to protect foreign currency-denominated securities from declines in value due to unfavorable exchange rate movements. For non-hedging purposes, the trust may enter into contracts with the intent of changing the relative exposure of the trust's portfolio of securities to different currencies to take advantage of anticipated changes. The forward foreign currency exchange contracts are adjusted by the daily exchange rate of the underlying currency and any gains or losses are recorded as unrealized until the contract settlement date. On contract settlement date, the gains or losses are recorded as realized gains or losses on foreign currency transactions.

Investment Transactions and Income - Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. All premium and discount is amortized or accreted for financial statement purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Dividends received in cash are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividend and interest payments received in additional securities are recorded on the ex-dividend or ex-interest date in an amount equal to the value of the security on such date. Some securities may be purchased on a "when-issued" or "forward delivery" basis, which means that the securities will be delivered to the trust at a future date, usually beyond customary settlement time.

Legal fees and other related expenses incurred to preserve and protect the value of a security owned are added to the cost of the security; other legal fees are expensed. Capital infusions made directly to the security issuer, which are generally non-recurring, incurred to protect or enhance the value of high-yield debt securities, are reported as additions to the cost basis of the security. Costs that are incurred to negotiate the terms or conditions of capital infusions or that are expected to result in a plan of reorganization are reported as realized losses. Ongoing costs incurred to protect or enhance an investment, or costs incurred to pursue other claims or legal actions, are expensed.

Fees Paid Indirectly - The trust's custody fee is reduced according to an arrangement that measures the value of cash deposited with the custodian by the trust. This amount is shown as a reduction of total expenses on the Statement of Operations.

Edgar Filing: MFS MULTIMARKET INCOME TRUST - Form N-30D

Tax Matters and Distributions - The trust's policy is to comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute to shareholders all of its net taxable income, including any net realized gain on investments. Accordingly, no provision for federal income or excise tax is provided.

Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The trust distinguishes between distributions on a tax basis and a financial reporting basis and only distributions in excess of tax basis earnings and profits are reported in the financial statements as distributions from paid-in capital. Differences in the recognition or classification of income between the financial statements and tax earnings and profits, which result in temporary over-distributions for financial statement purposes, are classified as distributions in excess of net investment income or net realized gains. Common types of book and tax differences that could occur include differences in accounting for currency transactions, mortgage-backed securities, derivatives, defaulted bonds, capital losses, and amortization and accretion on debt securities.

The tax character of distributions declared for the years ended October 31, 2002 and October 31, 2001 was as follows:

	OCTOBER 31, 2002	OCTOBER 31, 2001

Distributions declared from:
Ordinary income	$35,951,308	$41,366,841
Long-term capital gain	--	--
	-----	-----
Tax return of capital	--	4,152,826
	-----	-----
Total distributions declared	$35,951,308	$45,519,667

During the year ended October 31, 2002, accumulated net investment loss decreased by $3,341,036, accumulated net realized loss on investments and foreign currency transactions increased by $3,341,040, and paid-in capital increased by $4, primarily due to differences between book and tax accounting for currency transactions, amortization and accretion on debt securities, and capital losses. This change had no effect on the net assets or net asset value per share.

As of October 31, 2002, the components of distributable earnings (accumulated losses) on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed ordinary income	$ 799,075
Undistributed long-term capital gain	--
Capital loss carryforward	(101,149,308)
Unrealized loss	(3,045,499)
Other temporary differences	(2,710,733)

For federal income tax purposes, the capital loss carryforward may be applied against any net taxable realized gains of each succeeding year until the earlier of its utilization or expiration.

October 31, 2003	$ 3,003,441
October 31, 2007	18,400,020
October 31, 2008	19,415,923

(3) Transactions with Affiliates

Investment Adviser - The trust has an investment advisory agreement with Massachusetts Financial Services Company (MFS) to provide overall investment advisory and administrative services, and general office facilities.

The management fee is computed daily and paid monthly at an annual rate of 0.34% of the trust's average daily net assets and 5.40% of investment income.

The trust pays the compensation of the Independent Trustees in the form of both a retainer and attendance fees and pays no compensation directly to its Trustees who are officers of the investment adviser, or to officers of the trust, all of whom receive remuneration for their services to the trust from MFS. Certain officers and Trustees of the trust are officers or directors of MFS and MFS Service Center, Inc. (MFSC). On January 1, 2002, the Trustees terminated the Independent Trustee unfunded defined benefit plan for active Trustees and converted it to an unfunded retirement benefit deferral plan for active Trustees. Under the new plan, the unfunded pension liability was converted into an equivalent value of notional shares of the trust that will fluctuate with the performance of the trust. Included in Trustees' compensation is a one-time plan transition expense of $11,375 and a net increase of $488 as a result of the change in the trust's pension liability under this plan for the year ended October 31, 2002.

Administrator - The trust has an administrative services agreement with MFS to provide the trust with certain financial, legal, shareholder communications, compliance, and other administrative services. As a partial reimbursement for the cost of providing these services, the trust pays MFS an administrative fee at the following annual percentages of the trust's average daily net assets:

First $2 billion	0.0175%
Next $2.5 billion	0.0130%
Next $2.5 billion	0.0005%
In excess of $7 billion	0.0000%

Transfer Agent - MFSC acts as registrar and dividend disbursing agent for the Trust. The agreement provides that the Trust will pay MFSC an account maintenance fee of no more than $9.00 and a dividend services fee of $0.75 per reinvestment and will reimburse MFSC for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

(4) Portfolio Securities

Investments (non-U.S. government securities)	$507,400,701	$472,368,250

The cost and unrealized appreciation and depreciation in the value of the investments owned by the trust, as computed on a federal income tax basis, are as follows:

(5) Shares of Beneficial Interest

The trust's Declaration of Trust permits the Trustees to issue an unlimited number of full and fractional shares of beneficial interest. The Trustees have authorized 90,140,454 full and fractional shares of beneficial interest. Transactions in trust shares were as follows:

	YEAR ENDED OCTOBER 31, 2002	YEAR ENDED OCTOBER 31, 2001
	SHARES	AMOUNT	SHARES	AMOUNT
Treasury shares reacquired	(294,300)	$(1,717,045)	(771,000)	$(4,785,254)
Net decrease	(294,300)	$(1,717,045)	(771,000)	$(4,785,254)
	=====	=====	=====	=====

In accordance with the provisions of the trust's prospectus, 294,300 shares of beneficial interest were purchased by the trust during year ended October 31, 2002 at an average price per share of $5.83 and a weighted average discount of 9.43% per share. The trust repurchased 771,000 shares of beneficial interest during the year ended October 31, 2001, at an average price per shares of $6.10 and a weighted average discount of 8.73% per share.

(6) Line of Credit

The trust and other affiliated funds participate in an $800 million unsecured line of credit provided by a syndication of banks under a line of credit agreement. Borrowings may be made for temporary financing needs. Interest is charged to each fund, based on its borrowings, at a rate equal to the bank's base rate. In addition, a commitment fee, based on the average daily unused portion of the line of credit, is allocated among the participating funds at the end of each quarter. The commitment fee allocated to the trust for the year ended October 31, 2002, was $4,320. The trust had no borrowings during the year.

(7) Financial Instruments

The trust trades financial instruments with off-balance-sheet risk in the normal course of its investing activities in order to manage exposure to market risks such as interest rates and foreign currency exchange rates. These financial instruments include written options and forward foreign currency exchange contracts. The notional or contractual amounts of these instruments represent the investment the trust has in particular classes of financial instruments and does not necessarily represent the amounts potentially subject to risk. The measurement of the risks associated with these instruments is meaningful only when all related and offsetting transactions are considered.

There were no outstanding financial instruments with off-balance-sheet risk at the end of the year.

At October 31, 2002, the trust had sufficient cash and/or securities to cover any commitments under these contracts.

(8) Change in Accounting Principle

As required, effective November 1, 2001, the fund adopted the provisions of the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide for Investment Companies and began amortizing premium and accreting market discount on debt securities. Prior to November 1, 2001, the fund did not amortize premium nor accrete market discount on debt securities. The cumulative effect of this accounting change had no impact on total net assets of the fund, but resulted in a $3,979,555 reduction in cost of securities and a corresponding $3,979,555 decrease in net unrealized depreciation, based on securities held by the fund on November 1, 2001.

The effect of this change for the year ended October 31, 2002 was to increase net investment income by $42,664, increase net unrealized depreciation by $522,757, and decrease net realized losses by $565,421. The Statement of Changes in Net Assets and Financial Highlights for prior periods has not been restated to reflect this change in presentation.
